SENT TO HAVANA.

The Battleship Maine Ordered There in Haste.

News of Her Sailing Creates a Stir in Diplomatic Circles.

Senators Frye and Gray Are Jubilant Over the Situation.

Secretary Long Says That the Departure of the Ship is Not Significant of Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The United States steam ship Maine has been ordered to Havana. It is said at the navy department that no disturbing news has been received from there but that the movement is rather in the line of a resumption of free intercourse of our naval vessels in Cuban waters the same as prevailed prior to their withdrawal on account of the outbreak of hostilities.

The first intimation that the members of the senate committee on foreign relations had of the orders to the Maine was given in the Associated Press bulletin.

They received the information with evident satisfaction. Senator Frye said that the action was very satisfactory to him. Senator Gray said it was very proper to have a war ship in Havana for the protection of American interests. Senator Morgan said that Germany had shown the United States the way by sending her warships to Havana, and was evidently dodgering the United States government in this matter. Senator Foraker was particularly pleased to hear the news. He said he wished the Texas and the other vessels of the squadron would be ordered to follow the Maine. Senator Cullom said: "I am glad to hear it. I hope the Maine will be followed by other vessels." Senator Teller said he would like to see the harbor of Havana filled with American ships.

NOT A HASTY DECISION.

The Proposition to Place a Ship at Havana is an Old One.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—It was evident that the decision to send the Maine to Havana for a visit was not arrived at hastily from the events that preceded the announcement of the decision. For some time past administration officials have been of the opinion that a mistake was committed by the preceding administration in the very beginning of the Cuban insurrection, in deciding, out of excessive caution and an overweening regard for the sensibilities of the Spanish public, to abandon the practice which had been pursued by our navy department for years past of sending our war ships at intervals on trips the West Indies that frequently included stops at Havana. It was not regarded as consistent with our national pride that this practice, between maratine nations, should have been abandoned or suspended, and it was believed that if it had been consistently adhered to there never would have been any complaint of the movements of our ships from Spanish sources.

Besides, all nations have exercised the right to maintain at least a small naval force at ports inhabited by any considerable number of their citizens when there were signs of trouble that threatened their safety or their property. Therefore the administration some time ago came to the conclusion that it would take steps to restore the old order of things, and allow our war ships to cruise freely and to touch in Cuban ports, as soon as the change could be made without leading to misconstruction and without being interpreted as a war measure, when as a matter of fact nothing was further from the intentions of the president.

The first movement in the direction of the old practice was made last fall before the assembling of congress, when Secretary Long announced through the Associated Press his purpose to send the entire North Atlantic squadron to the Tortugas harbor for their winter evolutions, which for several years past, or ever since the beginning of the Cuban insurrection, had been performed with difficulty and under all kinds of discouraging conditions of wind and weather off the Chesapeake caps.

This movement being received with equanimity the next step followed, when some of our little gun boats were sent on a cruise in the West Indies, the Wilmington and Annapolis being in those waters. It only remained to send one of our ships to Havana to compleetly restore the old practice. Naturally this was a more delicate step than had been called for previously and it was not until the administration had satisfied itself that conditions in Havana had quieted and resumed the narmal state that existed before the recent military riot against the newspapers that it was deemed timely at last to move. This decision was not reached without considering all the result that might follow.

The Spanish minister, Senor Dupuy DeLome, was an early caller at the state department, his purpose being to advise with the officials relative to the negotiation of a reciprocity treaty for Cuba under the terms of the present tariff act.

This purpose in itself may be regarded as an evidence of the confidence of both parties in the security of the outlook. After his visit Assistant Secretary Day repaired to the white house and there was a notable gathering around the president including Secretary Long, of the navy, Attorney General McKenna and General Miles, the commanding general of the army. All callers were denied access to the president's room, much to their chagrin, this being the day of the week that is most largely assigned to the reception of congressional callers. The conference lasted for nearly an hour and when it broke up it was with every evidence of serenity and confidence in the peaceful outlook that the members dispersed. Secretary Long was entrusted with the duty of making a public statement concerning the Maine's orders and the reasons therefor.

NO TROUBLE AT HAVANA.

Secretary Long Says the Maine's Mission is One of Peace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary of the Navy Long was seen this morning concerning rumors that were afloat yesterday in regard to the movements of the ships and said: "So far from their being any foundation for the rumors yesterday of trouble at Havana, matters are now in such condition that our vesseis are going to resume their friendly calls at Cubau ports, and go in and out just as the vesses of other nations do. The Maine will go in a day or two on just such a visit. The department has issued orders for vessels to attend the public celebrations at Mobile and the mardri gras at New Orleans, and for the torpedo flotilla to visit Galveston, Tex."

FORMIDABLE FLEET.

List of Our Naval Boats Tow in Southern Waters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—While administration officials miss no opportunity of declaring their confidence in the promise of maintainence of peace it may be note l as a matter of interest that the United States now has assembled near Key West the most formidable fleet of war ships that has been evoluting in our home waters for many years. It is made up of the North Atlantic squadron, under command of Admiral Sicard, flagship New York; first class battleship, Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts; second class battleships; Maine and Texas; cruisers, Detroit and Montgomery, dispatch boat Ferris and the torpedo boats flotilla, composed of the Cushing, Erricson, Dupont and Porter, which will be reinforced in a few days by the Foote. The big protected cruiser Brooklyn, almost equal to a battle ship herself, is fitting out at the New York navy yard, and Captain Cook in command of the ship was at the navy department this morning expected to sail the latter part of this week to Join Admiral Sicard's squadron. The gunboat, Nashville, and the training ship Essex are at Port Royal, S. C., with in easy call and the entire navy may be said to be in a state of preparedness that is gratifying to the officials in view of the limited resources placed in their hands by congress.

DOLE'S ROUTE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—President Dole and party will leave Chicago via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, train No. 8, at 10:25, tomorrow morning, en route to Washington, where they will arrive at 11:50 Wednesday morning. The party will occupy one of the Baltimore and Ohio official cars and is under the personal escort of T. W. Cridler, third assistant secretary of state, and Major Heistland, military attache of President McKinley. During the journey on Tuesday the party will pass through the thickly settled portion of Ohio, making brief stops at such points as Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Newark, Zanesville, etc. Wednesday morning they will pass through the historic battlefield country along the Potomac river, between Cumberland and Washington. The party will be escorted over the line by representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio passenger department.

Saturday evening at the residence of Rev. D. W. Moffat, occurred the marriage of Fred H. Barker, of Huntington, and Miss Anna Prescott, of Milwaukee, Wis. The young people arrived in the city Saturday and went to the Wayne hotel, where Miss Prescott remained until Mr. Barker had secured a marriage license. They then drove to the home of Rev. Moffat, who united them in marriage. The groom is a son of J. M. Barker, the Huntington shoe manufacturer. The young couple will probably reside in the Lime City.

BRIBERY.

The Accusations Being Investigated.

Allen Meyers, the First Witness, Tells His Story.

Detectives Who "Shadowed" Boyce Also Talk.

The Evidence Seems to Indicate That There Was a Little Crookedness Somewhere.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 24.—Allen O. Myers, sr., was the first witness today in the legislature bribery investigation. He was at the Great Southern hotel, in Columbus, January 7, where Mr. Kurtz and others opposing Senator Hanna were then stopping. His son, Allen O. Myers, jr., clerk at the Gibson house in Cincinnati, called him up that night and told of Boyce's movements. The next day his son reached Columbus with copies of stenographic reports of Boyce's talks from Cincinnati over the telephone with the Hanna headquarters in Columbus. As the matter pertained to republicans, he turned all over to Kurtz and introduced his son to him. Kurtz told Myers that Hollenbeck would go to Cincinnati with money.

Myers detailed the shadowing of Hollenbeck from Columbus to Cincinnati and back, also the carriage drives of Boyce about Columbus. The testimony of Myers caused quite a stir, especially when he became very angry on the cross-examination by Senator Garfield. He denied that he was a party to any conspiracy in getting up the Boyce-Hollenbeck story about the bribery of Representative Otis. When Senator Garfield told the witness that he need not reply to anything that would incriminate himself, Myers became intensely enraged and Chairman Burke had difficulty in proceeding with the inquiry.

E. H. Archer, of Columbus, deputy state railway commissioner, testified to following H. H. Hollenbeck from Columbus to Cincinnati and pointing him out to Jerry Bliss and the detectives at the depot.

Archer testified rapidly without questions being asked. He told about shadowing Hollenbeck from the Neil house to the Columbus depot, watching his movements on the train and even in his berth all night. Hollenbeck carried his valise to the toilet room with him and wherever he went. Hollenbeck took his valise with him into an upper berth. He did not undress in the sleeper and received messages in care of the conductor along the route. The rest of Archer's testimony covered the shadowing in Cincinnati and Columbus that had been covered by the witness last Saturday. Archer said he was a volunteer with Kurtz and other republicans in seeking the defeat of Hanna; that he was not employed as a detective, but had worked for weeks "for the good of the cause."

Harry M. Daugherty, chairman of the republican state executive committee, was called but refused to be sworn because he claimed the committee had no jurisdiction in the Otis case. He had, as legal counsel, so advised other witnesses and would follow that advice himself. He was asked if he sent the telegram signed "H. D." to Hollenbeck while he was on the train, but he refused to answer this question and all others put to him, on the ground that the committee had no jurisdiction.

Archer, on being recalled, testified that T. J. Mulvihill, one of the democratic leaders against Hanna, was also on the train with Hollenbeck. Archer and Mulvihill got Hollenbeck's telegrams and Mulvihill answered them, signed Hollenbeck's name to messages sent to Major Dick, Hanna's manager.

Detective Miller was re-called to explain the telephone talks of Boyce and others with Major Rathbone and others at Hanna headquarters. Miller had four men besides himself in shadowing Boyce and Hollenbeck. Detective Slessinger followed Hollenbeck back to Columbus. Miller shadowed Boyce back. The trail was lost in Columbus, Boyce and Hollenbeck only stopping there between trains.

FEELING IN HAVANA.

Growing Bitter Against the United States.

Aroused by Recent Speeches in Congress--General Pando Wounded by Insurgents in Battle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says:

The attacks in the house at Washington has produced a feeling here, which perhaps is scarcely justified, pointing toward the fixed purpose of a certain section of American politicians to insist on war with Spain. The government itself is disturbed and the press is full of the subject. The Imparcial says: "In proportion as the accounts from Cuba are favorable in Spain they become less so from the United States. It would be difficult to believe that the United States propose to undertake in the face of the whole civilized world the enormous responsibility of provoking war for which no reasons exists today. They allege the only motive for intervention the prolongation of a contest which is principally sustained by filibustering expeditions starting from North American ports and maintained by hopes, fostered in Washington and New York, of an attack upon Spain. It is a cold blooded mockery and affront to the general conscience."

The Correspondencia says: "We cannot imagine the majority of the people of the United States wish for war with Spain, seeing the great disturbance such a war would cause in the republic. We cannot think that the jingoes will prevail in their evil work. We believe that the government of the United States will not commit this unjustifiable and thoughtless imprudence."

GEN. PANDO WOUNDED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Reports have just reached Havana from the Cauto river district, where General Pando has been operating, to the effect that General Pando has been seriously wounded in an engagement with the insurgents, says the Havana correspondent of the Herald. No details of the fight have been received here but late reports show that there has been hot fighting along the Cauto river.

General Pando is now in or near Manzanillo, his operations against the rebels having so far been practically without results. Despite the heavy force he has with him the insurgents, aided by natural defensive positions, have been able to prevent him making any headway, and at last reports General Pando was awaiting the arrival of more artillery and troops from Havana before making another important move against the rebels.

MAY TAKE A HAND.

Eastern Situation Interests Uncle Sam.

Moral Influence of the United States May be Directed to the Support of Great Britain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—There is reason to believe that the moral influence of the United States will support Great Britain in her efforts to keep China open to the commerce of the world, avers the Washington correspondent of the Herald. The only active steps which the administration will probably take in the matter will be to enter into neogtiations with Germany respecting the treatment of American ships entering Kaio Chou and such other ports in China as may be seized in the future by Russia or Japan.

"If China has leased Kiao Chou on the condition that it shall be opened by Germany as a Chinese port then it will not be necessary for the president to take the steps in the matter," said an official of the administration

FAVORS TO NO NATION.

"It will mean that the commerce of all nations will be allowed an unrestricted entry thereto. If, as we believe, however, Kiao Chon should be leased to Germany without conditions, then Germany will have the right and will undoubtedly exercise it to put in operation port and customs regulations such as are now in force in German home ports.

"The United States cannot make objections to the extension of such regulations to Kiao Chou in such an event for it will be German soil to all intents and purposes as in Hamburg. However, the administration will expect from Germany any privileges that may be granted by her to any other nation and will therefore reap the advantages which Great Britian's attitude against the shutting of the Chinese door to the commerce of the world will give.

ARTICLES OF TREATY.

"This is required in accordance with the articles of the treaty between Prussia and the United States of May 5, 1828, which provides: 'If either party shall hereafter grant to any other nation any particular favor of navigation or commerce, it shall immediately become common to the other party, freely where it is freely granted to such nation, or yielding the same compensation when the grant is conditional.'"

Attaches of the Chinese legation are naturally very much pleased at the attitude assumed by Great Britain, as they appreciate that she will have the moral influence of the United States and other nations trading with China which have no territorial designs on the celestial empire. The policy which Great Britain has inaugurated means, they feel confident, the continued integrity of the Chinese government.

W. J. BRYAN HELPS CUBANS.

Sends a Check for $100 to the Relief Commission at Omaha, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 24.—Commissioner Utt yesterday received the following letter, with the check inclosed:

"LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 21.—John E. Utt, president Cuban Relief Commission, Omaha, Neb.—Dear Sir: Inclosed find check for $100. The sufferings of the Cubans appeal to the hearts of our people, as their struggle for liberty has for many months to the sympathies of those who love free government. Yours truly, W. J. BRYAN."

This is the first contribution received by the commission recently appointed by Governor Holcomb.

Ticket 24,674 is worth $10 in cash at Reuben S. Patterson's.

The Y. S. G. club met at the home of Miss Laura Haffner, of 39 East DeWald street, Saturday afternoon and spent a very enjoyable time. Before they dispersed a dainty luncheon was served.

STILL UNDECIDED.

Coal Miners Cannot Come Together.

The Interests of the Fields at Variance.

The Need of One Section is the Bane of Another.

The "Mine Run" Proposition Defeated by an Overwhelming Vote--Conference Proceedings.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—At today's session of the inter-state bituminous coal operators and miners the reconsideration of the vote which defeated the mine run proposition last week was taken up. After a short discussion the roll of states was called and the proposition was again defeated—ayes, 28; nays, 8. The operators of Indiana and Ohio voted in the negative. The question of when an advance or change of system should be inaugurated was raised by the Indiana operators. They claimed that certain districts of Illinois were working under a contract until May 1, and were now practically holding up the convention in an effort to force the operators of other states upon a mine run basis or a strike. If they would not recede from this position the other states might as well leave the convention now as any other time. If the Illinois delegates would agree to a double standard settlement could easily be made.

A motion was made by the Ohio miners that whatever advance was granted should take effect on January 27th. This led to another lengthy discussion between the Ohio and Illinois operators on the methods employed in disposing of their output. President Ratchford declared that it was out of the question to reach a settlement based on May 1st prices, the miners having too often tasted the sweets of settlements of that date. The first of the year was the proper time. If miners of a certain district were under contract until May 1, that could easily be arranged. He again suggested the double standard plan to take effect January 16 as the best way of satifying all parties. As the Indiana and Ohio operators alone had voted against the mine run plan at today's session, he suggested that the operators of those two states confer and endeavor to formulate something which would meet their approval. The miners would also meet with the same object in view. The plan was approved by the convention and a recess was taken.

REPUBLICANS ELECT.

New County Committeemen Chosen Last Saturday.

W. J. Vesey Indorsed for District Committeeman by His Ward--A Partial List.

The rain Saturday and Saturday night did not deter a few republicans from meeting in each ward and township to choose members of the county central committee for the ensuing two years. In the city there were many changes, the only members of the old committe who were re-elected being Jas. Liggett, E. W. Cook and George Solliday. Mr. Solliday was not a candidate, but he had so faithfully performed the duties in the past that his fellow republicans of the Eighth ward insisted he should act again. The leaders are still all at sea as to who should be elected chairmen. An effort is being made to get Wilmer or Elmer Leonard to accept, but both have declined up to date and it is believed that Dr. Worch will win. In the Sixth ward, where live both W. J. Vesey and Amos R. Walters, Mr. Vesey was endorsed for district chairman and if the outside counties agree to let Allen county have the chairmanship Mr. Vesey will be the man. Here is a partial list of the committeemen and delegates chosen:

JUBILEE WEEK.

California Celebrating Discovery of Gold.

Preparations Made on a Scale of Unequaled Splendor--San Francisco the Mecca.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The splendor of the celebration of the golden jubilee of California, which began today, is not likely to be surpassed for many a year to come. The entire state has gladly responded to the appeals of the miners, pioneers and native sons and daughters, and from now until the close of the carnival week San Francisco will be the mecca toward which all travel west of the Sierras will be turned. Nor can the line be drawn at the eastern border of the state, for from Nevada, Utah, and the country as far east as Denver, men, who first found fortune in the places of California, have already returned here to assist in the exercises commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold by Marshall at Colima, near the old fort, erected by General Sutton.

But the participants in this week of gaiety are not confined to the old timers. It is the younger element, the children of the men of '49, that by their enthusiasm and monetary plans have assured in advance the success of one of the most unique and characteristic demonstrations ever projected in any part of the union.

THE COUNT CALLS.

Bulgarian Nobleman Visits the Sentinel and Relates a Harrowing Tale.

Count de Zonzo, the nobleman who is acting as advance agent for James A. Hearnes' "Hearthstone" company, was a caller at THE SENTINEL office this morning. His highness was stylishly attired in a frock coat, silk hat and patent leathers, and spoke with a French accent that could be cut with a chisel.

He related to the editor a soul-stirring tale regarding his experience, having, he said, been expelled from Bulgaria by a stony-hearted monarch for slaying a nephew of the king in a duel. The king would have had the count's head had he not escaped by sprinting on his trusty bicycle across the Austrian boundary.

Then the nobleman came to America and was met on the dock by a deputation of New York's aristocracy and a brass band. Ten minutes after his arrival he received an offer of $14.79 a minute to act as advance agent for the "Hearthstone." He accepted.

The count's ancestry embraces kings and queens (also aces and tenspots.) He has appeared in the imperial courts of Europe and the legal courts of America. It is safe to state that the only time he ever saw Bulgaria was when he looked it up on the map, but he is a "hustler" in his own particular line, and attracts considerable attention to his "show" by way of himself.

HAIR TURNED WHITE.

PERRY, Ok., Jan. 24.—Mrs. James Snyder is a widow about thirty years of age, who lives between Earlboro and Maud. Her husband died about six months ago. She was a witness to all the horrible scenes attending the burning of the Indian murderers two weeks ago. Her nerves were unstrung, and when the report of the uprising of the Seminoles in revenge reached her she almost collapsed.

That night a neighbor, driving past her house, called on her to flee for her life, saying the Indians were coming. She began to pack up all she could carry, but before she could get ready to go two masked men entered her house and, with knives gleaming and revolvers aimed at her, they advanced upon her. She fell, fainting. When she revived she looked in a mirror and, to her astonishment and alarm, saw her hair was as white as snow.

BACK TO OHIO.

Reynolds and Jones Must Stand Trial for Larceny.

Sheriff Riggs Takes Them to Bowling Green, Ohio.

He Was Compelled to Get Requisition Papers.

The Fellows Robbed a Store at Braidstown, Ohio, and Were Arrested by Superintendent Gorsline.

Ed Reynolds and William Jones, the suspects arrested by Superintendent Gorsline, were taken back to Ohio yesterday by Sheriff Richard Biggs, of Wood county. The men, when arrested by the superintendent several weeks ago, had some new cutlery on their persons and he immediately began an investigation with the result that the cutlery was identified as that stolen from a store in Bairdstown, Ohio. The men refused to go back to Ohio without requisition papers, which Sheriff Biggs secured and yesterday he came after them. The sheriff had with him another prisoner who had been arrested at Dunkirk, Ind. He left for Bowling Green, the county seat of Wood county, at 3:10 over the Nickel Plate yesterday afternoon. When the trial of Reynolds and Jones comes up Superintendent Gorsline will go to Bowling Green as a witness against them.

SUSPECTED OF THEFT.

Sunday afternoon Officer Richardson arrested a young German who was loitering about the Nickel Plate depot. When searched at the police station a valuable gold watch was found on him. The fellow said he was a press-feeder and gave the name of James Johnson. He acknowledged that the watch did not belong to him, but had been given him by a friend to sell. He claims not to have tried to sell the watch, but the police have learned that he did attempt to make a sale of the timepiece to a watchman. Johnson says he was to meet his friend, the owner of the watch, in either Fort Wayne or Auburn. He was sent to jail for twenty days for vagrancy.

GONE TO TESTIFY.

Superintendent of Police Gorsline received a telephone message this morning asking him to go to Defiance and testify against Murray and Casey, the thieves arrested in this city for robbing a general store at Sherwood, Ohio. Mr. Gorsline left for Defiance on the Wabash noon train.

POLICE NOTES.

John Nolan, the colored cook, who was arrested by Officer Dickson for fighting Saturday afternoon, entered a plea of guilty this morning and was fined $1 and costs by Mayor Scherer. The fine was paid. The man Gibson has not yet been located.

Mayor Scherer ordered Thomas Riley, a train-jumper, to leave the city.

DOUSED THE FLAMES

W. A. Meyer's Hat Store Has a Narrow Escape.

Fire Discovered Under the Shelving Sunday Afternoon--The Chemical Engine's Good Work.

A fire alarm at 2:20 Sunday afternoon called the department to the corner of Broadway and Jefferson street, where a fire was smouldering in the hat store of W. A. Meyer. The fire was under the shelving, and good work by the chemical engine prevented the destruction of the building and saved most of the stock. The loss will aggregate about $250, although most of the hats and gents' furnishing goods were more or less damaged by smoke. The cause of the fire is a mystery, and Chief Hilbrecht would not even venture a guess as to what might have caused it.

Catarrh

Mrs. Josephine Polhill, of Due West, S. C., had a severe case of catarrh, which finally became so deep-seated that she was entirely deaf in one ear, and part of the bone in her nose sloughed off. THERE is no great probability that anything will come out of the bribery investigation under conduct of the Ohio senate, but it will stir things up a bit and disclose possibly how some of the money was used, if any was used, which Senator Hanna denies.

JOHN MUIR, the leading naturalist of the Pacific slope, says the animal life of Alaska is very abundant and varied. More birds are born in Alaska, he thinks, than in any equal area on the continent, and these include not only strong-winged birds, but thrushes and finches that winter in Central America.

NO YEAR passes in these times without the discovery of a new microbe. The whooping cough has yielded up the invisible, but by no means inaudible, little pest responsible for that disease. It is exceedingly small and club-shaped. Only the most powerful microscopes reveal it to the eye. Science has not yet explained how it manages to produce such explosive effects of the vocal organs.

IN the appointment to the attorney generalship of the United States of Hon. John W. Griggs, who resigns the governorship of New Jersey to accept this higher distinction, President McKinley has chosen a man of unblemished private life, of fine abilities, of trained talents for the law and large public experience—and as good a friend as the corporations of this country ever had as legal advisor to a national administration. It is strange, passing strange, that no man is supposed fit to serve the public as the head of the federal department of law unless he has first been a distinguished and faithful servant of the great corporations. Olney, Harmon, McKenna, Griggs—there is a procession not five years long.

GENERAL MILES presents no very dignified military figure running about the country wringing his hands and lamenting that the United States can't fight because totally unprepared for war. The general should take it with more ease. We can quickly get ready for a brush with somebody, if need be. However, there is no present prospect of such need. The trouble with General Miles began when he went abroad last spring to study the conduct of the Graeco-Turkish war and extended his junket to France and Germany, where he saw little generals in command of army corps twice the size of the entire forces under himself, commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States. General Miles saw too much of the gold lace and the "pomp and circumstance" of European armies. It has made him jaundiced, likely.

WHAT are called "crimes of the rail" in the year of 1897 makes a startlingly large record when footed up. The number of trains held up was thirty. Two passengers were killed and five wounded; two robbers were killed and three wounded. Ten stages were robbed during the year, with a casualty list of two passengers killed, three wounded. One stage robber was killed, and one wounded. In these forty holdups the casualties to passengers were twelve; to the robber, seven. Train robberies occurred in seventeen states and territories, including four in Texas, three each in Ohio and Missouri, and two each in Alabama, Oregon, Illinois, Indian Territory, Indiana and New Mexico. One each took place in Arizona, Tennessee, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado, California, Minnesota and Virginia. All the stage robberies were in the far west. The exhibit is one inviting the attention of legislators.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN wrote for the New York Sunday World an account of what he saw in Mexico on the occasion of his recent trip and his impressions of the country of Diaz. Among the evidences of prosperity by which he was struck were the rise in real estate values, the activity in cotton textile manufactures, which are paying dividends of 16 per cent., and the large investments of American capital. Mexico, he says, is flourishing under the silver standard, mills are multiplying, exports are expanding, wages are steady, and there is no fall in prices as in the United States. After citing at some length the progress that is being made by several Mexican cities in modern municipal improvements, Mr. Bryan says it would be unfair to give Mexico's financial policy credit all for the progress which the country has made during the last twenty-five years. Her government and her government officials, he says have contributed much to her development by giving security to life, protection to property and stimulus to education. Mr. Bryan is convinced that the use of silver has been of material advantage to Mexico, but says that republic is not strong enough to maintain the parity between gold and silver. He is positive the people of the United States are strong enough to do so. Mexico, he declares, by the use of silver has avoided the fall in prices, but concedes that she has suffered to a certain extent from the fluctuations in exchange. "By opening our mints to the free coinage of silver," Mr. Bryan concludes, "we too shall escape from falling prices and by maintaining the parity, we shall, in addition, avoid fluctuation in exchange."

EVOLUTION.

Mrs. Lease Occupies Rev. Dixon's Pulpit in New York.

She Declares That on the Solution of Social Problems Depends the Destiny of the World.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease occupied the pulpit of Rev. Thomas Dixon of the People's church at the Academy of Music Sunday morning. She discussed the problems which the United States as a nation meets and inquired into their causes.

In part she said:

"We cannot as a nation permit the commercial instinct to dominate without suffering a penalty. We cannot forsake God and permit political dishonesty and legislative corruption without loss to our better selves and life as a nation. As a country we have leaped forward 100 years in less than a quarter of a century; we have grown too fast.

"The tidal wave of discontent which has swept over the whole world is beating at our shores. Civilization is being built on a pyramid of crushed-out life.

"The man or woman who would hold a party responsible for this condition is a demagogue.

"He who would hold the trusts and combines responsible for it is a hypocrite, who publicly abhors and secretly aspires.

"Our cities are overcrowded and the supply does not equal the demand. There are no new worlds to discover and no new lands to explore. Evolution is presenting its problem, and upon our solution of it rests the destiny of the world. The only method by which social unrest may be eased is by adopting the rule of Christ."

EMINENT VISITORS.

Prospective President of Brazil Will Follow President Dole.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Following the visit of President Dole, of Hawaii, it is not improbable that the prospective president of Brazil will visit the United States sometime between March 1 and November next. The election occurs in March, and the prevailing impression is that Senor Campos Salles, the candidate of the republican party, and an eminent member of that element, will be elected. He has signified the purpose in case of his election of visiting Argentina and other southern republics, and of then coming to the United States for an extended trip. He has travelled widely in Europe and this will be his first visit to the United States.

FOREIGN MEATS.

An Effort Will be Made to Check Their Sale in Scotland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—An effort has been made in Scotland looking to the adoption of some steps to check or regulate the sale of foreign meats in Scotch markets. The fact is reported to the state department by United States Consul Fleming, at Edinburg, who says it is explained by the fact that the butchers buy American beef at nine to twelve cents per pound and sell it at the same price as the Scotch beef, for which they pay twelve cents per pound. The directors of the Scotish chamber of commerce have taken the initiative in opposing the trade.

LABOR GETS BENEFIT.

Vast Sums Paid to German Workmen in Accident Insurance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A strong tribute to the merits of the German accident insurance system is rendered in a report to the state department from United States Consul Monohan at Chemnitz, published in the Daily Consular reports. He shows that the workmen wounded by accident in Germany have been paid in the last eleven years over and above their wages nearly $120,000,000, and the claim is made that the employers pay the enormous sums defrayed in this way.

OBJECT TO LIQUOR.

Young Women in the Kansas University Start a Crusade.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 24.—A big fight is in progress among the students of the Kansas university over the liquor question, the crusade having been started by the young women, who have endured the whisky breaths of their young associates. It is charged that young men drink liquors before attending the university entertainments. J. D. Bowersock, a wealthy citizen, urges the young women to leave the university hall in a body if the smell of whisky is again detected on the breaths of the young men.

Worden, who is under sentence of death for train wrecking near Sacramento, Cala., during the railroad strike of 1894. Mr. Debs asserts that Worden is the victim of a conspiracy of railroad detectives and that at the worst the condemned man was but a tool in the detectives, hands.

BROTHER'S SLAYER.

George Willard Clark Confesses to Murder.

The Fratricide Tells the Story of a Foul Crime—The Murderer's Career.

NAPA, Cal., Jan. 24.—George Willard Clark has confessed that he is the murderer of his brother, W. A. Clark, at St. Helena, on last Thursday. Mrs. Levina Clark was married to Wm. A. Clark more than twenty years ago in Clay county, Ill. She is 46 years old, and the mother of seven children. George W. Clark, the murderer, became intimate with her thirteen or fourteen years ago. Their relations continued while the husband was in California making a home for her, and during that time a child was born of which George Clark was the father.

After coming to California to live and near St. Helena, Napa county, Mrs Clark professed Christianity and attempted to break off relations with her brother-in-law, but he persisted in his attentions. At times he asked her if she would live with him in case of her husband's death. Last month he put strychnine in his brother's coffee on two occasions but the brother detected the poison and had the coffee anyalized by a druggist. Then on Thursday morning George Clark lay in wait for his brother and shot him while he was preparing breakfast in the kitchen of his St. Helena home.

TAX FERRETING ILLEGAL.

Interesting Decision by Judge Palmer, in Jasper County.

RENSSELAER, Ind., Jan. 24.—The employment of tax ferrets has been held illegal by Judge Palmer, in the Jasper circuit court. This decision, if sustained by the supreme court, will settle an interesting and much controverted question in this state. Last September the commissioners of Jasper county entered into a contract with Fleener and Carnahan, by which the latter were to search all the records of the county to discover property not returned for taxes, and were to receive one-half of all the taxes reported by them and collected by the county.

In November Judge Thompson issued an order temporarily restraining the board from paying anything for services under this contract.

A new contract was then made, to the effect that Fleener and Carnahan were to make certain books of reference for the county, giving a list of names of taxpayers, with mortgages belonging to each, and also the amount given in by each for assessment. Under this contract they were likewise to receive 50 per cent of all taxes reported by them and collected by the county. Judge Thompson issued a second restraining order. A change of venue was then taken to Judge Palmer. Fleener and Carnahan demurred. The court went into a full discussion of the tax ferret question, granted a permanent injunction, and declared the contracts void.

REV. DR. TALMAGE WEDS.

Bride Is Mrs. Charles Collier, Well Known in Pittsburg Society Circles.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 24.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., was married in Allegheny, Saturday, to Mrs. Charles Collier (nee McCutcheon), a widow.

The marriage is the culmination of a brief courtship and engagement and tinged with romance. The arrangements for the nuptials were conducted with the greatest of secrecy.

Dr. Talmage and his bride met for the first time last summer in New York. They were both guests at the summer home of Rev. Dr. J. R. Paxton. Dr. Talmage is many years Mrs. Collier's senior, but friends say it was a case of love at first sight.

The couple saw a great deal of each other while Mrs. Collier was in the east. When the summer party broke up and it was time for the guests to bid each other farewell, there was a bond stronger than friendship between Dr. Talmage and Mrs. Collier. They parted with the mutual understanding that a correspondence was to be kept up—at least, that is what an intimate friend said after the wedding.

"COIN, NOT GOLD"

Is Senator Turpie's Idea of Legal Money.

He Addresses the Senate Upon the Teller Resolution—The Doings of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—When the Teller resolution was laid before the senate today, Mr. Turpie, of Indiana, addressed that body in support of the resolution. "I shall vote for the resolution willingly," he began. "I think its introduction timely and opportune and especially when we are confronted by a measure which contemplates an increase of the public debt by $300,000,000 or $400,000,000. It is, indeed, proper that we should repeat the declaration that our obligations are payable in coin, not in gold."

In the house Mr. Boutelle, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, reported back the two resolutions calling on the secretary of the navy for information as to the suitability of sites for an armor plate factory in the south, with the recommendation that they lie on the table. The report called attention to the fact that invitations had been issued for sealed proposals for the land, buildings and machinery for a government armor plate factory which would be opened January 29, 1898, and that the secretary, when these were opened, would send a special report to congress containing all information.

In view of the fact that the secretary was proceeding to carry out the law, Mr. Boutelle said he thought it necessary to call on the secretary for information, which he would furnish. The first resolution was laid upon the table without division, but Mr. Underwood, democrat, of Alabama, insisted upon a division upon his resolution calling upon the secretary for the information obtained by the armor plate board as to the advantages of southern places as locations for an armor plate plant, but by a vote of 107 to 107 the resolution was tabled.

Mr. Curtis then claimed the day for the business from the District of Columbia committee.

FOR A STREET FAIR.

Meeting of Business Men Tuesday Afternoon to Discuss the Project.

There is a growing sentiment among a large number of leading business men that a good thing for Fort Wayne will be a street fair to be held some time in the early autumn, probably the first part of October. A meeting of business men will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 and the project will be discussed. Business men will be notified privately of the place of meeting. Ben Lehman, the clothing merchant, is active in the matter.

TALK OF THE DRAFT.

Magnates of Eastern and Western Leagues Have a Joint Conference.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Among the members of the eastern and western base ball leagues here to attend a meeting of delegates of the two bodies today are President Powers, President Draper, of the Providence club; Bogart, of Wilkesbarre, and Kuntch, of Syracuse, of the eastern league; President Johnson, Chas. Comiskey, of St. Paul, and Vanderneck, of Detroit. In addition to the amendment to the draft system as suggested by the National league, the questions of playing a series of inter-league championship games, and the drafting of players from the Eastern league by National league clubs for the Western league or vice versa, will be considered. President Draper, of Providence, says that while the two minor leagues cannot draft each others players, it is possible for the National league to draft a player from one league and transfer him to the other. He says that it is his belief that the Washington club has drafted Catcher Dixon of his club for a Western league club, either Detroit or Minneapolis.

Map 1,500 Years Old.

A map of Jerusalem in mosaic, over 1,500 years old, has been found at Madaba, Palestine. It was discovered in uncovering the ruins of an old church about to be rebuilt. The entire pavement of the old church was a mosaic map of Palestine, many parts of which had been worn away or broken off. That part containing the city of Jerusalem was more or less perfect, only a part of the walls at the southeast corner being missing.

Mechanic Buried in Westminster.

Notwithstanding all that Britain owes to mechanics, there is but one workman who received the highest funeral honors of being buried in Westminster abbey, and that was George Graham, a famous scientific instrument maker of his day, who in 1700 invented the dead-beat escapement in clocks. Graham's obsequies were attended by the Royal society in a body.

The Telephone Ear.

The telephone ear, from which so many telephone operators suffer, is a more dangerous affliction in Kentucky than it is in New York, according to a dispatch from Owensboro, which says that Mrs. Maggie Brandon called at the central office in the afternoon and cowhided an operater for alleged disclosure of conversation over the wire.—New York Sun.

Novel Antiburglar Device.

In a report from Leipsic, Germany, Consul Warner describes a novel German anti-burglar device. This consists of flexible safety curtains made of hardened steel tubes properly connected, which are invulnerable to the ordinary burglar's tools, for the reason that the tubes revolve freely and the centerbit or other tool can find no hold.

The World's Newspaper Output.

The total number of copies of newspapers printed throughout the world in one year is 12,000,000,000. To print these requires 781,240 tons of paper, or 1,562,480,000 pounds, while it would take the fastest press in London 333 years to print a single year's edition, which would produce a stack of papers fifty miles high.

How Cactus Whisky Is Made.

The Apaches of southern Arizona make whiky from the sap of a small species of cactus. They cut out the hearts of the plants, resembling little cabbages, and in the cup-shaped receptables left behind the sap accumulates. From this sap they distill the famous mescal, which drives those who drink it to sheer madness.

Portable Elevator.

A handy portable elevator for raising packages from wagons to the second story of a building has a supporting ladder carrying a sliding frame, which is raised and lowered by a derrick mounted under the ladder, an adjustable platform being mounted on the frame, which can be set level when the ladder is at any angle.

Couldn't Spit in Church.

A bishop of a church conference in Georgia told those delegates who used tobacco not to expectorate on the floor or on the handsome new carpet, which had recently been put down. He told them that if they must chew tobacco to go outside and they would find a nice new curbstone and plenty of fresh sand to expectorate upon, or they could bring their cuspidores and in case of an emergency they could use their hats.

MRS. PETERSON'S STORY.

I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb.

The doctor wanted me to take treatments, but I had just begun taking Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and my husband said I had better wait and see how much good that would do me. I was so sick when I began with her medicine, I could hardly be on my feet. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything.

I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me.—MRS. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa.

When Flowers Cease to Smell.

It is claimed that the perfume of flowers disappears as soon as the starch in the petals is exhausted, and it may, it is said, be restored by placing the flowers in a solution of sugar, when the formation of starch and the emission of fragrance will be at once resumed.

American and English Polo.

Polo as it is now played in this country approaches very closely to the English standard. At Hurlingham and Longchamps the hooking of mallets is allowed, something Aerican players do not seem inclined to tolerate. The offside rule also differs, but otherwise polo in Europe and polo in America are one and the same.

Electric Mower.

Electricity is used to destroy weeds in a new device which can be used on an ordinary mowing machine, one wire of the dynamo being attached to the cutting bar and the other grounded through one of the wheels, so that if the weeds are cut when damp a current of electricity enters each root and burns it as the top is cut.

Cheap Fire Extinguishers.

A simple fire extinguisher can be made at very little cost. If twenty pounds of common salt and ten pounds of sal ammoniac are dissolved in seven gallons of water and the mixture afterward put into quart bottles of thin glass the grenades so made will be found very efficient for extinguishing small outbreaks of fire. The bottles must be tightly corked and sealed so as to prevent evaporation and when a fire occurs they must be thrown in or near the flames so as to break and thus liberate the gas contained to effect the desired object.

NEW CHICAGO LINE.

The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf Will Go There.

Its Northern Terminal on Lake Michigan and Its Southern Terminal on the Gulf of Mexico.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—It is announced here that arrangements by which the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad will secure an entrance into Chicago have been all but completed. The entrance will be gained over the Burlington tracks out of Quincy, Ill. The Pittsburg and Gulf has already leased the right to use the Burlington depot and terminals at Quincy and the Burlington bridge across the Mississippi river at Quincy. A contract for the use of the Burlington tracks by the Pittsburg and Gulf for freight and passenger traffic between Quincy and Chicago has been drawn up and is under consideration by Stillwell, General Manager Gilham and the attorneys of the Pittsburg and Gulf. Officials of both roads say the deal has not been consummated, but it is almost certain that it will go through. Branch lines now building and near completion will give the Gulf road its entrance to Quincy and the lines, with another branch, the Omaha, Kansas City and Eastern, on which trains are now running between Quincy and Omaha, will complete the company's line from Omaha to the gulf. If the pending contract with the Burlington can be effected, the Pittsburg and Gulf will also inaugurate through train service from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico to Port Arthur. A storm has been raised among Kansas City shippers by the announcement of the Pittsburg and Gulf officials that they propose making when their lines shall be completed, the same rates on shipments from New Orleans and the Gulf to Omaha as are made to Kansas City. In other words that freight will be hauled through Kansas City and 200 miles further north at Kansas City rates. Omaha jobbers are correspondingly elated.

THE STORM DAMAGES.

Saturday night's storm played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires along some of the railways in this territory. At Chicago the Pennsylvania's telegraph wires were down for a distance of six squares, and at the St. Mary's river, just west of this city, they were completely severed by a large tree falling across them. The latter damage was speedily repaired by the linemen and wreck crew from this point, but the break at Chicago was more serious and was not repaired until a late hour today. The Grand Rapids and Indiana wires were also down at the St. Mary's river and again at Vicksburg, Mich., but were speedily repaired and are in good shape today. Two or three breaks occurred in the Wabash wires between this city and Toledo, but they were located and repaired soon afterwards and no further interruptions to communication took place. No breaks occurred on the Nickel Plate or on the Lake Shore lines, but the wires "worked bad" Saturday night, owing more or less trouble to the operators. Western Union wires were also prostrated at Chicago and connection with that city was made in a round about away. About the city the damage was not very great. The walls of the old brick building owned by the Pennsylvania company, in the east end of the city, which was damaged by fire several weeks ago, were blown down by the wind, as was also one of the big smoke stacks at the Standard Wheel works, on Lafayette street. Fences and outhouses in various parts of the city were upset, but the damage was trifling in every case. West and north of this city the fall of snow was much greater than it was in this neighborhood, as was evidenced by the coating of ice and snow on all trains from those directions. Trains generally were from one to five hours late in reaching their destinations.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OBJECTS.

An interesting suit will soon come before Judge Hammond at Toledo. The case is the Pennsylvania company vs. the city of Lima to prevent the issue of $98,000 in park bonds. The Pennsylvania company claims that the money received from the sale of bonds is to be given to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Detroit and Lima Northern railroads for shop purposes. The Lima city authorities agreed to release the Pennsylvania company from a portion of the taxes if it would withdraw the suit, but it declined to do so. The Pennsylvania company has secured a temporary injunction against the issuing of the bonds and the coming suit will decide whether or not the injunction shall be permanent.

SURVEYING THE LINE.

Toledo Bee: "The surveying party on the proposed new line of the Wabash between Toledo and Montpelier is working this way at a rapid pace, and it is stated officially that the party will reach here the latter part of next week. Officials are mum regarding Toledo terminals, and refuse to say just where the surveying party will strike the corporation line of this city. S. C. Reynolds, one of the directors of the company, says that the road will be constructed as rapidly as the conditions will permit."

WILL ENLARGE ITS OFFICE BUILDING.

Plans have been drawn up for the enlargement of the office building of the Fort Wayne Electric corporation. An additional story will be put on, and the interior of the whole upper floors will be rearranged. The entire third floor will be devoted to draughting and designing purposes.

Engineers Frank Murphy, Tim Short and Robert Johns and Firemen George McFerran and Charles House, of the Nickel Plate, were off duty yesterday for various purposes.

The Pittsburg accommodation train, which left this city this morning, looked as though all its cars were new and just out of the shops. It was given a thorough renovation yesterday.

It is claimed that Andrew W. Millspaugh ticket agent at Kansas City, is the oldest ticket agent in active service in the country. Last week he celebrated his eighty-third anniversary.

Hon. Mortimer Nye last week secured a judgment for $800 against the Chicago and West Michigan railway company for alleged damages by fire, caused by sparks thrown out by a passing engine.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has given orders that 2,000 cars be built at their shops in Milwaukee at the rate of fifteen a day, which can be done as soon as the additions to their shops at that point, now nearing completion, are done.

When the new station building of the Wabash, at Montpelier, Ohio, is completed, the trainmaster who is now located at Ashley will transfer his headquarters to Montpelier. The trains on the Eel River branch will then be handled from the latter place instead of Peru.

A number of the employes of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop were off duty this morning for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Henry Bickness. The bereaved husband is employed in the 'smith shop.

W. J. Wheeler has resumed his place in the Pittsburg copper shop after a few days' absence on account of private business.

U. S. Nease, of the Wabash machine shop, went to the Peru hospital this morning, he having injured his back a few days ago.

Henry Peak, a machinist employed at the electric works, is suffering from bronchitis and will be confined to his home a few days.

The Wabash shops, which were shut down today to allow the laying of a new floor in the machine room, will resume operations as usual tomorrow.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will equip a boiler plant for the Artificial Ice company at Peru, Ind. The sale of the machinery was made last Saturday by J. E. Noble.

William Parry, who is now employed in the office of Superintendent E. A. Gould at Peru, spent Sunday with his family in this city. He may remove his family to Peru in the near future.

The Bass works is preparing to furnish an 80-horse power steam plant for the J. C. Peters Milling company, at Monroeville, Ind. The machinery will be shipped and installed as rapidly as possible.

Fireman Frank Simonson, of the Pittsburg, fell from his engine as he was about to take water in the yards of Chicago last Saturday and sustained injuries to his back which have since rendered him unfit for service.

Walter Redman, a member of the Pennsylvania's special police force, is afflicted with boils which have kept him from his duties for several nights. He has charge of the main gate at the shops, at the foot of Railroad street.

A fine black, white and tan English setter dog, the property of Master Mechanic C. H. Doebler, has gone astray. The animal bore attached to its collar a United States express tag upon which was the name of H. A. Niepoth.

John J. Beugnot, a student at Purdue university, is here to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Henry Bickness. The young man is an employe of the Pennsylvania company, but is on a leave of absence to take a course in the college.

The five engine crews brought here several weeks ago to help out during the rush in freight traffic on the Pittsburg road, left this morning for their homes in Wellsville, Ohio, a division terminal on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. Their services were no longer needed on this line.

Edmund Taylor, who was buried Saturday, at Sedalia, Mo., he dying at Raton, N. M., on Tuesday, was one of the oldest railroad men in the southwest. He was eighty years of age. He was with the Baltomore and Ohio in the eighties, and served on the Wabash, the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific as master mechanic for many years.

Foreman Hugh Hogan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, has returned from a trip to Milwaukee, Indianapolis and other railway centers, where he visited shops with a view of adding to his store of knowledge of such things. These excursions are taken frequently and are usually very beneficial to the party who takes them.

The employes of the Bass machine shop will hereafter work only eight hours per day, this department being a little short on orders for the present. The full complement of men will be retained, however.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Byron Strawn, of South Broadway—a son. The proud papa and mamma have been married eleven years and this is their first born. It is probably unnecessary to add that they are about the happiest couple in the city today.

A new axle lathe, built expressly for the heavy work it will be called upon to perform, is being set up in the Pittsburg shops. Its first duty will be to turn out axles for some ore cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, the largest cars ever built in the Fort Wayne shops.

The electric works has returned to the old order of running the shops, and night work will cease for a short time at least. It is possible that some of the men may have to work twelve or thirteen hours per day, but there will be no double force in any of the departments. This change necessitated a slight reduction of force, and Machinists John Gribbons, Ed Smith and Charles Schmidt are temporarily out of employment.

Reduced rates for the round trip have been granted by the Central Passenger Association lines for the following occasions: Canned Food Packers' National Association, Buffalo, February 8 to 10, from all Central Passenger and Trunk Line Association points; National American Women Suffrage Association, Washington, D. C., February 14 to 19, from all points in Central Passenger Association territory; Daughters of the American Revolution, National Society, Washington, D. C., February 21 to 26, from all Central Association points.

UNIQUE SERVICE.

Rev. Ballinger Will Hold a "Mother's" Meeting at Calvary U. B. Church.

A unique service is to be held at Calvary U. B. church, corner Lewis and Harmer streets next Sabbath at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. Ballinger and his people planned and announced a service for next Sabbath afternoon that is out of the usual line. Services have been held in the city recently for men only, for women, for business men, for doctors, for lawyers, for barbers, for different fraternal organizations; but the above service is for a class that until this time has been neglected. This unique service is to be a mothers' meeting especially for mothers who have small children which they think they dare not take to church, and have no one with whom to leave them. Undoubtedly there are hundreds of tired mothers who would love to go to church, but think they dare not take their small children. To such, this service is for you. The price of admission is a real live baby, if you have one or can borrow one. If you have no baby you can come provided you will allow the little folks the privilege to laugh or cry at their own pleasure. Great preparations are being made to make this a beautiful and delightful service. An opportunity will be given for parents to consecrate their children to the herd, either with or without baptism.

At the revival meeting now being held in Calvary church, Rev. Ballinger spoke last night on "The Forgiveness of Sin." Text I John, 1-9. The large audience room was well filled. Many hearts were deeply touched, and turned upward toward a better life. Tears of penitence flowed from many eyes.

WATERS RAGING.

Rise of the Mississippi Is Causing Alarm.

River Men at Memphis Are Apprehensive and New Levees Are Being Rushed to Completion.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Mississippi river at this point continues to rise at a rate that is considered alarming by river men in general and especially levee contractors, who have filed bonds to complete work at a given time. The time named has almost expired, but the excessive rains causing an unprecedentedly high stage of water for this season of the year, has operated against levee work. As a result there are several breaks in the lower levees left from last year's spring floods, which it seems will be impossible to remedy before the March and April freshets, unless there should intervene thirty or more days of clear weather. The danger line at Memphis is thirty-three feet. This morning the gauge reads thirty feet, showing a rise of 2.2 feet in twelve hours, with a continued rise predicted. Plantation owners in the Delta country are thoroughly alarmed, but there is no immediate danger to life or property.

NIAGARA IN A RAGE.

The Storm Causes a Scene of Wild Grandeur at the Falls.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—A special to the News from Niagara Falls says:

"The Niagara river was in a rage last night, owing to the heavy western gale, which prevailed for twenty-four hours. The water rose in the gorge about twenty-five feet. It swept over the Maid of the Mist docks and sheds and carried off boats, boat houses, lumber and pulp wood in large quantities. The scene looking on the American and Canadian rapids above the falls, was a wild one. Bath Island, Lena Island and part of the Three Sisters were submerged, and considerable damage was done to the state property.

The greatest damage was done down the gorge, where sections of the gorge road were undermined and swept away. Boats, boathouses and docks on the lower river were swept away. Tonawanda creek overflowed its banks and forced the water down the Erie canal until it overflowed, causing considerable damage.

FIRE BUGS' WORK.

Four Conflagrations Do Great Damage at Mahoney City, Pa.

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., Jan. 24.—Four fires, three of which are believed to have been of incendiary origin, occurred here last night. Shortly before midnight the Daily Record office was partially destroyed. Loss, $2,500. A few hours later the Eagle hoosiery mill, operated by Jones & Johnson, and a dwelling near by occupied by Jacob Fritz and several freight cars of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company were destroyed. The mill owners. loss, $25,000; insurance small. Fritz's loss is $1,500. About the same time, in another part of the city, a big double frame building, occupied by Peter E. Eichman as a flour and feed warehouse and stable, was burned to the ground, together with the stock. Loss, $6,000.

BOTH SIDES DETERMINED.

Second Week of the Cotton Mill Strike Opens With No Change.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The second week of the big cotton mill strike opens at the principal centers, with both sides apparently as determined to hold out as the inauguration of the contest. No attempt was made to open the gates of the big corporation mills at New Bedford, Biddeford or Lewiston. At New Bedford and Biddeford, the business men appear to be more anxious regarding the future than either mill owners or operatives, and many small dealers are feeling the loss of trade severely. Many operative are leaving, some for their homes in the provinces and others to seek employment in other mill centers.

A NOBLE'S DISGRACE.

Lord William Neville Arrested and Charged With Fraud.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Lord William Neville, fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavenny, was arrested today and taken to the Bow street police court charged with fraud in connection with the suit of Sam Lewis, the money lender, against Spencer Clay, an officer of the guards, to recover £11,113 due on two promissory notes cashed for the prisoner.

During the trial of the suit of Lewis vs. Clay, in November last, the counsel for the defendant alleged that the endorsements of the notes were secured by trickery. The jury found that Clay was a victim of misplaced confidence, and judgment was given to the effect that Clay was not bound by signatures.

Tea the Curse of Thibet.

The Times of India declares that tea drinking is the curse of Thibet. "The people," it says, "have such an insatiable craving for the beverage that they will sell their houses, their flocks, their very children, to procure it. If ever an apostle appears in Thibet he will have to preach a crusade in favor of whisky drinking in order to wean the inhabitants from the national vice."

Electric Lights Aid Singers.

Singers, actors and public speakers, since the introduction of the electric light, have less trouble with their voices and are less likely to catch cold; their throats are not so parched and feel better. This is due to the air not being vitiated and the temperature more even.

River Nile Not Destructive.

The River Nile has its rises, but those that do mischief are not frequent. During the last 1,000 years the Nile, that of 1829, when 30,000 people were drowned.

CABINET BOOKCASES.

CONVENIENCE OF THIS TYPE OF COMBINATION FURNITURE.

Especially Adapted to the Requirements of Small Houses, but Useful Everywhere. Secretary and Bookcase In One—Protection Afforded by Doors and Curtains.

The gentle art of reading and writing have been bracketed together from time immemorial. To serve the train with equal favor the joiner of mediæval days devised crude desks whereon the scribe could write and draw his illuminated manuscripts and wherein, as well, could be stored his vellum bound tomes and rolls of parchment.

Reading and writing accommodation is jointly provided for at the present time in the secretary bookcase. Then we have a most convenient desk on one side, with drawers below and shelf room above, while on the other side is arranged an inclosed bookcase within easy reach of the writer. This type of combination furniture has much to recommend it. In point of appearance it is manifestly superior to the more ordinary kind of library cabinet work, while the advantage of bringing books and writing materials into one piece of furniture must be at once evident.

In small libraries bookshelves fitted in the recesses on either side of the fireplace form a well worn but effective method of providing plentiful accommodation for a quantity of books. In smaller houses, however, where there is no library, some form of pretty cabinet bookcase is sure to be welcome. The little article, for instance, which is commonly known as the cabinet bookcase is not an inelegant piece of furniture in a drawing room, while its usefulness as a receptacle for books is much appreciated. Thus it is no very venturesome prognostication to declare that cabinet bookcases will in the near future rank with and perhaps outvie the more aristocratic but less useful cabinet for the display of china and other artistic odds and ends merely. The cabinet bookcase is, as a rule, abundantly "broken up" in design, and ample facility is afforded thereby for the showing of the most beautiful ornaments in the owner's possession.

The door which incloses the china cupboard of this cabinet bookcase is intended to be glazed with leaded glass. A small silk curtain is suggested as a suitable finish to the bookshelf compartment at the side. The need for bookshelves with doors or curtains is too well known to require emphasis, while the security such protection as doors gives against interference at the hands of unauthorized persons is a sufficient reason in itself to warrant their employment.

Baby's Bath Blanket.

A pretty blanket, either for the bath or for a carriage afghan, may be made of double Germantown wool in white and blue or white and pink by following these directions from Good Housekeeping:

With a coarse crochet hook make a long chain and work in single crochet, taking up only the back loop of the stitch to give a ridged effect. At the seventh stitch of the chain put in two stitches, and at the fourteenth skip a stitch and so on throughout. This alternate widening and narrowing make a series of vandykes which are very handsome. Three ridges of white and three of the color alternating look well, and no fringe is necessary. This work is easy and pleasant and quickly done.

If the workers prefer knitting to crochet, a similar blanket may be made on ordinary wooden needles by knitting the body of the blanket of white and having two or three narrow rows of the color at top or bottom. In changing from color to white and back again put the thread over the needle and knot two stitches together throughout the row. This does away with a right and wrong side and makes a row of loops which are quite ornamental.

DRESS AND FASHION.

Modes of the Moment—Rumors of Changes to Come.

Furs are very much to the fore, being used as linings, trimmings and for whole garments. The variety in fur novelties is greater than at any previous season. The furriers have provided all sorts of fur wraps, including the usual jacket, pouched blouses, the long pelisse, storm capes and little shoulder capes. Generally speaking, the muffs are medium in size, but there are directoires and Marie Antoinettes, which are so large and softly built as to be capacious enough to almost lose one's elbows in. These muffs are also made up of velvet and trimmed with not a few heads and many tails, interspersed with frills and bows. Boas are exceedingly pretty with numbers of bushy tails and heads fastening under the chin, while others have ribbons or velvet bows intermingled. The short fur boa is the newest and smartest affair and the most becoming.

Fashion's new aims as evinced by the dressmaker's productions, are in the direction of clinging skirts, close sleeves, a narrow back, long waist and low bust, all of which give to the form quite a new shape. The latest cut in skirts is the skin circular flounce, which widens into one with the back breadth and is stitched on to the apron shaped top in front and at the sides. Braiding or bands may cover this seam.

In cloth gowns the latest development is a combination of cloth in two shades of the same color. Velvet sleeves are a feature of other new cloth gowns. All cloth gowns, by the way, show a greater amount of trimming than heretofore displayed. Fancy waists, quite unlike the skirts, certainly have lost none of their former popularity, and rumor tells us that they will come to the front with renewed favor when the spring fashions appear. Indeed, dressmakers and tailors have agreed that no costume is complete unless its skirt is accompanied by two or more waists.

Spring fashions are already being talked about, and sundry rumors are in the air as to changes likely to come with the opening buds. It is almost certain that sleeves will be small and denuded of the puff at the top. The Russian blouse, we are assured, is to make way for a new but equally pretty coat. From Paris comes the news that the becoming neckwear of the present season must give way to a severely plain neck fluish. Coming back to the present, dinner gowns are quite elaborate. Trains of moderate length are in order, and the sleeves, which are long, are frequently made of shirred net or lace.

The bustle is an accomplished fact. It is already here in modest proportions and is welcomed by tall, slender women. It is claimed that there is already considerable demand for these small bustles. As at present worn the bustle as a rule consists of a small plaiting of horsehair, some of two narrow plaitings, only large enough to fit into the hollow of a woman's back. Some of these bustles, however, are made with hip pads attached, and then again the hip pads can be purchased separately.

ALICE VARNUM.

Sirup For Sore Throat.

A soothing preparation for an ordinary sore throat is a lemonade made without the addition of water. Grate the rind from one and squeeze the juice from 2 lemons over about 2 heaping teaspoonfuls of sugar. Be very careful to grate only the yellow, as the white gives a bitter flavor. Add the juice and grated rind of an orange, a blood orange making it even more delicious. Let this stand 10 or 15 minutes, and then strain through a cloth. The result is a sirup with a refreshing and delicious taste. More sugar can be used, but the sourer the mixture is the better it assuages the thirst or irritation in the throat.

Snow Pudding.

Soak half a box of gelatin in a cup of cold water for one hour, then add a cup of boiling water and 2 small cups of sugar and stir until dissolved. Add the juice from 2 large lemons. Beat the whites of 3 eggs to a stiff froth. When the gelatin mixture is cold and begins to thicken, stir the eggs in, beating the mixture very hard and until it will just pour. The dish containing the mixture should stand in a pan of ice water, and it will congeal more quickly. Turn into a wet mold and stand in a cold place. When serving this pudding, pour around the form a boiled custard flavored with vanilla.

Salted Almonds.

Place, say, half a pound of good butter in a saucepan. Have ready a pound of blanched Valencia almonds (sweet). Put them into the melted butter and stir them until they assume a light brown color; then take them out and allow the butter to just drain off them; then turn them on to dry salt and well roll them in it; then sift them out and set them to cool and dry. The butter must be hot when the almonds are added or they will be tough. Salted peanuts are having quite a run now. They may be prepared in the same manner as the almonds.—Good Housekeeping.

Things Told by Others.

Hot instead of cold milk added while potatoes are being mashed keeps them warm for the table and insures the quantity left over from souring.

While maple sugar is new it will be found that grated it serves as a most delicious hard sauce for hot puddings.

A tablespoonful of vinegar added to the water in which fish is boiled will make the flesh firmer and improve its flavor.

The yolk of an egg well beaten is a very good substitute for cream in coffee and will answer for three cups.

New irons, such as sad irons, frying pans or waffle irons, should be heated slowly, or they will be likely to crack.

For tired feet put a handful of common salt into four quarts of hot water. Place the feet in the water while it is hot as can be borne. Then rub the feet dry with a rough towel.

A piece of narrow webbing, such as is used for holding furniture springs in place, sewed upon the under edge of rugs, will prevent the corners from curling.

No Harm Done.

Symptoms.

It was decided to have a reunion of the old Emerald club, which was one of the most popular clubs of 1894.

Miss Eva Bowser entertained the Violet club and her friends at her home on Friday evening. The features of the evening consisted of a Marshmallow bake and several contests in which Miss Emilie Wick and Louis Koch were victorious and were awarded first prizes. The guests after partaking of a delicious repast departed for their homes in the wee sma' hours.

W. H. Blase, formerly of this city, was one of the railroad ticket brokers indicted in Chicago last week. It is claimed that W. H. Blase & Co., conducted one of the biggest ticket swindles ever known to railroads. All the railways centering in Chicago are interested in the prosecution of the firm, who, it is alleged, have made thousands of dollars fraudulently during the last few years.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune Sunday printed a nice complimentary notice of the recent Elks meeting held in this city. The paper printed a likeness of Frank S. Lightfoot, exalted ruler—at least Mr. Lightfoot's name was printed under the cut, which did not resemble him very much. John P. Brennan, of the Cincinnati Eleven O'Clock Toast, does the Elk column for the Commercial-Tribune.

Frank A. Manuel, the popular mail carrier, has resigned his position with Uncle Sam on account of poor health. He will go to California and remain some time in the hope of fully recuperating. Mr. Manuel was one of the best liked carriers on the force and residents on his route who have listened every morning for his cheery whistle will wish him a speedy return to complete health. George Solliday, who has been an extra carrier, will succeed Mr. Manuel.

Evangelistic services at the Trinity M. E. church are increasing in interest hourly. The spiritual tide is rising; three great meetings yesterday, house crowded. Many gave evidence that they have passed from death unto life. Mr. Z. Nye will still assist the pastor, Rev. E. F. Albertson, in this great work every night this week. Come over unto Macedonia and help us. Bring your unconverted friends with you and we will do them good.

City Bacteriologist L. P. Drayer reports that there are no new cases of scarlet fever or diphtheria in the city, but that measles are still epidemic. He is kept busy signing permits for children to go back to school. No child is allowed to attend school if any member of the family is suffering with measles and each morning every teacher in the public schools makes inquiry to find out whether any new cases are prevalent in the families of children who attend the schools. In this manner the board of health hopes to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Sweringen attended him and says he will be out in a few days.

AT THE JAIL.

Impressive Services Conducted There Yesterday by Z. Nye.

Miss Dr. Stemen having previously sent word that no services would be held owing to her not being able to be there, Mr. Nye felt that the desolate condition into which these unfortunate men had fallen needed help and could not afford to be neglected.

The practical talk brought tears to many dishearted ones and eternity alone will reveal what has been accomplished.

Ten men, some bathed in tears asked prayers. As Jesus Christ was presented to them, ready and willing to help and save. Why not have services every Sunday? Remember your Savior's words. "Inasmuch as you have done it unto them, the least of these my brethern you have done it unto Me."

THE BIG STORM.

Much Damage Done to Small Buildings and Fences.

Telegraph Wires on all the Railroads Were Crippled--Signs Blown to the Ground.

For about five hours Sunday morning Fort Wayne was visited by the hardest wind storm it has known in many years. The wind commenced to blow about 1 o'clock a. m., only a short time after the rain ceased to fall. The storm grew in volume until daylight when it was snowing and persons who were on the street could scarcely travel against the biting wind and snow. The storm was general, too, for reports along all the railroads indicated that all of Northern Indiana was suffering. In this city and county the only damage reported was to small buildings, fences, trees and signs. All over the city signs were blown to the ground. The wind was from the southwest and the biggest damage was, therefore, on the east and west streets. Many citizens reported that their residences were shaken as if by a small earthquake. The exact amount of damage is hard to state, but the greatest was possibly to telegraph wires, which were reported crippled on all the railroads.

A GREAT FLOOD

Threatens Mississippi and Ohio River Territory.

All Hopes of Falling Waters Vanish.

Preparing to Meet the Rise or Move to High Lands.

Storms Rage Fiercely in All Countries Tributary to the Great Father of Waters.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 25.—The Mississippi river, will, in all probability reach the danger line, thirty-three feet, by Friday morning. Since yesterday there has been a rise of one foot, the gauge reading this morning thirty-one feet. Should the water reach what is termed the danger line here, no harm would result to the city, as Memphis is situated on a high bluff. The high stage of the rise would injure and retard levee work in progress in the low lands to the southward and prevent the repairs to breaks caused by last season's flood. Such work is being pushed as rapidly as is possible under the prevailing conditions, and with double working forces and good weather the desired end may be attained. There was a heavy rain fall here about last night. Clear and a big drop in the temperature is predicted, which is sufficient to freeze small streams and may result advantageously.

ON THE OHIO.

The Waters Are Rising an Inch an Hour.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 25.—All the hopes of a falling river today were dashed when at 3 a. m. rain began to fall. At 8 o'clock there was thunder and lightning with a heavy down-pour of sleet, hail and rain of short duration. At 10 o'clock another heavy fall of rain set in and it was certain that all the tributaries would be pouring into the Ohio. The river had been stationary at about fifty feet four inches all night, but at 10 o'clock it had reached fifty feet seven inches and was still rising. At Ripley it was rising today an inch and a half an hour. Rain was falling. At Portsmouths forty-two hundreths of an inch of rain fell during the night and it was still raining. The river was forty-five feet seven inches, rising an inch per hour.

MANY STORMS.

Wind, Rain and Snow Follow Each Other Quickly.

OTUMWA, Iowa, Jan. 25.—A snow storm and blizzard, far worse than Saturday's, which was the worst in years, is raging here. Since daylight a foot of snow has fallen and a heavy norther is drifting it badly. The storm increased in severity about noon. Street cars were abandoned and trains are late. Not a wheel will be moving by night if the storm continues. Business is at a standstill. The schools are all closed on account of the storm.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 25.—A wet stow fell throughout the southwest last night covering the ground to a depth of a foot. It was followed by freezing weather which caked the snow on telephone and telegraph wires with a result that communication with many points out of Kansas City has been absolutely stopped, while other points were lost for hours at times. No serious delay to trains has yet been reported.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 25.—Rain that began to fall here last night turned to snow at 3 o'clock this morning. The fall from that hour until 9 o'clock was three inches. Railroad trains are delayed and street railway traffic has been demoralized all day. Many telegraph and telephone wires are down.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—A terriffic thunder storm raged for an hour or more in this vicinity at 3 a. m. The sky cleared after a time shortly after daybreak, but the wind continued to blow. It increased in intensity until at 10:45 a. m. the weather bureau officials reported a velocity of sixty-three miles an hour had been gained. August Weymer was blown off the Shields building and died in ten minutes from his injuries. A woman, name unknown, is reported lying dead in some debris at 3840 Laclevе avenue, and a boy was killed by being blown from a porch roof in another part of the city. It is apparently a straight blow and not a tornado.

BICYCLE RACE.

Three of the Contestants Withdraw From the Track.

Miller, the Champion of the Madison Square Garden Race, Falls and is Crippled.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 25.—Nine of the twelve cyclers who started in the seventy-two hour bicycle race at Exposition hall yesterday, came on the track at noon today, when the second day's racing began. Miller, who won the big race in New York, fell off his wheel last night and sprained his back. He was unable to return to the track today and he was withdrawn from the race. Stewart and Repine are also out. The attendance this afternoon was rather slim. Score at 1 p. m.: Waller, 255 miles, 3 laps; Elkes, 255 miles, 3 laps; Schinneer, 253 miles, 10 laps; Hall, 250 miles, 9 laps; Walters, 248 miles, 2 laps: Gannon, 222 miles, 10 laps; Dench, 221 miles, 4 laps; Henshaw, 214 miles, 5 laps; Ruckel, 201 miles, 1 lap.

DEATH IN FLAMES.

Fearful Holocaust in Spokane Falls.

The List of Victims Believed to Have Reached the Appalling Number of Fifty.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 25.—A fire, in which the loss will run up to $400,000 worth of property and at the very least five lives were lost, took place last night.

The Great Eastern block, at the corner of Post street and Riverside avenue, six stories in height and constructed of brick, caught fire about 11:45 p. m. and in three hours was totally demolished.

All of the upper two floors and part of the third floor were used for lodging purposes and at least 150 people were asleep in the building when the fire started. While most of them escaped with only their clothes, it is thought a number perished.

LOSS OF LIFE MAY BE GREAT.

What makes the horror greater is that no one knows who is still imprisoned. As the people were removed from the burning structure or escaped themselves, they sought places of safety. The last out of the upper floors report forms lying in the hall and women shrieking in the flames. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been in the engine room. Mrs. Stark Oliver, wife of Dr. Stark Oliver, who lived on the second floor, says she heard an explosion shortly before the flames appeared. The boiler of the engine may have exploded and caused the fire to start. There is another theory and that is an explosion among chemicals in the basement store of the photographic supply of John W. Graham & Co.

LOSS IS MANY THOUSANDS.

The Great Eastern block was built in 1890 at a cost of $250,000, and was owned by Lewis Levinki, of San Francisco, who carried but $50,000 worth of insurance. On the ground floor of the structure was the establments of the John W. Graham Paper company, stationary supplies, and Skerritt & Donnelly, boots and shoes. Both are total losses. Graham carried a stock worth $60,000, 70 per cent. covered by insurance. The firm of Skerritt & Donnelly had a stock of $75,000, of which $20,000 was covered by insurance. In the offices above there wire big losses on law libraries and fixtures, besides probably still larger losses on furniture and household goods.

APPALLING SCENES.

The fire was a singularly hot one and the fire department was long in getting it under control. Even then the flames rose hundreds of feet in the air as long as two hours after its start. All the hose in the department was brought into use and the stores near by were called upon for all their stocks. Because of the net work of wires surrounding the building it was with the utmost difficulty that the ladders were elevated. While they were going up the people were at the windows, flames and smoke bursting out about them, shrieking. Crowds of people on the streets below shrieked in sympathy with them. Mrs. H. H. G. Davis, of Nebraska City, Neb., fell or jumped from a fifth story window to the cement pavement below. She died at the Sacred Heart hospital two hours later. A thrilling rescue was that of Robert Masson, his wife and their two-year-old son from the fifth floor on the Post street side.

From a fire escape on the fourth floor, seven feet to one side from their window, firemen threw them a rope, which Masson made fast to his bed and came down hand over hand, carrying his boy, Mrs. Masson following. As she hung suspended, far above the ground, the crowd watched with breathless interest. When she was grasped by a fireman, a shout of joy went up.

THE DEAD.

The names of those known to be lost are:

Rose Wilson, aged 18.
Rose Smith, an invalid, aged 20.
Mrs. Davies.

Other bodies are supposed to be in the building, which is too hot yet to enter.

MAINE AT HAVANA.

The Battleship Steams Into the Harbor This Morning.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The battle ship Maine is in Havana harbor. The torpedo boat Dupont, which left Key West at 6 o'clock last evening with the Maine's sailing orders, overhauled the Maine at Dry Tortugas, and delivered the orders for the battle ship to proceed to Havana at once. The Dupont then returned to Key West. She reports that the Maine was about to sail when she left. It is believed at the state department that the Maine entered the harbor at Havana at the earliest hour this morning that the Spanish post regulations permit. No direct report, however, has yet been received from Havana.

GOLD MEN COMMUNE

Currency Convention Meets in Indianapolis.

The Attendance is Unusually Numerous.

Delegates Are Welcomed by Governor Mount.

Governor Shaw, of Iowa, Presides Over the Convention, Which He Opens With a Speech.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 25.—The monetary conference which opened in this city today is the result of a movement started by the Indianapolis board of trade a little more than one year ago. This commercial body took upon itself the inauguration of a movement whose primary purpose was monetary reform. Without any assurance that the object of its endeavors would be realized in a national sense, the board of trade issued invitations to commercial organizations of the central west, which brought together the neuclus on which today's national convention rests.

The cities sending representatives to the first conference were Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus, Grand Rapids, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Louisville, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Toledo. This conference determined to call a general convention of the trade and commercial organizations of the country, to meet in Indianapolis January 12, 1897, to consider the currency question in a non-partisan way. In response to this call there assembled in Indianapolis, on the date named, 300 delegates, representing the business interest of eighty-one cities in twenty-seven states.

THE CURRENCY COMMISSION.

Following the instructions of this convention a committee of eleven was selected to formulate a currency reform plan. After months of evidence and discussion in Washington this committee completed its report which was made January 3. This committee was as follows: Ex-Senator George E. Edmunds, of Vermont; Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, ex-secretary of treasury; C. S. Patterson, of Philadelphia, who was president of the monetary convention last January; J. W. Fries, of Salem, N. C.; T. G. Bush, of Anniston, Ala.; George E. Leighton, of St. Louis; W. B. Dean, of St. Paul; R. S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne; Louis A. Garnett, of San Francisco; Prof. J. L. Laughlin, of Chicago, and Stuyvesant Fish, of New York.

THE PRESENT CONVENTION.

Today's convention, which is much larger than first, was called for the purpose of submitting the plan and securing its adoption. The convention was welcomed to the state by Gov. James A. Mount. Leslie M. Shaw, of Iowa, presided and C. Stuart Patterson submitted the report of the committee of eleven.

In taking charge of the convention Governor Shaw spoke as follows:

"Members of this Convention, Friends of Sound Money, Ladies and Gentlemen: I desire to express to your executive committee my appreciation and gratitude for the distinguished honor of presiding over your deliberations.

"'Peace has her victories no less renowned than war,' and upon no leader of armed battalions has rested a graver duty than that which confronts the men of this generation. One of the hopeful signs of the times as the existence among us of a large body of students of economic questions who at a time of political peril were found willing to make any sacrifice, to break allegiance with any affiliations, and even to part company with all former friends and comrades in political faith for the sake of national honor, and who are now heartily engaged in this effort for the inauguration of a financial policy that shall stand the test and win the respect of the ages. It is well for the state that with many the temporal prosperity and happiness of our people are of far greater moment that are partisan victories. Lord Macauley describes the most favored period of Roman history by saying:

"Then none were for a party.
Then all were for the state.
Then the rich man helped the poor
And the poor man loved the great.'

"I believe, gentlemen, you represent today the nonpartisan purpose as well as the financial sentiment of a very large majority of the American people. Every time the question has been voted upon they have declared for sound money and national honor,

After discussing at considerable length and in consecutive order the different political movements for silver and greenbacks, spoke of the currency plans favored by the monetary conference and the bill prepared by the monetary commission, the necessity for the gold standard and the money issuing functions of the government, Governor Shaw said in conclusion:

"And now, gentlemen, it does not lie with your chairman to discuss details. The fact that the interests at stake in this movement are financial, industrial and commercial will justify no less care than if they were political. The country has learned that capital can not be coerced into activity. It can be invited, but it is extremely shy. When it does venture forth it is only when the coasts are clear and the agitator is at rest.

"That you represent something besides the names your parents gave you will not militate against such recommendations as you may be pleased to submit. Whatever the country may think of the banker, it thinks well of you. Your interests are in common with those of the people generally. The fact that you are more involved than some will only insure greater care. I think it was Colonel Ingersoll who said, 'it requires a great degree of patriotism to induce a man to shoulder a musket in defense of a boarding house.' I would only urge that you be thoughtful, brave and true, and the people will be with you."

A STEP NEARER.

The Operators and Miners May Settle Soon.

Ohio Agrees to Not Allow Differentials to Come in the Way in the Settlement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—The coal miners' and operators' convention drew a step nearer settlement today. Although the scale committee to which all matters before the meeting were referred back, reported an all night's sitting with no agreement, it was stated that Ohio and Pennsylvania operators had practically thrown aside their differences and it remained for Indiana and Illinois operators to do the same. After receiving the scale committee's report a recess was taken to allow a conference of Ohio operators. Upon their re-entering the hall the secretary read the result of their conference which was as follows:

"If all other points at issue in this convention can be settled, Ohio will not allow the question of differentials to stand in the way of a settlement."

President Ratchford suggested that before the whole matter goes back to the scale committee the remaining differences between Indiana and Illinois operators be discussed until the hour of recess. This plan was agreed to and a prolonged debate on the conditions existing between Illinois and Indiana and Ohio followed.

Colonel Read, who operates in both Indiana and Ohio, declared that the competition existing between Indiana and Ohio, which had been raised as a reason why Indiana operators should have a double standard in order to compete with Ohio coal, was nominal, only obtaining in Michigan markets. This was denied by Indiana operators. The outcome of the whole debate was that the Illinois miners and operators agreed to meet and confer over the objections raised by Indiana operators to a scale based on the present system in Illinois.

The result of this conference will be given to the joint scale committee which will in turn report to the joint convention this evening. A spirit of conciliation and fairness seems to pervade the convention and if this spirit is carried into the committee meetings a quick settlement is not entirely out of the question.

A NEW SCHOOL.

The School Board Decides to Erect a New Building

On the Present Site of the Hoagland School.

It Will be Ready for Occupancy in September, 1899,

The Building Will Contain Twelve Rooms and be of Modern Architecture --The Children.

The patrons of the Hoagland school are to have a new school house. This was decided upon at a meeting of the school board held last evening. All the members of the board were present and there was a general discussion as to the best methods to be pursued. It was decided that a new building should be erected to be paid for out of funds received this month and in January and July, 1899. The building will be a twelve room affair and will cost about $25,000. It will be erected on the site of the present building and will be ready for occupancy in September, 1899. The old building will be torn down as soon as the present school term expires.

An important matter for the school board to consider is the disposition of the children who would attend the Hoagland school during the erection of the building. The members believe they have solved the question. Only a portion of the old building will be torn down to begin with and a few rooms will be fixed up and used during the next term for the very smallest children. The children in the highest grades will be sent across the railroad to the Jefferson school. Then the children between these two will be divided up between the Miner, Hanna street and South Wayne schools. The Hanna school is quite crowded at present, but the Holton avenue school building has plenty of room which can be used. Some of the children now attending the Hanna school will be sent to the Holton avenue school to make room for those children who come from the Hoagland school. By following the plan here outlined the board believes it can accommodate all the school children south of the railroad for one year.

One thing is now assured, this is the last year children will have to attend school in the old Hoagland street school building.

The new building will be of modern architecture, and this morning W. P. Cooper, a member of the school board, informed THE SENTINEL that the board understood that all the architects were drawing plans for a building.

The new term in the public schools commences next Monday, January 31. All children who will reach the school age between February and June can attend during this term.

BRITAIN MAY GET IT.

Prospect of John Bull Securing the Chinese Loan.

PEKIN, Jan. 24 (delayed in transmission). — Another loan conference with the Tsung-Li-Yamen has taken place, the latter receiving the Russian representative in the morning and the British minister in the afternoon. It is believed the British minister, Sir Claude M. MacDonald, insists upon the opening of the port of Ta-Lien-Wan, and that Great Britain will not recede from the demand. Whether Great Britain or Russia secures the loan depends upon which brings the greatest pressure. If Great Britian undertakes to protect China against Russia's displeasure, it is believed the loan will be concluded on the terms proposed by Sir Claude M. MacDonald. Germany's lease of Kiao Chou has finally been fixed at ninety-nine years. The Chinese emperor is greatly displeased.

MISS DAISY LEITER TO WED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The engagement of Miss Daisy Leiter and William S. K. Wetmore is acknowledged by their friends, but is not yet formally announced. Their engagement is the most important in the social world thus far of the season.

Miss Leiter is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, of Chicago and Washington. William S. K. Wetmore is the eldest of the two sons of Senator and Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore, of Rhode Island. He is one of the popular members of the Knickerbocker and other fashionable clubs here.

WATSON TO BE CANDIDATE.

Populist Leader of Georgia Slated for the Governorship.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 25.—Thomas E. Watson will be the populist candidate for governor of Georgia. The state convention meets on the 16th of March and a majority of delegates already elected are in favor of Watson for governor. This unanimous verdict has not come to him without some trouble, for Yancy Carter, who, as a state senator, brought about the late judicial investigation, was anxious to secure the nomination. Senator Carter had the advantage of Mr. Watson's positive declaration that he wouldn't accept the nomination, but before the election of delegates began Mr. Watson was induced to reconsider.

PRESIDENT DOLE

Leaves the Windy City for Washington.

He is Accompanied by a Distinguished Party of Americans and a Northwestern Blizzard.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Sanford B. Dole, president of Hawaii, after a visit of two days, left Chicago for Washington today. The president of the island republic went out as he came in, under the wild escort of a northwestern blizzard. The presidential party left by the Baltimore and Ohio, with which company special arrangements had been made for conducting the party to the capital.

The party was in charge of T. W. Cridler, third assistant secretary of state, and Major Heistland, military attache of President McKinley. The party included, besides these gentlemen, President and Mrs. Dole, F. M. Hatch, the Hawaiian minister; Commander Phelps and Major Iaukea, President Dole's secretary. It was the intention of President and Mrs. Dole to visit the art institutes before leaving, but on account of the blinding snow storm, Mrs. Dole who has not been well since her arrival in Chicago, remained at the hotel until train time. President Dole and a distant relative, J. H. Dole, and a vice president of the art institute, spent nearly an hour in the big museum on the Lake front and were then driven to the depot. At 10:30 the train bearing the distinguished party departed for Washington.

AFRAID OF BIG BILLS

Bankers Do Not Trust the $100 Silver Certificates.

One Fort Wayne Bank and a Business Firm Refuse to Change One of These Large Bills.

There is only one certain way to get rid of $100 silver certificates these days and that is to burn them up. There are now in circulation counterfeit $100 silver certificates which are almost perfect, in fact, even bankers do not care to take a chance on these bills, good or bad. This was demonstrated yesterday when Mrs. Futter, wife of the proprietor of the Harmon house barber shop, attempted to get one of the certificates changed. She called at one of the local banks and the cashier refused to cash it. He did not claim it was a counterfeit, but the banker did not care to take the chance. It is almost impossible to distinguish the good from the bad and therefore this bank does not accept any of the bills. The lady then visited Pixley & Co.'s but did not get the bill changed there. She received the bill from a Chicago bank and inasmuch as the business was done through the White bank Mrs. Futter was advised to go there for change. This she did and secured change. The government itself has trouble in distinguishing the counterfeit bills from the good ones and can do so only by soaking them in water. Then they are easily identified.

THE STORM.

Telegraph Service Practically Suspended in the West.

The storm this morning was more severe in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas than it was in this vicinity. At 12 o'clock THE SENTINEL was informed that telegraphic communication with Kansas City was entirely cut off and that only very imperfect connection existed between Chicago and other points in the west, southwest and northwest. As the day advanced the service became more seriously crippled and at this hour, 3 o'clock, communication by wire is limited to the extent that it is practically worthless so far as news gathering is concerned.

This morning at St. Patrick's Catholic church occurred the marriage of Will J. Taylor and Miss Alice Sosenheimer, daughter of C. J. Sosenheimer. Rev. J. F. Delaney performed the ceremony. This evening a reception will be tendered the young people at the home of the bride's parents.

DOES NOT FAVOR IT.

Land Commissioner Opposes Ceding Government Lands to States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Commissioner Hermann, of the general land office, has made an advance report on the bill introduced by Representative King granting and ceding to the state government the public lands within the borders. The commissioner advances many reasons why he believes the proposed cecession would be foreign to the best interests of the people. Probably 200,000,000 acres of public lands have already been given to the states for various purposes and the use they have made of them, he says, indicates that other cecessions would be utilized for revenue only and not for the good of the individual.

The body of the late Rev. Edward Koenig was today conveyed to the grave, followed by scores of vehicles and hundreds of people.

of respect to the deceased priest. The body lay in a handsome casket at the head of the center aisle, the head toward the pulpit, and the well known face could be seen in all parts of the church. Six Knights of St. John in uniform stood guard during the entire service.

Bishop Rademacher was celebrant and almost 100 priests from all the churches in the diocese assisted in the pretty service of the Roman Catholic church. Rev. Hueser, pastor of St. Paul's church at Huntington, delivered the sermon. Rev. Hueser was an old friend of Father Koenig and discoursed on the good qualities of the dead prelate. Although the ceremonies commenced at 9 they were not completed until almost noon, when the body was conveyed to the Catholic cemetery, where it was interred. The hearse was followed to the grave by a long line of vehicles. The services were carried out as printed in THE SENTINEL of yesterday.

BENNER MISSING.

Has Not Been Seen Since Monday Afternoon.

No Reason Assigned for His Strange Disappearance--Last Seen in the West End of the City.

Where is Bert Benner?

This is a question now agitating the minds of his friends and employer. He has been employed by Dallas F. Green, the Arcade jeweler, for about one year and has been a model young man in all the word implies. Yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock Benner put on his hat and left the store without informing Mr. Green where he was going. This was something unusual. He did not return in the afternoon, but Mr. Green did not think much about it until this morning, when the young man, not reporting at the store, Mr. Green made inquiries and learned that he had not been at his boarding house during the night. Benner boarded with Mrs. Scantling at 79 West Main street. Inquiry was made among his friends and one of them stated that about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon he saw Benner near the Van Buren street bridge over the St. Mary's river. Why Benner should go away in such a clandestine manner is a mystery. His work in the jeweler store has been satisfactory, no suspicion points toward him as being guilty of a criminal act, his board bills are paid and there is no accounting for his strange disappearance. Benner's home is near Rome City and he is a brother of the well known pitcher of that name who was given a trial by Manager Cooke last season. It is feared there may be some tragedy connected with his strange disappearance.

The stockholders in the Hartzell Oil and Gas company are happy. Monday morning gas was flowing to a heighth of ten feet from the mouth of their experimental well, and when the well is shot the prospectors have hopes of securing at least enough gas to make the investment profitable. The well is 1,428 feet deep and was drilled through twenty-three feet of Trenton rock. The company is composed of the followlng persons: Allen, John and Warren Hartzell, of New Haven, L. C. Zollinger, H. C. Zollinger, Frank Falker, Will Seidel and Henry Eckert, of this city. The stockholders are holding a meeting today and will decide when to shoot the well. They have leased 3,800 acres near the Hartzell farm, on which is located the present well.

It is not known when Mr. and Mrs. Seibold will return to Fort Wayne.

ONE rule has been laid down for Hope Hall, Mrs. Ballington Booth's home for prisoners, that has never been disregarded—no visitors are allowed. It is the men's private home, and they will not be on exhibition for the curiosity seekers. Of course, their own friends come whenever they wish to. Mrs. Booth has taught them that there is no such word in Hope Hall as "ex-convict." When a man pays his debt to the state the disgraceful "ex" should never accompany him into the outer world.

PLEDGE cards are being used in Switzerland and Germany to check profanity. People go about with the cards in their pockets, and whenever they hear bad language, present one to the swearer to sign. THE estimate is made by Professor Hallock—who has now in charge, for scientific purposes, the deep well near Pittsburg, Pa., which, when completed, will be the deepest known, reaching two miles down into the earth—that the ultimate result of the boring will be of decided geologic and economic interest. According to Professor Hallock's estimate, the temperature of the well at 10,000 feet. its proposed depth, will be 228 deg., and, as at 212 deg. water is converted vapor, he expressed the opinion that the well will afford an ample supply of natural steam that will prove to be the cheapest power available to man.

IN a recent unconventional talk to an audience Joseph Jefferson contrasted Junius Brutus Booth and his son Edwin, with both of whom he had acted. "Both," he said, "were very great actors, surprisingly different in methods, form and beauty, but both powerful. While not so scholarly as his father, Edwin Booth was a more agreeable actor, because personality and grace have so much to do with the effect on the stage, depending on the inimitable." One of Mr. Jefferson's auditors said he had once doubled a character under him in Rip Van Winkle. Mr. Jefferson remembered the circumstances, and remarked that his friend made the best villager and the worst demon he ever saw.

OLD Red Cloud, last of the Sioux chiefs, is dying in his shack on the Ogelalla reservation, in Dakota. He survives all his famous contemporaries. Sitting Bull, Spotted Tail and the rest, as Ulysses survived the chiefs who with him drank delight of battle far on the ringing plains of windy Troy. There is nothing to lament in his departure, and no repinings of his own ought to accompany it. He has long since tsken all the scalps which destiny prescribed for him, and his fame in after-time is assured by a record of successful treachery nowhere surpassed among his kind. It is recorded of him that he was pre-eminent in planning mischief, but was always mysteriously absent when his plans were put into execution. He is likely, however, to be present at his own funeral, when will be furled and folded away the most lurid and poetical appellation which any of his line or tribe have ever worn.

The citizens, headed by the officers of the place, surrounded the mill and took the trespassers into custody. Serious trouble was narrowly averted and for a time the wildest excitement prevailed.

Contractors at Lake Wawasee are arranging to begin extensive improvements at that resort with the opening of spring. The first work will be to cut a wide and deep channel from the lake proper to the Baltimore and Ohio railway station, so that visitors may step from the train to the boats and be carried to all points on the lake. The dredge for this work is now on the ground.

CONFESSES GUILT.

Rev. C. O. Brown Admits That He Sinned.

The Congregational Minister Presents a Confession and Resignation to the Bay Conference, San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—After two years of denials and protestations that he was innocent of the sensational charges brought against him when pastor of the First Congregational church in this city, the Rev. Charles O. Brown has appeared before the Bay conference and withdrawn his former answer to its citation, and confessed that he had not told the truth, and that some of the charges against him were true.

After the confession was read there was a further hearing and a long discussion at the end of which Dr. Brown was unanimously dropped from the Bay conference, but the members extended to the repentent pastor their personal sympathies. In his confession he says he has asked that his name be dropped from the roll of the Chicago association. Rev. Brown's confession which is a typewritten statement of about 1,000 words, does not go into details. It simply admits that he has sinned.

PART OF ACCUSATIONS TRUE.

After withdrawing his former reply to the Bay conference, Dr. Brown says:

"A small part of the accusations against me was true. For any wrong which I have done I have sought forgivenness back of God and man. I had turned utterly and with abhorrence from it long before I was publicly accused. Such were the conditions prevailing in San Francisco, such was the storm that threatened, overcome for the time with unworthy fear. I denied any wrong, lest all should be believed."

Continuing the conference, he says:

"I confessed to the Dubuque and Chicago association that I did them grevious wrongs in accepting fellowship of one and seeking that of the other. I herewith request that my name be dropped from the roll of the Chicago association."

Brown then goes on to say that he hopes his sufferiug may be a lesson of righteousness to others. He declares that he has found in Chicago peace and happiness, except from the tortures of conscience.

CHILD LABOR IN NEW YORK.

Marked Decrease Within a Year Shown by Factory Inspector's Report.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 25.—State Factory Inspector Leary last night submitted the twelfth annual report of his department to the legislature.

The most interesting feature of the paper is that dealing with the improvement that has been made during the last twelve years in the education and protection of children in the state.

The number of children employed in the state has decreased from 2.25 per cent of the total number of workers in 1896 to 1.78 per cent in 1897.

It is noted, too, that there has been a marked falling off in the number of illiterate children employed, and in the number of children under fourteen years of age that are compelled to work.

While the child labor laws of New York are not as rigorous as those of some other states, they are rigorously enforced, and only the best of results have acrued from their operation.

PROMPTED BY JEALOUSY.

Charges Against Lebanon, Ind., Professor Are Treatly Lightly.

LEBANON, Ind., Jan. 25.—County Superintendent Harney has announced his decision as to the charges preferred against Professor Columbus Tansell, principal of the Elizaville schools, by Grace Martin and May Kagey, pupils of the school.

They accused the professor of partiality to other girls of the school and with having instructed his pupils that it was unnecessary to attend church in order to get to Heaven.

Superintendent Harney holds that Professor Tansell had a right to bestow his affections where he pleased, and intimates that the charges are the result of jealousy.

As to the anti-church charge, the evidence showed the statement to have been made during the recess and the pupils were therefore not compelled to take notice of it.

The school is disrupted.

"NO FLOWERS."

The Ante-Suicide Request of Editor George R. Guss.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 25.—Capt. George R. Guss, editor and proprietor of the Chester County Democrat, committed suicide at his home in this city late yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas. Before killing himself he wrote the following note: "Standing on the brink of eternity, I ask the forgivenness of all, as I forgive all. No flowers; no funeral. Good bye. God bless you."

AGAINST FOREIGN LABOR.

Bill in Ohio Legislature Against the Employment of Alien Residents.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 25.—A stringent bill against the employment of unnaturalized foreign labor was introduced in the legislature by Representative N. R. Piper.

It provides that the employer of such labor must report the number and names of such persons to the county commissioners and pay into the county treasury the sum of ten cents per day for each such person so employed.

Failure to make such report and such payments is to be punished by a penalty of $200 fine and indefinite confinement in the county jail.

A PENSION RULING.

The Law Providing for Pensions of Certain Classes of Widows.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Secretary Davis, of the interior department, has rendered a decision holding that there is no law providing a pension for the widows of soldiers who died of disease contracted in the service in time of peace prior to March 4, 1861. The provisions of law pensioning the widows of soldiers whose death has resulted from disability contracted prior to March 4, 1861, apply only to cases where the death cause was incurred or contracted while in the performance of military service, during certain wars specifically named and designated in the several acts granting such pension.

PHILLIPS BROOKS SAID IT.

It Has a World of Meaning to All But the Sick.

To the Sick It Rings Like a Knell to Happiness.

Can You Understand and Appreciate Its Deep Meaning?

Rev. Phillips Brooks said, "The man who knows what it is to act, to work, cries out, 'This alone is to live!'"

How many there are, broken down in health and strength, who would gladly test the truth of the noted divine's words, but who feel themselves unable to work and act. They have lost their health and strength. They are run-down, weak, tired. They go to bed at night fatigued in every limb, feeling that life is hardly worth living; they wake in the morning unrefreshed after a restless night, with dull and aching head, impaired digestion, dispirited, languid and unfit for the day's duties.

Happiness, then, means good health, and if you will follow the advice and example of Mr. L. J. Boardman, of Manchester, N. H., and use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which is the sure restorer of health and strength, you can certainly get well. He says:

"I was troubled a great deal with indigestion. I was in such a condition that I had frequent nose bleeding. The action of the stomach affected the heart, and at one time I was away from my work fifteen days, and under the care of a local physician. I believe that I came near dying.

"Someone recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I have already taken two bottles. It is doing me much good and I am able to be at my work again."

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the grandest restorer of health, the purest blood purifier and the most wonderful nerve builder known. Use it at once, you who need a medicine to give you health, to make you well and strong.

Dr. Greene, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., proprietor of this grand remedy, the most successful physician in curing disease, can be consulted in all cases, absolutely free of charge, personally or by letter.

DREYFUS NOT A SPY.

Baron Von Buelow Catagorically Denies the Alleged Relations.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Baron Von Buelow, minister of foreign affairs, made an important statement in the Reichstag which can hardly be regarded otherwise than as finally disposing of Germany's alleged connection with the Dreyfus affair.

He said he desired to refer to the matter with the greatest caution, lest his action be interpreted as meddling with France's domestic affairs.

He therefore confined himself to declaring that between Dreyfus and any German agents or authorities whatever no relations of any kind had ever existed. He continued:

"I heard the names of Esterhazy and Picquart about three weeks ago for the first time in my life. The letter that the mysterious agent found in the waste basket at the German embassy in Paris exists only in imagination. It never existed in reality. Finally, I may say that the so-called Dreyfus affair has never affected or altered the geniel relations of Germany and France."

BEET SUGAR FACTORY.

Chicago Firm Thinks the Calumet Region Offers Advantages.

CROWN POINT, Ind., Jan. 25.—W. T. Sandford, representing S. E. Gross & Co., of Chicago, was here yesterday figuring on a beet sugar factory in the vicinity of Lansing, on the Indiana-Illinois state line. S. E. Gross & Co. own a large tract of land at that point, and beets of a high quality have been raised there. The money is in readiness, and Mr. Sanford says if suitable arrangements can be made a factory will soon be built. M. T. Hart, of the firm of Miller & Hart, of Chicago, who owns adjoining land, made experiments this fall with sugar beets, and finds the yield about sixteen tons to the acre, and sugar contents above the average. It is thought sugar beets can be successfully raised over all the Calumet region.

A FORT WAYNE BOY.

Edwin Thanhouser Will be Seen Here in "Under the Red Robe."

Many persons in Fort Wayne will well remember Edwin Thanhouser, who was reared in this city and for many years made his home here. These same persons, for the most part, no doubt, have lost track of the young man. Mr. Thanhouser's many friends will be given an opportunity to renew his acquaintanc next Monday evening, at the Masonic Temple theater, on the occasion of the presentation in this city of "Under the Red Robe," a dramatization of Stanley Weyman's thrilling story of the same title. Mr. Thanhouser sustains the comedy role in the play and it is an important part, requiring deft and versatile treatment. He has created a striking characterization and has attracted attention wherever the play has been presented. Mr. Thanhouser is a son of Samuel Thanhouser, for many years a leading merchant in this city and formerly of the firm of Frank & Thanhouser. Thanhouser, senior, removed from this city to the south, and later went west, where he now holds an important post under the government. "Under the Red Robe" is a thrilling story of love, adventure and romance, and singularly rich in dramatic incident and force.

A PLEA FOR GOLD.

Judge R. S. Taylor Speaks for It at Indianapolis.

Fort Wayne Member of the Monetary Commission Makes an Address at Columbia Club Banquet.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—One of the conspicuous features of the present monetary conference in this city was the banquet given last night by the Columbia club. The delegates to the convention were largely in attendance, and the club rooms were unable to afford room for the numbers invited. The greater interest centered in the address of Hon. Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, one of the leading members of the monetary commission which presented a currency reform bill to congress a few days ago.

Judge Taylor was given a most cordial reception and his address aroused profound interest. After discussing the salient features of the bill prepared by the commission, Judge Taylor discussed the political aspect of the proposed currency reform, declaring the republican party must assume the burdens and responsibilities of placing the country on a sound financial basis. In concluding his address he said:

"The republican party is called to face a tremendous responsibility. It espoused the cause of sound money in 1896. Sound money now means the gold standard. We are bound to have either the gold standard or the silver standard. There is no other alternative, and the silver standard for us means all that is unsound and dishonest in money. The pledge of the St. Louis platform in reference to international bimetallism has been performed. We have tried and failed. Senator Wolcott admits the impossibility of the undertaking at this time. The free silverists acknowledge that impossibility, and urge it as an argument why we must go it alone. To a sound money man it is a conclusive demonstration that we must not only keep the gold standard, but strengthen and fortify it against all possibility of assault. In that great work the republican party must lead. The gold democrats are a remnant of Israel, destined, perhaps, to be the seed of a great party to come; but they are too few to carry elections now. There is a great body of independent men who are friends of the cause, but they can do nothing effectively except through the instrumentality of the republican party. Once more the fate of the country is in its hands."

The Mother's Pay Day.

What pay does a hard-working mother of a family receive for her labor at the end of a week? The husband may bring home his regular wages. Some of the children may be old enough to earn theirs. But the mother, what is her pay for her days of toil and often nights of anxiety? Well, she is either paid in love or she isn't paid at all.

The majority of mothers are perfectly satisfied with the simple recompense of loving appreciation. If any mother doesn't receive that much, it's an awful pity.

It's a sad thing when the mother comes down sick with overwork or worry, or because some little weakness or disease has been neglected until it gets to be alarming.

It should never be allowed to get to this point. She ought to be looked after right away. She needs the help of common sense medical treatment. Of course no one medicine will cure everything. A medicine must be specially adapted to its particular purpose.

If the digestive organs or the liver are out of order Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a perfect and scientific remedy. His "Favorite Prescription" is specially devised for weaknesses and diseases of the womanly organs; and it is the most potent remedy for these troubles which has ever been invented.

Where both these conditions exist these two medicines taken alternately constitute a thoroughly scientific course of treatment, which has been marvelously successful with thousands of dyspeptic, debilitated and nervous women.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,'" writes Mrs. Jed Lawrence, South Hero, Grand Isle Co., Vt. "My trouble was female weakness, kidney disease, neuralgia, change of life and had flowing spells. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, seven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and seven small vials of 'Pellets.' The doctors did not help me any. I could not sleep night nor day. I suffered nothing before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. When I began to use them I weighed 100 pounds. Now I weigh 145 pounds. I can now do all my work."

P. C. Liggett Called to a Higher Position.

Will Sell Tickets in the Lake Shore Office at Chicago—Several Accidents—Shop and Rail.

P. C. Liggett will go to Chicago February 1 to assume a position as ticket salesman for the Lake Shore company in the Union depot. This call is very complimentary to the young man, isasmuch as it is an evidence that he possesses ability in that line and enjoys the confidence of his employers to a marked degree. The position which he will soon assume at Chicago is a very desirable one, for which there are always hundreds of applicants whenever it becomes known that there is about to be a vacancy. "Phrot," as his intimate friends call Mr. Liggett, has been Agent E. S. Philley's ticket salesman at this point ever since August, 1896. For five years previous he had been employed in Max Blitz's ticket brokerage office. Mr. Philley says the young man is an expert in his line, being well informed in matters pertaining to his calling. He is, moreover, affable and accommodating, traits of character which are indispensable in the make-up of the successful ticket seller. Mr. Liggett is in receipt of a most complimentary letter from Superintendent Reynolds, of the Fort Wayne branch of the Lake Shore, in reply to his letter notifying him of his (Mr. Liggett's) intention to resign his position here to go to the Chicago office. Mr. Philley said at noon today that the successor to Phrot Liggett had not been selected. It will be some one of the several eligible employes.

THE WABASH.

O. D. Ashley, president of the Wabash, is thus quoted by the Boston Advertiser: We are at present not only doing the largest business in the history of the road since its reorganization in 1889, but a better business even than we expected to do sixty days ago. We shall earn at least $500,000 more net this fiscal year than last year, and the earnings for the six months ended December 31 were the best, as I said before, since 1889. While we paid 6 per cent. on the debenture A bonds in 1890-92, nothing in 1894-95 and 1 per cent. in 1896, and while we shall this year earn a surplus sufficient to pay the interest, it will not be the policy of the management to make such payment as there is a floating debt which must be cared for in the first place. The rate situation has been a disturbing factor in the successful operations of most of our western roads, and I am glad to be able to say that the situation has changed for the better lately. At the present time the western roads depend almost wholly on the transportation of freight to pay their way, while here in the east it is the passenger business which gives the profits to the railroad companies, I anticipate that in the near future the states of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana will have as dense a population as Massachusetts, and when that time comes roads such as the Wabash will be able to pay their fixed charges and all subsequent obligations, including dividends on the last dollar of common stock. It is a common fallacy that American railroads are overburdened with bonded indebtedness and matured capital. At the present time the capitalization of the railroad systems of the United States is $62,000 a mile, while in England it is $240,000 a mile, and yet in the latter country there is returned anywhere from 4 to 5 per cent. on the capital invested. As the bulk of the business of English roads comes from passenger traffic, it can easily be figured how much greater a return our American roads will make on a smaller capitalization as our country increases in population."

STRUCK BY AN ENGINE.

The engine hauling Pennsylvania train No. 7 struck and badly injured a man at the Forty seventh street crossing, in Chicago, last evening. The unfortunate fellow's name was John O'Malay and he sustained a broken leg and arm and a bad cut on the head. The engineer knew he had struck someone and stopped immediately to pick him up. But nobody could be found and the engineer decided that the man had not been severely hurt and was able to get up and walk away. But when the train ran into the depot, the unconscious O'Malay was found lying on the pilot.

HAD A HAND PINCHED.

W. L. Davis, a member of the freight house switching crew, had his right hand caught between the draw bar heads while making a coupling last evening. The member was badly pinched and it was feared at first that Mr. Davis would have to submit to amputation of a portion of the hand, but happily the attending surgeon finds that an operation of that character will not be necessary. News from the young man this morning is to the effect that he is getting along "first rate."

A MACHINIST HURT.

While at work about an engine yesterday Ernest Tagtmeyer, of the Pittsburg machine shop, was struck upon the head by a bolt, which dropped from the top of the boiler upon him. A gash about one and a half inches long was cut in the scalp, which was closed by stitches and plaster. Mr. Tagtmeyer will be unable to work for a few days.

A FIREMAN HURT.

Ed L. Tenney, a Pittsburg fireman, is one of the victims of the late storm. While out on his run last Saturday night he fell off the icy step of his engine and sprained one of his arms so severely that he has been unable to work since.

HIS ARM INJURED.

Louis Rehling, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is taken an enforced lay off. Last evening his right arm was painfully injured by an accidental blow with a hammer in the hands of a shopmate. The injury is not serious.

BRAKEMAN GRADY'S SAD MISHAP.

Brakeman John Grady is lying upon a couch in St. Joseph hospital with injuries which may cripple him for life. Mr. Grady fell off northbound Grand Rapids and Indiana train No. 13, about three miles north of the city last night, while endeavoring to climb from a car to the engine tank. He alighted on the ground outside the rails, but in such a manner that the wheels of one pair of trucks caught and crushed his right foot. Then he turned over into the ditch, where he was soon afterwards discovered by the engineer on the incoming passenger train, No. 8, picked up and brought to the city, thence taken to the hospital, where Dr. E. J. McOscar is attending him. The latter says he will endeavor to save the foot, though the bones were broken and displaced and the ligaments were torn from their fastenings in a bad way. Mr. Grady had his lighted lantern in his hands when he went down. In the fall the globe was shattered, but he managed to keep the flame alive and through this means was able to attract the attention of the engineer on the passenger train. The unfortunate man resides at No. 159 Hanna street.

The pipes for conveying compressed air to the hoisting engines in the Pittsburg car shops were laid from the engine room across Lafayette street today. The system will be complete and in operation in a few days.

The position of traveling engineer on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, which was abolished two years ago, is to be restored, and H. Howell, one of the best engineers on the road, will probably receive the appointment.

The only railway ever built and managed by women is under construction in California. It is called the San Joaquin and Toulumme road, and extends from Stockton, sixty miles to Toulumme. Annie K. Rikert is president of the company.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

NEW STRIKES IN ALASKA.

Returning Gold Hunters Tell of Recent Rich Discoveries.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 25.—The steamer City of Topeka arrived from Alaska yesterday, bringing about forty passengers, two of whom, F. E. G. Berry, of Seattle, and George Barrack, of Colorado Springs, have just returned from the Canadian gold fields. They left on December 13, bringing news of new strikes that are being made on Hunker Creek, the last at the beginning of December, when pans ranging all the way from $2.50 to $7.50 were taken out. Mr. Berry went in to buy claims for a firm of English capitalists and has succeeded in securing some good properties.

TALKED TO THE A. O. U. W.

Interesting Services Conducted at Plymouth Church Sunday Evening.

Sunday evening the auditorium of Plymouth church was filled and the audience overflowed into the lecture room at the third special service that the pastor is now holding on Sunday evenings. The three city lodges of the A. O. U. W. were present in goodly numbers, and fitting memorial addresses were made by E. B. Smith, H. F. France and George L. Ashley upon the the members who had died during last year. G. R. Hench spoke briefly of the history of the order, stating that it was first organized thirty years ago at Meadville, Pa., and that its present membership is now 350,000, being the oldest and strongest fraternal society in the United States. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Ainslie, was upon "Fraternity," or "Brotherhood," as he preferred to call the large spirit of fellowship and social sympathy that came into the world first as an active force through the Gospel of Christ.

He showed many applications of the principle and pointed out the rich rewards that attend those who "bear one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ."

The special music was a feature of the evening. Next Sunday evening the sermon will be to the traveling men.

NOT A FATALITY.

A Curious Law That Seems to Follow Some Persons, Believed to be Divertable.

It has frequently been observed that when a married couple arrive at a point where they have furnished a nice home and after some years of work and economy are just ready to enjoy life, one or perhaps both find that disease of some sort has made its appearance and sadly marred the happy picture.

A little care in the selection of food, during the time one is well and strong will prevent the encroachment of disease, whereas a continuance in the use of improper food and drink is sure to build in disease sooner or later, and by some curious law the demon shows himself just when we are on the point of accomplishing some long cherished plan.

But poor lodgement for disease can be found in the properly fed and nourished man or woman.

Coffee is an insidious foe to some systems, while it does not seem to hurt others.

In cases where palpitation or unpleasant symptoms of heart appear or stomach, head, liver or bowel disturbances, it is almost always traceable to coffee and can be made plain to the user by abandoning coffee ten days to a month and adopting Postum Food Coffee, which will furnish the elements needed by the body and much the same elements as are destroyed in the nerve centers by the use of coffee. People can be happy and can realize their wishes if they will use good reason in their daily habits of food and drink. We take pains with our annuals to see that the food is carefully selected, yet we are likely to seriously maltreat that marvelous bit of machinery said to be made in the likeness and image of Him who planned it all.

Just think a little, that's all.

SOME REASONS WHY!

BECAUSE Stocks must be reduced--Cash is easier invoiced than goods. We sell new goods each season--carrying over old stock don't suit us--nor our customers--are some of the reasons for the deep cuts we are making at our Great Pre-Inventory Cost sale.

BECAUSE Prices are about 20 to 40 per cent. lower than actual value. Every garment is new and up-to-date--the product of America's best makers, are reasons sufficient--it would seem to induce you to join the throng of satisfied purchasers who daily crowd this greatest of all clothing stores.

Finest $18.00 Suits For Only $13.50. | The highest praise we can bestow on these, will not tell all the truth. If you care to save $4.50, come see them.

First Class $10.00 Suits For Only $8.00. | If some thing lower in price is desired, see our $10 Suits which have an $8 cost sale price on them.

These will please you fully.

Fine $18.00 Overcoats For Only $13.50. | After everything good has been said about them, there will still be something left unsaid.

There is nothing to equal them outside the high-class tailor shops--and you would need to take $25.00 there.

CHILD'S SUITS.

$3.00 Suits	$2.25
4.00 Suits	3.00
5.00 Suits	3.75
6.00 Suits	4.50

We have hundreds of them to choose from--and the drop in the prices caused by the cost sale should be an inducement to all mothers, just now to fit the boys out in good shape.

....PANTS...

This is the way the prices look:

$2.00 grade	$1.50
3.00 grade	2.25
4.00 grade	3.00
5.00 grade	3.75

Knee Pants, Shirt Waists & Blouses.

The price power shows its hand here also:

$1.00 grade	75c
75c grade	56c
50c grade	39c

.....UNDERWEAR.....

Stock in this department was so great that many lines still remain unbroken. Others about all gone, but can match up almost anything you want. If we cannot, will make prices so low anyway you'll be glad they don't match.

$1.50 grades, $1.13.--$1.00 grades for 75c.
75c grades for 56c.--50c grades for 39c.

There is a great deal to that anything can come out of the bribery investigation except a condemnation of the state but it will stir things up a bit and the less possibly how much the money was used it is. Assassination Senator Hunt closes.

DON MUNN, the leading naturalist of the Pacific slope, says the animal life of Alaska is very abundant and varied. More birds are born in Alaska, he thinks than in any equal area in the continent, and these include not only strong winged birds but throughout the fine furs that winter in Central America.

NO WEEK passes in these times without the discovery of a new microbe. The whooping cough was yielded up the invisible, but by no means inaudible, little pest responsible for that disease. It is exceedingly small and club-shaped. Only the most powerful microscopes reveal it to the eye. Science has not yet explained how it manages to produce such explosive effects of the vocal organs.

In the appointment to the attorney generalship of the United States of Hon John W Griggs, who resigns the governorship of New Jersey to accept this higher distinction, President McKinley has chosen a man of unblemished private life, of fine abilities, of trained talents for the law and large public experience—and as good a friend as the corporations of this country ever had as legal advisor to a national administration. It is strange, passing strange, that no man is supposed fit to serve the public as the head of the federal department of law unless he has first been a distinguished and faithful servant of the great corporations. Olney, Harmon, McKenna, Griggs—there is a procession not five years long.

GENERAL MILES presents no very dignified military figure running about the country wringing his hands and lamenting that the United States can't fight because totally unprepared for war. The general should take it with more ease. We can quickly get ready for a brush with somebody, if need be. However, there is no present prospect of such need. The trouble with General Miles began when he went abroad last spring to study the conduct of the Graeco-Turkish war and extended his junket to France and Germany, where he saw little generals in command of army corps twice the size of the entire forces under himself, commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States.

EVOLUTION.

Mrs. Lease Occupies Rev. Dixon's Pulpit in New York.

She Declares Hope on the Solution of Social Problems Depends the Destiny of the World

NEW YORK, Jan 24.—Mrs Mary Elizabeth Lease occupied the pulpit of Rev Thomas Dixon of the People's church at the Academy of Music Sunday morning. She discussed the problems which the United States as a nation meets and inquired into their causes.

In part she said:

"We cannot as a nation permit the commercial instinct to dominate without suffering a penalty. We cannot forsake God and permit political dishonesty and legislative corruption without loss to our better selves and life as a nation. As a country we have leaped forward 100 years in less than a quarter of a century; we have grown too fast.

"The tidal wave of discontent which has swept over the whole world is beating at our shores. Civilization is being built on a pyramid of crushed out life.

"The man or woman who would hold a party responsible for this condition is a demagogue.

"He who would hold the trusts and combines responsible for it is a hypocrite who publicly abhors and secretly aspires.

"Our cities are overcrowded and the supply does not equal the demand. There are no new worlds to discover and no new lands to explore. Evolution is presenting its problem, and upon our solution of it rests the destiny of the world. The only method by which social unrest may be eased is by adopting the rule of Christ."

EMINENT VISITORS.

Prospective President of Brazil Will Follow President Dole.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Following the visit of President Dole, of Hawaii, it is not improbable that the prospective president of Brazil will visit the United States sometime between March 1 and November next. The election occurs in March, and the prevailing impression is that Senor Campos Salles, the candidate of the republican party, and an eminent member of that element, will be elected. He has signified the purpose in case of his election of visiting Argentina and other southern republics, and of then coming to the United States for an extended trip. He has travelled widely in Europe and this will be his first visit to the United States.

FOREIGN MEATS.

An Effort Will be Made to Check Their Sale in Scotland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—An effort has been made in Scotland looking to the adoption of some steps to check or regulate the sale of foreign meats in Scotch markets. The fact is reported to the state department by United States Consul Fleming, at Edinburg, who says it is explained by the fact that the butchers buy American beef at nine to twelve cents per pound and sell it at the same price as the Scotch beef, for which they pay twelve cents per pound. The directors of the Scotish chamber of commerce have taken the initiative in opposing the trade.

BROTHER'S SLAYER.

George Willard Clark Confesses to Murder.

The Patricide Tells the Story of a Foul Crime—The Murdered Man's Career.

NAPA, Cal., Jan 24.—George Willard Clark has confessed that he is the murderer of his brother, W. A. Clark, at St. Helena, on last Thursday. Mrs Lavina Clark was married to Wm A Clark more than twenty years ago in Clay county, Ill. She is 49 years old, and the mother of seven children. George W. Clark, the murderer, became intimate with her thirteen or fourteen years ago. Their relations continued while the husband was in California making a home for her, and during that time a child was born of which George Clark was the father.

After coming to California to live and near St. Helena, Napa county, Mrs Clark professed Christianity and attempted to break off relations with her brother-in-law, but he persisted in his attentions. At times he asked her if she would live with him in case of her husband's death. Last month he put strychnine in his brother's coffee on two occasions but the brother detected the poison and had the coffee analyzed by a druggist. Then on Thursday morning George Clark lay in wait for his brother and shot him while he was preparing breakfast in the kitchen of his St. Helena home.

TAX FERRETING ILLEGAL.

Interesting Decision by Judge Palmer, in Jasper County.

RENSSELAER, Ind., Jan. 24.—The employment of tax ferrets has been held illegal by Judge Palmer, in the Jasper circuit court. This decision, if sustained by the supreme court, will settle an interesting and much controverted question in this state. Last September the commissioners of Jasper county entered into a contract with Fleener and Carnahan, by which the latter were to search all the records of the county to discover property not returned for taxes, and were to receive one-half of all the taxes reported by them and collected by the county.

In November Judge Thompson issued an order temporarily restraining the board from paying anything for services under this contract.

A new contract was then made, to the effect that Fleener and Carnahan were to make certain books of reference for the county, giving a list of names of taxpayers, with mortgages belonging to each, and also the amount given in by each for assessment. Under this contract they were likewise to receive 50 per cent of all taxes reported by them and collected by the county. Judge Thompson issued a second restraining order. A change of venue was then taken to Judge Palmer. Fleener and Carnahan demurred. The court went into a full discussion of the tax ferret question, granted a permanent injunction, and declared the contracts void.

REV. DR. TALMAGE WEDS.

Bride Is Mrs. Charles Collier, Well Known in Pittsburg Society Circles.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 24.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., was married in Allegheny, Saturday, to Mrs. Charles Collier (nee McCutcheon), a widow.

The marriage is the culmination of a brief courtship and engagement and tinged with romance. The arrangements for the nuptials were conducted with the greatest of secrecy.

Dr. Talmage and his bride met for the first time last summer in New York. They were both guests at the summer home of Rev. Dr. J. R. Paxton. Dr. Talmage is many years Mrs. Collier's senior, but friends say it was a case of love at first sight.

The couple saw a great deal of each other while Mrs. Collier was in the east. When the summer party broke up and it was time for the guests to bid each other farewell, there was a bond stronger than friendship between Dr. Talmage and Mrs. Collier. They parted with the mutual understanding that a correspondence was to be kept up—at least, that is what an intimate friend said after the wedding.

Affairs of the Indiana Farmers' Loan Association.

Resumption of the Trial in Equity Before Judge O'Rourke—Other News of the Courts.

Before Judge O'Rourke sitting in chancery, the affairs of the defunct Indiana Farmers' Loan association were brought forward for trial today. The cause rests on a petition to the court for instructions to the receiver with respect to the standing of certain creditors of the defunct concern.

All interests have been brought together in the present trial and its results will be a more prompt settlement of the vexed affairs of the loan company. Several attorneys from out of town are present to represent the claims of clients abroad.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

George W. Byers, who was arrested Saturday on a charge of embezzlement, was arraigned before Justice Bullerman today. He waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court under bonds of $400. It is alleged that Byers was the guardian of Jessie Roberts, a minor, and when his report was called for he had not the necessary money to make settlement, and the deficiency was made good by his bondsman, George W Mills, who swore to the affidavit charging Byers with embezzlement.

"COIN, NOT GOLD"

Is Senator Turpie's Idea of Legal Money.

He Addresses the Senate Upon the Teller Resolution—The Doings of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—When the Teller resolution was laid before the senate today, Mr. Turpie, of Indiana, addressed that body in support of the resolution. "I shall vote for the resolution willingly," he began. "I think its introduction timely and opportune and especially when we are confronted by a measure which contemplates an increase of the public debt by $300,000,000 or $400,000,000. It is, indeed, proper that we should repeat the declaration that our obligations are payable in coin, not in gold."

In the house Mr. Boutelle, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, reported back the two resolutions calling on the secretary of the navy for information as to the suitability of sites for an armor plate factory in the south, with the recommendation that they lie on the table. The report called attention to the fact that invitations had been issued for sealed proposals for the land, buildings and machinery for a government armor plate factory which would be opened January 23, 1898, and that the secretary, when these were opened, would send a special report to congress containing all information.

In view of the fact that the secretary was proceeding to carry out the law, Mr. Boutelle said he thought it necessary to call on the secretary for information, which he would furnish. The first resolution was laid upon the table without division, but Mr. Underwood, democrat, of Alabama, insisted upon a division upon his resolution calling upon the secretary for the information obtained by the armor plate board as to the advantages of southern places as locations for an armor plate plant, but by a vote of 107 to 107 the resolution was tabled.

Mr. Curtis then claimed the day for the business from the District of Columbia committee.

FOR A STREET FAIR.

Meeting of Business Men Tuesday Afternoon to Discuss the Project.

There is a growing sentiment among a large number of leading business men that a good thing for Fort Wayne will be a street fair to be held some time in the early autumn, probably the first part of October. A meeting of business men will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 and the project will be discussed. Business men will be notified privately of the place of meeting. Ben Lehman, the clothing merchant, is active in the matter.

TALK OF THE DRAFT.

Magnates of Eastern and Western Leagues Have a Joint Conference.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Among the members of the eastern and western base ball leagues here to attend a meeting of delegates of the two bodies today are President Powers, President Draper, of the Providence club; Bogart, of Wilkesbarre, and Kuntch, of Syracuse, of the eastern league; President Johnson, Chas. Comiskey, of St. Paul, and Vanderneck, of Detroit. In addition to the amendment to the drafting system as suggested by the National league, the questions of playing a series of inter-league championship games, and the drafting of players from the Eastern league by National league clubs for the Western league or vice versa, will be considered. President Draper, of Providence, says that while the two minor leagues cannot draft each other's players, it is possible for the National league to draft a player from one league and transfer him to the other. He says that it is his belief that the Washington club has drafted Catcher Dixon of his club for a Western league club, either Detroit or Minneapolis.

Map 1,500 Years Old.

A map of Jerusalem in mosaic, over 1,500 years old, has been found at Madaba, Palestine. It was discovered in uncovering the ruins of an old church about to be rebuilt. The entire pavement of the old church was a mosaic map of Palestine, many parts of which had been worn away or broken off. That part containing the city of Jerusalem was more or less perfect, only a part of the walls at the southeast corner being missing.

Mechanic Buried in Westminster.

Notwithstanding all that Britain owes to mechanics, there is but one workman who received the highest funeral honors of being buried in Westminster abbey, and that was George Graham, a famous scientific instrument maker of his day, who in 1700 invented the dead-beat escapement in clocks. Graham's obsequies were attended by the Royal society in a body.

The Telephone Ear.

The telephone ear, from which so many telephone operators suffer, is a more dangerous affliction in Kentucky than it is in New York, according to a dispatch from Owensboro, which says that Mrs. Maggie Brandon called at the central office in the afternoon and cowhided an operator for alleged disclosure of conversation over the wire.—New York Sun.

Novel Antiburglar Device.

In a report from Leipsic, Germany, Consul Warner describes a novel German anti-burglar device. This consists of flexible safety curtains made of hardened steel tubes properly connected, which are invulnerable to the ordinary burglar's tools, for the reason that the tubes revolve freely and the centerbit or other tool can find no hold.

The World's Newspaper Output.

The total number of copies of newspapers printed throughout the world in one year is 12,000,000,000. To print these requires 781,240 tons of paper, or 1,562,480,000 pounds, while it would take the fastest press in London 333 years to print a single year's edition, which would produce a stack of papers fifty miles high.

How Cactus Whisky Is Made.

The Apaches of southern Arizona make whiky from the sap of a small species of cactus. They cut out the hearts of the plants, resembling little cabbages, and in the cup-shaped receptables left behind the sap accumulates. From this sap they distill the famous mescal, which drives those who drink it to sheer madness.

Portable Elevator.

A handy portable elevator for raising packages from wagons to the second story of a building has a supporting ladder carrying a sliding frame, which is raised and lowered by a derrick mounted under the ladder, an adjustable platform being mounted on the frame, which can be set level when the ladder is at any angle.

Couldn't Spit in Church.

A bishop of a church conference in Georgia told those delegates who used tobacco not to expectorate on the floor or on the handsome new carpet, which had recently been put down. He told them that if they must chew tobacco to go outside and they would find a nice new curbstone and plenty of fresh sand to expectorate upon, or they could bring their cuspidores and in case of an emergency they could use their hats.

MRS. PETERSON'S STORY.

I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb.

The doctor wanted me to take treatments, but I had just begun taking Mrs Pinkham's Compound, and my husband said I had better wait and see how much good that would do me. I was so sick when I began with her medicine, I could hardly be on my feet. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything.

I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me.—Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa.

When Flowers Cease to Smell.

It is claimed that the perfume of flowers disappears as soon as the starch in the petals is exhausted, and that it is said be restored by placing the flowers in a solution of sugar when the formation of starch and the emission of fragrance will be at once resumed.

American and English Polo.

Polo as it is now played in the country approaches very closely to the English standard. At Hurlingham and Long Island the hooking of mallets is allowed, something Americn players do not seem inclined to tolerate. The outside rule also differs, but otherwise polo in Europe and polo in America are one and the same.

Electric Mower.

Electricity is used to destroy weeds in a new device which can be used on an ordinary mowing machine, one wire of the dynamo being attached to the cutting bar and the other grounded through one of the wheels, so that if the weeds are cut when damp a current of electricity enters each root and burns it as the top is cut.

Cheap Fire Extinguishers.

A simple fire extinguisher can be made at very little cost. If twenty pounds of common salt and ten pounds of sal ammoniac are dissolved in seven gallons of water and the mixture afterward put into quart bottles of thin glass the grenades so made will be found very efficient for extinguishing small outbreaks of fire. The bottles must be tightly corked and sealed so as to prevent evaporation and when a fire occurs they must be thrown in or near the flames so as to break and thus liberate the gas contained to effect the desired object.

NEW CHICAGO LINE.

The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf Will Go There.

Its Northern Terminal on Lake Michigan and Its Southern Terminal on the Gulf of Mexico.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—It is announced here that arrangements by which the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad will secure an entrance into Chicago have been all but completed. The entrance will be gained over the Burlington tracks out of Quincy, Ill. The Pittsburg and Gulf has already leased the right to use the Burlington depot and terminals at Quincy and the Burlington bridge across the Mississippi river at Quincy. A contract for the use of the Burlington tracks by the Pittsburg and Gulf for freight and passenger traffic between Quincy and Chicago has been drawn up and is under consideration by Stillwell, General Manager Gilham and the attorneys of the Pittsburg and Gulf. Officials of both roads say the deal has not been consummated, but it is almost certain that it will go through. Branch lines now building and near completion will give the Gulf road its entrance to Quincy and the lines, with another branch, the Omaha, Kansas City and Eastern, on which trains are now running between Quincy and Omaha, will complete the company's line from Omaha to the Gulf. If the pending contract with the Burlington can be effected, the Pittsburg and Gulf will also inaugurate through train service from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico to Port Arthur. A storm has been raised among Kansas City shippers by the announcement of the Pittsburg and Gulf officials that they propose making when their lines shall be completed, the same rates on shipments from New Orleans and the Gulf to Omaha as are made to Kansas City. In other words that freight will be hauled through Kansas City and 200 miles further north at Kansas City rates. Omaha jobbers are correspondingly elated.

THE STORM DAMAGES.

Saturday night's storm played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires along some of the railways in this territory. At Chicago the Pennsylvania's telegraph wires were down for a distance of six squares, and at the St. Mary's river, just west of this city, they were completely severed by a large tree falling across them. The latter damage was speedily repaired by the linemen and wreck crew from this point, but the break at Chicago was more serious and was not repaired until a late hour today. The Grand Rapids and Indiana wires were also down at the St. Mary's river and again at Vicksburg, Mich., but were speedily repaired and are in good shape today. Two or three breaks occurred in the Wabash wires between this city and Toledo, but they were located and repaired soon afterwards and no further interruptions to communication took place. No breaks occurred on the Nickel Plate or on the Lake Shore lines, but the wires "worked bad" Saturday night, causing more or less trouble to the operators. Western Union wires were also prostrated at Chicago and connection with that city was made in a round about away. About the city the damage was not very great. The walls of the old brick building owned by the Pennsylvania company, in the east end of the city, which was damaged by fire several weeks ago, were blown down by the wind, as was also one of the big smoke stacks at the Standard Wheel works, on Lafayette street. Fences and outhouses in various parts of the city were upset, but the damage was trifling in every case. West and north of this city the fall of snow was much greater than it was in this neighborhood, as was evidenced by the coating of ice and snow on all trains from those directions. Trains generally were from one to five hours late in reaching their destinations.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OBJECTS.

An interesting suit will soon come before Judge Hammond at Toledo. The case is the Pennsylvania company vs. the city of Lima to prevent the issue of $98,000 in park bonds. The Pennsylvania company claims that the money received from the sale of bonds is to be given to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Detroit and Lima Northern railroads for shop purposes. The Lima city authorities agreed to release the Pennsylvania company from a portion of the taxes if it would withdraw the suit, but it declined to do so. The Pennsylvania company has secured a temporary injunction against the issuing of the bonds and the coming suit will decide whether or not the injunction shall be permanent.

SURVEYING THE LINE.

Toledo Bee "The surveying party on the proposed new line of the Wabash between Toledo and Montpelier is working this way at a rapid pace, and it is stated officially that the party will reach here the latter part of next week. Officials are mum regarding Toledo terminals, and refuse to say just where the surveying party will strike the corporation line of this city. S. C. Reynolds, one of the directors of the company, says that the road will be constructed as rapidly as the conditions will permit."

WILL ENLARGE ITS OFFICE BUILDING.

Plans have been drawn up for the enlargement of the office building of the Fort Wayne Electric corporation. An additional story will be put on, and the interior of the whole upper floors will be rearranged. The entire third floor will be devoted to draughting and designing purposes.

He was with the Baltimore and Ohio in the eighties, and served on the Wabash, the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific as master mechanic for many years.

Foreman Hugh Hogan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, has returned from a trip to Milwaukee, Indianapolis and other railway centers, where he visited shops with a view of adding to his store of knowledge of such things. These excursions are taken frequently and are usually very beneficial to the party who takes them.

The employes of the Bass machine shop will hereafter work only eight hours per day, this department being a little short on orders for machinery at present. The full complement of men will be retained however.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Byron Strawn, of South Broadway—a son. The proud papa and mamma have been married eleven years and this is their first born. It is probably unnecessary to add that they are about the happiest couple in the city today.

A new axle lathe, built expressly for the heavy work it will be called upon to perform, is being set up in the Pittsburg shops. Its first duty will be to turn out axles for some ore cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, the largest cars ever built in the Fort Wayne shops.

The electric works has returned to the old order of running the shops, and night work will cease for a short time at least. It is possible that some of the men may have to work twelve or thirteen hours per day, but there will be no double force in any of the departments. This change necessitated a slight reduction of force, and Machinists John Gribbons, Ed Smith and Charles Schmidt are temporarily out of employment.

Reduced rates for the round trip have been granted by the Central Passenger Association lines for the following occasions: Canned Food Packers' National Association, Buffalo, February 8 to 10, from all Central Passenger and Trunk Line Association points; National American Women Suffrage Association, Washington, D. C., February 14 to 19, from all points in Central Passenger Association territory; Daughters of the American Revolution, National Society, Washington, D. UNIQUE SERVICE.

Rev. Ballinger Will Hold a "Mother's" Meeting at Calvary U. B. Church.

A unique service is to be held at Calvary U. B. church, corner Lewis and Harmer streets next Sabbath at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. Ballinger and his people planned and announced a service for next Sabbath afternoon that is out of the usual line. Services have been held in the city recently for men only, for women, for business men, for doctors, for lawyers, for barbers, for different fraternal organizations; but the above service is for a class that until this time has been neglected. This unique service is to be a mothers' meeting especially for mothers who have small children which they think they dare not take to church, and have no one with whom to leave them. Undoubtedly there are hundreds of tired mothers who would love to go to church, but think they dare not take their small children. To such, this service is for you. The price of admission is a real live baby, if you have one or can borrow one. If you have no baby you can come provided you will allow the little folks the privilege to laugh or cry at their own pleasure. Great preparations are being made to make this a beautiful and delightful service. An opportunity will be given for parents to consecrate their children to the herd, either with or without baptism.

At the revival meeting now being held in Calvary church, Rev. Ballinger spoke last night on "The Forgiveness of Sin." Text I John, 1-9. The large audience room was well filled. Many hearts were deeply touched, and turned upward toward a better life. Tears of penitence flowed from many eyes.

WATERS RAGING.

Rise of the Mississippi Is Causing Alarm.

River Men at Memphis Are Apprehensive and New Levees Are Being Rushed to Completion.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Mississippi river at this point continues to rise at a rate that is considered alarming by river men in general and especially levee contractors, who have filed bonds to complete work at a given time. The time named has almost expired, but the excessive rains causing an unprecedentedly high stage of water for this season of the year, has operated against levee work. As a result there are several breaks in the lower levees left from last year's spring floods, which it seems will be impossible to remedy before the March and April freshets, unless there should intervene thirty or more days of clear weather. The danger line at Memphis is thirty-three feet. This morning the gauge reads thirty feet, showing a rise of 2 2 feet in twelve hours, with a continued rise predicted. Plantation owners in the Delta country are thoroughly alarmed, but there is no immediate danger to life or property.

NIAGARA IN A RAGE.

The Storm Causes a Scene of Wild Grandeur at the Falls.

BUFFALO, N. Y. Jan. 24.—A special to the News from Niagara Falls says:

"The Niagara river was in a rage last night, owing to the heavy western gale, which prevailed for twenty-four hours. The water rose in the gorge about twenty-five feet. It swept over the Maid of the Mist docks and sheds and carried off boats, boat houses, lumber and pulp wood in large quantities. The scene looking on the American and Canadian rapids above the falls, was a wild one. Bath Island, Luna Island and part of the Three Sisters were submerged, and considerable damage was done to the state property.

The greatest damage was done down the gorge, where sections of the gorge road were undermined and swept away. Boats, boathouses and docks on the lower river were swept away. Tonawanda creek overflowed its banks and forced the water down the Erie canal until it overflowed, causing considerable damage.

FIRE BUGS' WORK.

Four Conflagrations Do Great Damage at Mahoney City, Pa.

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., Jan. 24.—Four fires, three of which are believed to have been of incendiary origin, occurred here last night. Shortly before midnight the Daily Record office was partially destroyed. Loss, $2,500. A few hours later the Eagle hosiery mill, operated by Jones & Johnson, and a dwelling near by occupied by Jacob Fritz and several freight cars of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company were destroyed. The mill owners' loss, $25,000; insurance small. Fritz's loss is $1,500. About the same time, in another part of the city, a big double frame building, occupied by Peter E. Eichman as a flour and feed warehouse and stable, was burned to the ground, together with the stock. Loss, $6,000.

BOTH SIDES DETERMINED.

Second Week of the Cotton Mill Strike Opens With No Change.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The second week of the big cotton mill strike opens at the principal centers, with both sides apparently as determined to hold out as the inauguration of the contest. No attempt was made to open the gates of the big corporation mills at New Bedford, Biddeford or Lewiston. At New Bedford and Biddeford, the business men appear to be more anxious regarding the future than either mill owners or operatives, and many small dealers are feeling the loss of trade severely. Many operative are leaving, some for their homes in the provinces and others to seek employment in other mill centers.

A NOBLE'S DISGRACE.

Lord William Neville Arrested and Charged With Fraud.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Lord William Neville, fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavenny, was arrested today and taken to the Bow street police court charged with fraud in connection with the suit of Sam Lewis, the money lender, against Spencer Clay, an officer of the guards, to recover £11,113 due on two promissory notes cashed for the prisoner.

During the trial of the suit of Lewis vs. Clay, in November last, the counsel for the defendant alleged that the endorsements of the notes were secured by trickery. The jury found that Clay was a victim of misplaced confidence, and judgment was given to the effect that Clay was not bound by signatures.

Tea the Curse of Thibet.

The Times of India declares that tea drinking is the curse of Thibet. "The people," it says, "have such an insatiable craving for the beverage that they will sell their houses, their flocks, their very children, to procure it. If ever an apostle appears in Thibet he will have to preach a crusade in favor of whisky drinking in order to wean the inhabitants from the national vice."

Electric Lights Aid Singers.

Singers, actors and public speakers, since the introduction of the electric light, have less trouble with their voices and are less likely to catch cold, their throats are not so parched and feel better. This is due to the air not being vitiated and the temperature more even.

River Nile Not Destructive.

The River Nile has its rises, but those that do mischief are not frequent. During the last 1,000 years there has been only one sudden rise of the Nile, that of 1829, when 30,000 people were drowned.

CABINET BOOKCASES.

CONVENIENCE OF THIS TYPE OF COMBINATION FURNITURE.

Especially Adapted to the Requirements of Small Houses, but Useful Everywhere. Secretary and Bookcase In One. Protection Afforded by Doors and Curtains.

The gentle art of reading and writing have been bracketed together from time immemorial. To serve the team with equal favor the joiner of medieval days devised cranny-like where in the rib could write and draw his illuminated

Reading and writing accommodation is jointly provided for at the present time in the secretary bookcase. Then we have a most convenient desk on one side, with drawers below and shelf room above, while on the other side is arranged an inclosed bookcase within easy reach of the writer. This type of combination furniture has much to recommend it. In point of appearance it is manifestly superior to the more ordinary kind of library cabinet work, while the advantage of bringing books and writing materials into one piece of furniture must be at once evident.

In small libraries bookshelves fitted in the recesses on either side of the fireplace form a well worn but effective method of providing plentiful accommodation for a quantity of books. In smaller houses, however, where there is no library, some form of pretty cabinet bookcase is sure to be welcome. The little article, for instance, which is commonly known as the cabinet bookcase is not an inelegant piece of furniture in a drawing room, while its usefulness as a receptacle for books is much appreciated. Thus it is no very venturesome prognostication to declare that cabinet bookcases will in the near future rank with and perhaps outvie the more aristocratic but less useful cabinet for the display of china and other artistic oddments merely. The cabinet bookcase is, as a rule, abundantly "broken up" in design, and ample facility as afforded thereby for the showing of the most beautiful ornaments in the owner's possession.

The door which incloses the china cupboard of this cabinet bookcase is intended to be glazed with leaded glass. A small silk curtain is suggested as a suitable finish to the bookshelf compartment at the side. The need for bookshelves with doors or curtains is too well known to require emphasis, while the security such protection as doors gives against interference at the hands of unauthorized persons is a sufficient reason in itself to warrant their employment.

Baby's Bath Blanket.

A pretty blanket, either for the bath or for a carriage afghan, may be made of double Germantown wool in white and blue or white and pink by following these directions from Good Housekeeping.

With a coarse crochet hook make a long chain and work in single crochet, taking up only the back loop of the stitch to give a ridged effect. At the seventh stitch of the chain put in two stitches, and at the fourteenth skip a stitch and so on throughout. This alternate widening and narrowing make a series of vandykes which are very handsome. Three ridges of white and three of the color alternating look well, and no fringe is necessary. This work is easy and pleasant and quickly done.

If the workers prefer knitting to crochet, a similar blanket may be made on ordinary wooden needles by knitting the body of the blanket of white and having two or three narrow rows of the color at top or bottom. In changing from color to white and back again put the thread over the needle and knot two stitches together throughout the row. This does away with a right and wrong side and makes a row of loops which are quite ornamental.

DRESS AND FASHION.

Modes of the Moment—Rumors of Changes to Come.

Furs are very much to the fore, being used as linings, trimmings and for whole garments. The variety in fur novelties is greater than at any previous season. The furriers have provided all sorts of fur wraps, including the usual jacket, pouched blouses, the long pelisse, storm capes and little shoulder capes. Generally speaking, the muffs are medium in size, but there are directoires and Marie Antoinettes, which are so large and softly built as to be capacious enough to almost lose one's elbows in. These muffs are also made up of velvet and trimmed with not a few heads and many tails, interspersed with frills and bows. Boas are exceedingly heavy with numbers of bushy tails and heads fastening under the chin, while others have ribbons or velvet bows intermingled. The short fur boa is the newest and smartest affair and the most becoming.

Fashion's new aims as evinced by the dressmaker's productions, are in the direction of clinging skirts, close sleeves, a narrow back, long waist and low bust, all of which give to the form quite a new shape. The latest cut in skirts is the deep circular flounce which widens into one width at back, is plain and is stitched on to the apron shaped top in front and at the sides. Braiding or bands may cover this seam.

In cloth gowns the latest development is a combination of cloth in two shades of the same color. Velvet sleeves are the rule of other new cloth gowns. All cloth gowns by the way show a greater amount of trimming than heretofore displayed. Fancy waists quite unlike the skirts, certainly have lost none of their former popularity, and rumor tells us that they will come to the front with renewed favor when the spring fashions appear. Indeed dress makers and tailors have agreed that no costume is complete unless its skirt is accompanied by two or more waists.

Spring fashions are already being talked about, and sundry rumors are in the air as to changes likely to come with the opening buds. It is almost certain that sleeves will be small and denuded of the puff at the top. The Russian blouse, we are assured, is to make way for a new but equally pretty coat. From Paris comes the news that the becoming neckwear of the present season must give way to a severely plain neck finish. Coming back to the present, dinner gowns are quite elaborate. Trains of moderate length are in order, and the sleeves, which are long, are frequently made of shirred net or lace.

The bustle is an accomplished fact. It is already here in modest proportions and is welcomed by tall, slender women. It is claimed that there is already considerable demand for these small bustles. As at present worn the bustle as a rule consists of a small plaiting of horsehair, some of two narrow plaitings, only large enough to fit into the hollow of a woman's back. Some of these bustles, however, are made with hip pads attached, and then again the hip pads can be purchased separately.

ALICE VARNUM.

Syrup For Sore Throat.

A soothing preparation for an ordinary sore throat is a lemonade made without the addition of water. Grate the rind from one and squeeze the juice from 2 lemons over about 2 heaping teaspoonfuls of sugar. Be very careful to grate only the yellow, as the white gives a bitter flavor. Add the juice and grated rind of an orange, a blood orange making it even more delicious. Let this stand 10 or 15 minutes, and then strain through a cloth. The result is a syrup with a refreshing and delicious taste. More sugar can be used, but the sourer the mixture is the better it assuages the thirst or irritation in the throat.

Snow Pudding.

Soak half a box of gelatin in a cup of cold water for one hour, then add a cup of boiling water and 2 small cups of sugar and stir until dissolved. Add the juice from 2 large lemons. Beat the whites of 3 eggs to a stiff froth. When the gelatin mixture is cold and begins to thicken, stir the eggs in, beating the mixture very hard and until it will just pour. The dish containing the mixture should stand in a pan of ice water, and it will congeal more quickly. Turn into a wet mold and stand in a cold place. When serving this pudding, pour around the form a boiled custard flavored with vanilla.

Salted Almonds.

Place, say, half a pound of good butter in a saucepan. Have ready a pound of blanched Valencia almonds (sweet). Put them into the melted butter and stir them until they assume a light brown color; then take them out and allow the butter to just drain off them; then turn them on to dry salt and well roll them in it; then sift them out and set them to cool and dry. The butter must be hot when the almonds are added or they will be tough. Salted peanuts are having quite a run now. They may be prepared in the same manner as the almonds.—Good Housekeeping.

Tidings Told by Others.

Impressive Services Conducted There Yesterday by Z. Nye.

Miss Dr. Stephen having previously sent word that no services would be held owing to her not being able to be there. Mr. Nye felt that the desolate condition into which these unfortunate men had fallen needed help and could not afford to be neglected.

The practical talk brought tears to many disheartened ones and eternity alone will reveal what has been accomplished.

Ten men, some bathed in tears asked prayers. As Jesus Christ was presented to them, ready and willing to help and save. Why not have services every Sunday? Remember your Savior's words, "Inasmuch as you have done it unto them, the least of these my brethern you have done it unto Me."

THE BIG STORM.

Much Damage Done to Small Buildings and Fences.

Telegraph Wires on all the Railroads Were Crippled--Signs Blown to the Ground.

For about five hours Sunday morning Fort Wayne was visited by the hardest wind storm it has known in many years. The wind commenced to blow about 1 o'clock a. m., only a short time after the rain ceased to fall. The storm grew in volume until daylight when it was snowing and persons who were on the street could scarcely travel against the biting wind and snow. The storm was general, too, for reports along all the railroads indicated that all of Northern Indiana was suffering. In this city and county the only damage reported was to small buildings, fences, trees and signs. All over the city signs were blown to the ground. The wind was from the southwest and the biggest damage was, therefore, on the east and west streets. Many citizens reported that their residences were shaken as if by a small earthquake. The exact amount of damage is hard to state, but the greatest was possibly to telegraph wires, which were reported crippled on all the railroads.

SENT TO HAVANA.

The Battleship Maine Ordered There in Haste.

News of Her Sailing Creates a Stir in Diplomatic Circles.

Senators Frye and Gray Are Jubilant Over the Situation.

Secretary Long Says That the Departure of the Ship Is Not Significant of Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The United States steam ship Maine has been ordered to Havana. It is said at the navy department that no disturbing news has been received from there but that the movement is rather in the line of a resumption of free intercourse of our naval vessels in Cuban waters the same as prevailed prior to their withdrawal on account of the outbreak of hostilities.

The first information that the members of the senate committee on foreign relations had of the orders to the Maine was given in the Associated Press bulletin.

They received the information with evident satisfaction. Senator Frye said that the action was very satisfactory to him. Senator Gray said it was very proper to have a war ship in Havana for the protection of American interests. Senator Morgan said that Germany had shown the United States the way by sending her warships to Havana, and was evidently indorsing the United States government in this matter. Senator Forsker was particularly pleased to hear the news. He said he wished the Texas and the other vessels of the squadron would be ordered to follow the Maine. Senator Cullom said: "I am glad to hear it. I hope the Maine will be followed by other vessels." Senator Teller said he would like to see the harbor of Havana filled with American ships.

NOT A HASTY DECISION.

The Proposition to Place a Ship at Havana Is an Old One.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—It was evident that the decision to send the Maine to Havana for a visit was not arrived at hastily from the events that preceded the announcement of the decision. For some time past administration officials have been of the opinion that a mistake was committed by the preceding administration in the very beginning of the Cuban insurrection, in deciding, out of excessive caution and an overweening regard for the sensibilities of the Spanish public, to abandon the practice which had been pursued by our navy department for years past of sending our war ships at intervals on trips to the West Indies that frequently included stops at Havana. It was not regarded as consistent with our national pride that this practice, between maritime nations, should have been abandoned or suspended, and it was believed that if it had been consistently adhered to there never would have been any complaint of the movements of our ships from Spanish sources.

Besides, all nations have exercised the right to maintain at least a small naval force at ports inhabited by any considerable number of their citizens when there were signs of trouble that threatened their safety or their property. Therefore the administration some time ago came to the conclusion that it would take steps to restore the old order of things, and allow our war ships to cruise freely and to touch in Cuban ports, as soon as the change could be made without leading to misconstruction and without being interpreted as a war measure, when as a matter of fact nothing was further from the intentions of the president.

The first movement in the direction of the old practice was made last fall before the assembling of congress, when Secretary Long announced through the Associated Press his purpose to send the entire North Atlantic squadron to the Tortugas harbor for their winter evolutions, which for several years past, or ever since the beginning of the Cuban insurrection, had been performed with difficulty and under all kinds of discouraging conditions of wind and weather off the Chesapeake capes.

This movement being received with equanimity the next step followed, when some of our little gun boats were sent on a cruise in the West Indies, the Wilmington and Annapolis being in those waters. It only remained to send one of our ships to Havana to completely restore the old practice. Naturally this was a more delicate step than had been called for previously and it was not until the administration had satisfied itself that conditions in Havana had quieted and resumed the normal state that existed before the recent military riot against the newspapers that it was decided finally at last to move. This decision was not reached without considering all the result that might follow.

The Spanish minister, Senor Dupuy DeLome, was an early caller at the state department, his purpose being to advise with the officials relative to the negotiation of a reciprocity treaty for Cuba under the terms of the present tariff act.

This purpose in itself may be regarded as an evidence of the confidence of both parties in the security of the outlook. After his visit Assistant Secretary Day repaired to the white house and there was a notable gathering around the president including Secretary Long, of the navy, Attorney General McKenna and General Miles, the commanding general of the army. All callers were denied access to the president's room, much to their chagrin, this being the day of the week that is most largely assigned to the reception of congressional callers. The conference lasted for nearly an hour and when it broke up it was with every evidence of serenity and confidence in the peaceful outlook that the members dispersed. Secretary Long was entrusted with the duty of making a public statement concerning the Maine's orders and the reasons therefor.

NO TROUBLE AT HAVANA.

Secretary Long Says the Maine's Mission Is One of Peace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary of the Navy Long was seen this morning concerning rumors that were afloat yesterday in regard to the movements of the ships and said: "So far from their being any foundation for the rumors yesterday of trouble at Havana, matters are now in such condition that our vessels are going to resume their friendly calls at Cuban ports, and go in and out just as the vessels of other nations do. The Maine will go in a day or two on just such a visit. The department has issued orders for vessels to attend the public celebrations at Mobile and the mardi gras at New Orleans, and for the torpedo flotilla to visit Galveston, Tex."

FORMIDABLE FLEET.

List of Our Naval Boats Now in Southern Waters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—While administration officials miss no opportunity of declaring their confidence in the promise of maintainence of peace it may be noted as a matter of interest that the United States now has assembled near Key West the most formidable fleet of war ships that has been evolving in our home waters for many years. It is made up of the North Atlantic squadron, under command of Admiral Sicard, flagship New York; first class battleship, Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts; second class battleships, Maine and Texas; cruisers, Detroit and Montgomery, dispatch boat Ferris and the torpedo boats flotilla, composed of the Dushing, Ericson, Dupont and Porter, which will be reinforced in a few days by the Foote. The big protected cruiser Brooklyn, almost equal to a battle ship herself, is fitting out at the New York navy yard, and Captain Cook in command of the ship was at the navy department this morning expected to sail the latter part of this week to join Admiral Sicard's squadron. The gunboat, Nashville, and the training ship Essex are at Port Royal, S. C., with in easy call and the entire navy may be said to be in a state of preparedness that is gratifying to the officials in view of the limited resources placed in their hands by congress.

DOLE'S ROUTE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—President Dole and party will leave Chicago via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, train No. 8, at 10:25, tomorrow morning, en route to Washington, where they will arrive at 11:50 Wednesday morning. The party will occupy one of the Baltimore and Ohio official cars and is under the personal escort of T. W. Gridler, third assistant secretary of state, and Major Holstland, military attache of President McKinley. During the journey on Tuesday the party will pass through the thickly settled portion of Ohio, making brief stops at such points as Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Newark, Zanesville, etc. Wednesday morning they will pass through the historic battlefield country along the Potomac river, between Cumberland and Washington. The party will be escorted over the line by representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio passenger department.

Saturday evening at the residence of Rev. D. W. Moffat, occurred the marriage of Fred H. Barker, of Huntington, and Miss Anna Prescott, of Milwaukee, Wis. The young people arrived in the city Saturday and went to the Wayne hotel, where Miss Prescott remained until Mr. Barker had secured a marriage license. They then drove to the home of Rev. Moffat, who united them in marriage. The groom is a son of J. M. Barker, the Huntington shoe manufacturer. The young couple will probably reside in the Lime City.

BRIBERY.

The Accusations Being Investigated.

Allen Myers, the First Witness, Tells His Story.

Detectives Who "Shadowed" Boyce Also Talk.

The Evidence Seems to Indicate That There Was a Little Crookedness Somewhere.

CROMWELL, Ohio, Jan. 24.—Allen O. Myers, jr., was the first witness today in the legislature bribery investigation. He was at the Great Southern hotel, in Columbus, January 7, where Mr. Kurtz and others opposing Senator Hanna were then stopping. His son, Allen O. Myers, jr., clerk at the Gibson house in Cincinnati, called him up that night and told of Boyce's movements. The next day his son reached Columbus with copies of stenographic reports of Boyce's talks from Cincinnati over the telephone with the Hanna headquarters in Columbus. As the matter pertained to republicans, he turned all over to Kurtz and introduced his son to him. Kurtz told Myers that Hollenbeck would go to Cincinnati with money.

Myers detailed the shadowing of Hollenbeck from Columbus to Cincinnati and back, also the carriage drives of Boyce about Columbus. The testimony of Myers caused quite a stir, especially when he became very angry on the cross-examination by Senator Garfield. He denied that he was a party to any conspiracy in getting up the Boyce-Hollenbeck story about the bribery of Representative Otis. When Senator Garfield told the witness that he need not reply to anything that would incriminate himself, Myers became intensely enraged and Chairman Burke had difficulty in preceeding with the inquiry.

E. H. Archer, of Columbus, deputy state railway commissioner, testified to following H. H. Hollenbeck from Columbus to Cincinnati and pointing him out to Jerry Bliss and the detectives at the depot.

Archer testified rapidly without questions being asked. He told about shadowing Hollenbeck from the Neil house to the Columbus depot, watching his movements on the train and even in his berth all night. Hollenbeck carried his valise to the toilet room with him and wherever he went. Hollenbeck took his valise with him into an upper berth. He did not undress in the sleeper and received messages in care of the conductor along the route. The rest of Archer's testimony covered the shadowing in Cincinnati and Columbus that had been covered by the witness last Saturday. Archer said he was a volunteer with Kurtz and other republicans in seeking the defeat of Hanna; that he was not employed as a detective, but had worked for weeks "for the good of the cause."

Harry M. Daugherty, chairman of the republican state executive committee, was called but refused to be sworn because he claimed the committee had no jurisdiction in the Otis case. He had, as legal counsel, so advised other witnesses and would follow that advice himself. He was asked if he sent the telegram signed "H. D." to Hollenbeck while he was on the train, but he refused to answer this question and all others put to him, on the ground that the committee had no jurisdiction.

Archer, on being recalled, testified that T. J. Mulvihill, one of the democratic leaders against Hanna, was also on the train with Hollenbeck. Archer and Mulvihill got Hollenbeck's telegrams and Mulvihill answered them, signed Hollenbeck's name to messages sent to Major Dick, Hanna's manager.

Detective Miller was re-called to explain the telephone talks of Boyce and others with Major Rathbone and others at Hanna headquarters. Miller had four men besides himself in shadowing Boyce and Hollenbeck. Detective Slessinger followed Hollenbeck back to Columbus. Miller shadowed Boyce back. The trail was lost in Columbus, Boyce and Hollenbeck only stopping there between trains.

FEELING IN HAVANA.

Growing Bitter Against the United States.

Aroused by Recent Speeches in Congress—General Parade Wounded by Insurgents in Battle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says:

The attacks in the house at Washington has produced a feeling here, which perhaps is scarcely justified, pointing toward the fixed purpose of a certain section of American politicians to insist on war with Spain. The government itself is disturbed and the press is full of the subject. The Imparcial says: "In proportion as the accounts from Cuba are favorable in Spain they become less so from the United States. It would be difficult to believe that the United States propose to undertake in the face of the whole civilized world the enormous responsibility of provoking war for which no reasons exist today. They allege the only motives for intervention the prolongation of a contest which is principally sustained by filibustering expeditions starting from North American ports and maintained by hopes, fostered in Washington and New York, of an attack upon Spain. It is a cold blooded mockery and affront to the general conscience."

The Correspondencia says: "We cannot imagine the majority of the people of the United States wish for war with Spain, seeing the great disturbance such a war would cause in the republic. We cannot think that the jingoes will prevail in their evil work. We believe that the government of the United States will not commit this unjustifiable and thoughtless imprudence."

GEN. PANDO WOUNDED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Reports have just reached Havana from the Canto river district, where General Pando has been operating, to the effect that General Pando has been seriously wounded in an engagement with the insurgents, says the Havana correspondent of the Herald. No details of the fight have been received here but late reports show that there has been hot fighting along the Canto river.

General Pando is now in or near Manzanillo, his operations against the rebels having so far been practically without results. Despite the heavy force he has with him the insurgents, aided by natural defensive positions, have been able to prevent him making any headway, and at last reports General Pando was awaiting the arrival of more artillery and troops from Havana before making another important move against the rebels.

MAY TAKE A HAND.

Eastern Situation Interests Uncle Sam.

Moral Influence of the United States May be Directed to the Support of Great Britain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—There is reason to believe that the moral influence of the United States will support Great Britain in her efforts to keep China open to the commerce of the world, avers the Washington correspondent of the Herald. The only active steps which the administration will probably take in the matter will be to enter into negotiations with Germany respecting the treatment of American ships entering Kiao Chou and such other ports in China as may be seized in the future by Russia or Japan.

"If Uston has leased Kiao Chou on the condition that it shall be opened by Germany as a Chinese port then it will not be necessary for the president to take the steps in the matter," said an official of the administration.

FAVORS TO NO NATION.

"It will mean that the commerce of all nations will be allowed an unrestricted entry thereto. If, as we believe, however, Kiao Chou should be leased to Germany without conditions, then Germany will have the right and will undoubtedly exercise it to put in operation port and customs regulations such as are now in force in German home ports.

"The United States cannot make objections to the extension of such regulations to Kiao Chou in such an event for it will be German soil to all intents and purposes as in Hamburg. However, the administration will expect from Germany any privileges that may be granted by her to any other nation and will therefore reap the advantages which Great Britian's attitude against the shutting of the Chinese door to the commerce of the world will give.

ARTICLES OF TREATY.

"This is required in accordance with the articles of the treaty between Prussia and the United States of May 8, 1828, which provides: 'If either party shall hereafter grant to any other nation any particular favor of navigation or commerce, it shall immediately become common to the other party, freely where it is freely granted to such nation, or yielding the same compensation when the grant is conditional.'"

Attaches of the Chinese legation are naturally very much pleased at the attitude assumed by Great Britain, as they appreciate that she will have the moral influence of the United States and other nations trading with China which have no territorial designs on the celestial empire. The policy which Great Britain has inaugurated means, they feel confident, the continued integrity of the Chinese government.

W. J. BRYAN HELPS CUBANS.

Sends a Check for $100 to the Relief Commission at Omaha, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 24.—Commissioner Uth yesterday received the following letter, with the check inclosed:

"LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 21.—John E. Uth, president Cuban Relief Commission, Omaha, Neb.—Dear Sir: Inclosed find check for $100. The sufferings of the Cubans appeal to the hearts of our people, as their struggle for liberty has for many months to the sympathies of those who love free government. Yours truly, W. J. BRYAN."

This is the first contribution received by the commission recently appointed by Governor Holcomb.

Ticket 21,674 is worth $10 in cash at Reuben S. Patterson's.

The Y. S. G. club met at the home of Miss Laura Haffner, of 30 East DeWald street, Saturday afternoon and spent a very enjoyable time. Before they dispersed a dainty luncheon was served.

STILL UNDECIDED.

Coal Miners Cannot Come Together.

The Interests of the Fields at Variance.

The Need of One Section Is the Bane of Another.

The "Run Run" Proposition Defeated by an Overwhelming Vote—Conference Proceedings.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—At today's session of the inter state bituminous coal operators and miners the reconsideration of the vote which defeated the nine run proposition last week was taken up. After a short discussion the roll of states was called and the proposition was again defeated—ayes, 28; nays, 8. The operators of Indiana and Ohio voted in the negative. The question of when an advance or change of system should be inaugurated was raised by the Indiana operators. They claimed that certain districts of Illinois were working under a contract until May 1, and were now practically holding up the convention in an effort to force the operators of other states upon a nine run basis or a strike. If they would not recede from this position the other states might as well leave the convention now as any other time. If the Illinois delegates would agree to a double standard settlement could easily be made.

A motion was made by the Ohio miners that whatever advance was granted should take effect on January 27th. This led to another lengthy discussion between the Ohio and Illinois operators on the methods employed in disposing of their output. President Ratchford declared that it was out of the question to reach a settlement based on May 1st prices, the miners having too often tasted the sweets of settlements of that date. The first of the year was the proper time. If miners of a certain district were under contract until May 1, that could easily be arranged. He again suggested the double standard plan to take effect January 16 as the best way of satisfying all parties. As the Indiana and Ohio operators alone had voted against the nine run plan at today's session, he suggested that the operators of those two states confer and endeavor to formulate something which would meet their approval. The miners would also meet with the same object in view. The plan was approved by the convention and a recess was taken.

REPUBLICANS ELECT.

New County Committeemen Chosen Last Saturday.

W. J. Vesey Indorsed for District Committeeman by Ex-Ward—A Partial List.

The rain Saturday and Saturday night did not deter a few republicans from meeting in each ward and township to choose members of the county central committee for the ensuing two years. In the city there were many changes, the only members of the old committe who were re-elected being Jas. Liggett, E. W. Cook and George Solliday. Mr. Solliday was not a candidate, but he had so faithfully performed the duties in the past that his fellow republicans of the Eighth ward insisted he should act again. The leaders are still all at sea as to who should be elected chairmen. An effort is being made to get Wilmer or Elmer Leonard to accept, but both have declined up to date and it is believed that Dr. Worch will win. In the Sixth ward, where live both W. J. Vesey and Amos R. Writers, Mr. Vesey was endorsed for district chairman and if the outside counties agree to let Allen county have the chairmanship Mr. Vasdy will be the man. Here is a partial list of the committeemen and delegates chosen:

First Ward—Committeeman, Jas. Liggett; delegates, Charles Ban and George Miller; alternates, Rev. George D. Spellman and George Keeler.

JUBILEE WEEK.

California Celebrating Discovery of Gold.

Preparations Made on a Scale of Unequaled Splendor—San Francisco the Mecca.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The splendor of the celebration of the golden jubilee of California, which began today, is not likely to be surpassed for many a year to come. The entire state has gladly responded to the appeals of the orators, pioneers and native sons and daughters, and from now until the close of the carnival week San Francisco will be the mecca toward which all travel west of the Sierras will be turned. Nor can the line be drawn at the eastern border of the state, for from Nevada, Utah, and the country as far east as Denver, men, who first found fortune in the places of California, have already returned here to assist in the exercises commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold by Marshall at Colima, near the old fort, erected by General Sutter.

But the participants in this week of gaiety are not confined to the old timers. It is the younger element, the children of the men of '48, that by their enthusiasm and monetary plans have assured in advance the success of one of the most unique and characteristic demonstrations ever projected in any part of the union.

THE COUNT CALLS.

Bulgarian Nobleman Visits the Sentinel and Relates a Harrowing Tale.

Count de Zouzo, the nobleman who is acting as attorney agent for James A. Fearnes' "Hearthstone" company, was a caller at THE SENTINEL office this morning. His highness was stylishly attired in a frock coat, silk hat and patent leathers, and spoke with a French accent that could be cut with a chisel.

He related to the editor a soul-stirring tale regarding his experience, having, he said, been expelled from Bulgaria by a stony-hearted monarch for slaying a nephew of the king in a duel. The king would have had the count's head had he not escaped by sprinting on his trusty bicycle across the Austrian boundary.

Then the nobleman came to America and was met on the dock by a deputation of New York's aristocracy and a brass band. Ten minutes after his arrival he received an offer of $11.70 a minute to act as advance agent for the "Hearthstone." He accepted.

The count's ancestry embraces kings and queens (also aces and tenspots.) He has appeared in the imperial courts of Europe and the legal courts of America. It is safe to state that the only time he ever saw Bulgaria was when he looked it up on the map, but he is a "hustler" in his own particular line, and attracts considerable attention to his "show" by way of himself.

HAIR TURNED WHITE.

PERRY, Ok., Jan. 24.—Mrs. James Snyder is a widow about thirty years of age, who lives between Earlboro and Maud. Her husband died about six months ago. She was a witness to all the horrible scenes attending the burning of the Indian murderers two weeks ago. Her nerves were unstrung, and when the report of the uprising of the Seminoles in revenge reached her she almost collapsed.

That night a neighbor, driving past her house, called on her to flee for her life, saying the Indians were coming. She began to pack up all she could carry, but before she could get ready to go two masked men entered her house and, with knives gleaming and revolvers aimed at her, they advanced upon her. She fell, fainting. When she revived she looked in a mirror and, to her astonishment and alarm, saw her hair was as white as snow.

BACK TO OHIO.

Reynolds and Jones Must Stand Trial for Larceny.

Sheriff Riggs Takes Them to Bowling Green, Ohio.

He Was Compelled to Get Requisition Papers.

The Prisoners Robbed a Store at Bradleytown, Ohio, and Were Arrested by Superintendent Gorsline.

Ed Reynolds and William Jones, the suspects arrested by Superintendent Gorsline, were taken back to Ohio yesterday by Sheriff Richard Riggs, of Wood county. The men, when arrested by the superintendent several weeks ago, had some new cutlery on their persons and he immediately began an investigation with the result that the cutlery was identified as that stolen from a store in Bairdstown, Ohio. The men refused to go back to Ohio without requisition papers, which Sheriff Riggs secured and yesterday he came after them. The sheriff had with him another prisoner who had been arrested at Dunkirk, Ind. He left for Bowling Green, the county seat of Wood county, at 2:10 over the Nickel Plate yesterday afternoon. When the trial of Reynolds and Jones comes up Superintendent Gorsline will go to Bowling Green as a witness against them.

SUSPECTED OF THEFT.

Sunday afternoon Officer Richardson arrested a young German who was loitering about the Nickel Plate depot. When searched at the police station a valuable gold watch was found on him. The fellow said he was a press-feeder and gave the name of James Johnson. He acknowledged that the watch did not belong to him, but had been given him by a friend to sell. He claims not to have tried to sell the watch, but the police have learned that he did attempt to make a sale of the timepiece to a watchman. Johnson says he was to meet his friend, the owner of the watch, in either Fort Wayne or Auburn. He was sent to jail for twenty days for vagrancy.

GONE TO TESTIFY.

DOUSED THE FLAMES

W. A. Meyer's Hat Store Has a Narrow Escape.

Fire Discovered Under the Shelving Sunday Afternoon—The Cleveland Engine's Good Work.

A fire alarm at 2:20 Sunday afternoon called the department to the corner of Broadway and Jefferson street, where a fire was smoldering in the hat store of W. A. Meyer. The fire was under the shelving, and good work by the chemical engine prevented the destruction of the building and saved most of the stock. The loss will aggregate about $250, although most of the hats and gents' furnishing goods were more or less damaged by smoke. The cause of the fire is a mystery, and Chief Hibbrecht would not even venture a guess as to what might have caused it.

Catarrh

Mrs Josephine Pollull, of Doe West, S. C., had a severe case of catarrh, which finally became so deep seated that she was entirely deaf in one ear, and part of the bones in her nose sloughed off. The best physicians treated her in vain, and she used various applications of sprays and washes to no avail. Fourteen bottles of S. S. S. promptly reached the seat of the disease, and cured her sound and well.

A WOMAN'S club in Washington has decided to admit one man to membership, but he wears petticoats. He has always worn them, and is known as the Chinese minister.

A WASHINGTON paper assails Kentucky's new senator with the charge that he cares nothing about a horse race. There is still a chance that his constituents will forgive him, provided he is orthodox on the remedy for malaria.

THERE is no great probability that anything will come out of the bribery investigation under conduct of the Ohio senate, but it will stir things up a bit and disclose possibly how some of the money was used, if any was used, which Senator Hanna denies.

JOHN MUIR, the leading naturalist of the Pacific Slope, says the animal life of Alaska is very abundant and varied. More birds are born in Alaska, he thinks, than in any equal area on the continent, and these include not only strong-winged birds, but thrushes and finches that winter in Central America.

NO YEAR passes in these times without the discovery of a new microbe. The whooping cough has plodded up the invisible, but by no means incredible, little pest responsible for that disease. It is owned lugly small and club-shaped. Only the most powerful microscopes reveal it to the eye. Science has not yet explained how it manages to produce such explosive effects of the vocal organs.

IN THE appointment to the attorney generalship of the United States of Hon. John W. Griggs, who resigns the governorship of New Jersey to accept this higher distinction, President McKinley has chosen a man of unblemished private life, of fine abilities, of trained talents for the law and large public experience—and as good a friend as the corporations of this country ever had as legal advisor to a national administration. It is strange, passing strange, that no man is supposed fit to serve the public as the head of the federal department of law unless he has first been a distinguished and faithful servant of the great corporations. Olney, Harmon, McKenna, Griggs—there is no procession not five years long.

GENERAL MILES presents no very dignified military figure running about the country wringing his hands and lamenting that the United States can't fight because totally unprepared for war. The general should take it with more ease. We can quickly get ready for a brush with somebody, if need be. However, there is no present prospect of such need. The trouble with General Miles began when he went abroad last spring to study the conduct of the Graeco-Turkish war and extended his junket to France and Germany, whom he saw little generals in command of army corps twice the size of the entire forces under himself, commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States. General Miles saw too much of the gold lace and the "pomp and circumstance" of European armies. It has made him jaundiced, likely.

WHAT are called "crimes of the call" in the year of 1897 makes a startlingly large record when footed up. The number of trains held up was thirty. Two passengers were killed and five wounded; two robbers were killed and three wounded. Ten stages were robbed during the year, with a casualty list of two passengers killed, three wounded. One stage robber was killed, and one wounded. In these forty holdups the casualties to passengers were twelve; to the robber, seven. Train robberies occurred in seven teen states and territories, including four in Texas, three each in Ohio and Missouri, and two each in Alabama, Oregon, Illinois, Indian Territory, Indiana and New Mexico. One each took place in Arizona, Tennessee, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado, California, Minnesota and Virginia. All the stage robberies were in the far west. The exhibit is one inviting the attention of legislators.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN wrote for the New York Sunday World an account of what he saw in Mexico on the occasion of his recent trip and his impressions of the country of Diaz. Among the evidences of prosperity by which he was struck were the rise in real estate values, the activity in cotton textile manufactures, which are paying dividends of 16 per cent., and the large investments of American capital. Mexico, he says, is flourishing under the silver standard, mills are multiplying, exports are expanding, wages are steady, and there is no fall in prices as in the United States. After citing at some length the progress that is being made by several Mexican cities in modern municipal improvements, Mr. Bryan says it would be unfair to give Mexico's financial policy credit all for the progress which the country has made during the last twenty-five years. Her government and her government officials, he says have contributed much to her development by giving security in life, protection to property and stimulus to education. Mr. Bryan is convinced that the use of silver has been of material advantage to Mexico, but says that republic is not strong enough to maintain the parity between gold and silver. He is positive the people of the United States are strong enough to do so. Mexico, he declares, by the use of silver has avoided the fall in prices, but concedes that she has suffered to a certain extent from the fluctuations in exchange. "By opening our mints to the free coinage of silver," Mr. Bryan concludes, "we too shall escape from falling prices and by maintaining the parity, we shall, in addition, avoid fluctuation in exchange."

EVOLUTION.

Mrs. Leane Occupies Rev. Dixon's Pulpit in New York.

She Declares That on the Solution of Social Problems Depends the Destiny of the World.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Leane occupied the pulpit of Rev. Thomas Dixon of the People's church at the Academy of Music Sunday morning. She discussed the problems which the United States as a nation meets and inquired into their causes.

In part she said:

"We cannot as a nation permit the commercial instinct to dominate without suffering a penalty. We cannot forsake God and permit political dishonesty and legislative corruption without loss to our better selves and life as a nation. As a country we have leaped forward 100 years in less than a quarter of a century; we have grown too fast.

"The tidal wave of discontent which has swept over the whole world is beating at our shores. Civilization is being built on a pyramid of crushed-out life.

"The man or woman who would hold a party responsible for this condition is a demagogue.

"He who would hold the trusts and combines responsible for it is a hypocrite, who publicly abhors and secretly aspires.

"Our cities are overcrowded and the supply does not equal the demand. There are no new worlds to discover and no new lands to explore. Evolution is presenting its problem, and upon our solution of it rests the destiny of the world. The only method by which social unrest may be eased is by adopting the rule of Christ."

EMINENT VISITORS.

Prospect the President of Brazil Will Follow President Dole.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Following the visit of President Dole, of Hawaii, it is not improbable that the prospective president of Brazil will visit the United States sometime between March 1 and November next. The election occurs in March, and the prevailing impression is that Senor Campos Salles, the candidate of the republican party, and an ardent member of that element, will be elected. He has signified the purpose in case of his election of visiting Argentina and other southern republics, and of then coming to the United States for an extended trip. He has travelled widely in Europe and this will be his first visit to the United States.

FOREIGN MEATS.

An Effort Will Be Made to Check Trade Sale in Scotland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—An effort has been made in Scotland looking to the adoption of some steps to check or regulate the sale of foreign meats in Scotch markets. The fact is reported to the state department by United States Consul Fleming, at Edinburg, who says it is explained by the fact that the butchers buy American beef at nine to twelve cents per pound and sell it at the same price as the Scotch beef, for which they pay twelve cents per pound. The directors of the Scotish chamber of commerce have taken the initiative in opposing the trade.

LABOR GETS BENEFIT.

Vast Sums Paid to German Workmen in Accident Insurance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A strong tribute to the merits of the German accident insurance system is rendered in a report to the state department from United States Consul Monohan at Chemnitz, published in the Daily Consular reports. He shows that the workmen wounded by accident in Germany have been paid in the last eleven years over and above their wages nearly $120,000,000, and the claim is made that the employers pay the enormous sums defrayed in this way.

BROTHER'S SLAYER.

George Willard Clark Confesses to Murder.

The Terrible Tale the Story of a Foul Crime—The Murdered Parson.

NAPA, Cal., Jan. 24.—George Willard Clark has confessed that he is the murderer of his brother, W. A. Clark, at St. Helena, on last Thursday. Mrs. Lavina Clark was married to Wm. A. Clark more than twenty years ago in Clay county, Ill. She is 40 years old, and the mother of seven children. George W. Clark, the murderer, became intimate with her thirteen or fourteen years ago. Their relations continued while the husband was in California making a home for her, and during that time a child was born of which George Clark was the father.

After coming to California to live and near St. Helena, Napa county, Mrs Clark professed Christianity and attempted to break off relations with her brother in-law, but he persisted in his attentions. At times he asked her if she would live with him in case of her husband's death. Last month he put strychnine in his brother's coffee on two occasions but the brother detected the poison and had the office appallized by a druggist. Then on Thursday morning George Clark lay in wait for his brother and shot him while he was preparing breakfast in the kitchen of his St. Helena home.

TAX FERRETING ILLEGAL.

Interesting Decision by Judge Palmer, in Jasper County.

RENSSELAER, Ind., Jan. 24.—The employment of tax ferrets has been held illegal by Judge Palmer, in the Jasper circuit court. This decision, if sustained by the supreme court, will settle an interesting and much controverted question in this state. Last September the commissioners of Jasper county entered into a contract with Fleener and Carnahan, by which the latter were to search all the records of the county to discover property not returned for taxes, and were to receive one-half of all the taxes reported by them and collected by the county.

In November Judge Thompson issued an order temporarily restraining the board from paying anything for services under this contract.

A new contract was then made, to the effect that Fleener and Carnahan were to make certain books of reference for the county, giving a list of names of taxpayers, with mortgages belonging to each, and also the amount given in by each for assessment. Under this contract they were likewise to receive 50 per cent of all taxes reported by them and collected by the county. Judge Thompson issued a second restraining order. A change of venue was then taken to Judge Palmer. Elsenor and Carnahan demurred. The court went into a full discussion of the tax ferret question, granted a permanent injunction, and declared the contracts void.

REV. DR. TALMAGE WEDS.

Bride Is Mrs. Charles Collier, Well Known in Pittsburg Society Circles.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 24.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., was married in Allegheny, Saturday, to Mrs. Charles Collier (nee McCutcheon), a widow.

The marriage is the culmination of a brief courtship and engagement and tinged with romance. The arrangements for the nuptials were conducted with the greatest of secrecy.

Dr. Talmage and his bride sail for the first time last summer in New York. They were both guests at the summer home of Rev. Dr. J. R. Paxton. Dr. Talmage is many years Mrs. Collier's senior, but friends say it was a case of love at first sight.

The couple saw a great deal of each other while Mrs. Collier was in the east. When the summer party broke up and it was time for the guests to bid each other farewell, there was a bond stronger than friendship between Dr. Talmage and Mrs. Collier. They parted with the mutual understanding that a correspondence was to be kept up—at least, that is what an intimate friend said after the wedding.

"COIN, NOT GOLD"

Is Senator Turpie's Idea of Legal Money.

He Addresses the Senate Upon the Teller Resolution—The Doings of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—When the Teller resolution was laid before the senate today, Mr. Turpie, of Indiana, addressed that body in support of the resolution. "I shall vote for the resolution willingly," he began. "I think its introduction timely and opportune and especially when we are confronted by a measure which contemplates an increase of the public debt by $200,000,000 or $400,000,000. It is indeed, proper that we should repeat the declaration that our obligations are payable in coin, not in gold."

In the house Mr. Boutelle, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, reported back the two resolutions calling on the secretary of the navy for information as to the suitability of sites for an armor plate factory in the south, with the recommendation that they lie on the table. The report called attention to the fact that invitations had been issued for sealed proposals for the land, buildings and machinery for a government armor plate factory which would be opened January 22, 1898, and that the secretary, when these were opened, would send a special report to congress containing all information.

In view of the fact that the secretary was proceeding to carry out the law, Mr. Boutelle said he thought it necessary to call on the secretary for information, which he would furnish. The first resolution was laid upon the table without division, but Mr. Underwood, democrat, of Alabama, insisted upon a division upon his resolution calling upon the secretary for the information obtained by the armor plate board as to the advantages of southern places as locations for an armor plate plant, but by a vote of 107 to 107 the resolution was tabled.

Mr. Curtis then claimed the day for the business from the District of Columbia committee.

FOR A STREET FAIR.

Meeting of Business Men Tuesday Afternoon to Discuss the Project.

There is a growing sentiment among a large number of leading business men that a good thing for Fort Wayne will be a street fair to be held some time in the early autumn, probably the first part of October. A meeting of business men will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 and the project will be discussed. Business men will be notified privately of the place of meeting. Ben Lehman, the clothing merchant, is active in the matter.

TALK OF THE DRAFT.

Magnates of Eastern and Western Leagues Have a Joint Conference.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Among the members of the eastern and western base ball leagues here to attend a meeting of delegates of the two bodies today are President Powers, President Draper, of the Providence club; Bogart, of Wilkesbarre, and Kunich, of Syracuse, of the eastern league; President Johnson, Chas. Comiskey, of St. Paul, and Vandercreck, of Detroit. In addition to the amendment to the drafting system as suggested by the National league, the questions of playing a series of inter-league championship games, and the drafting of players from the Eastern league by National league clubs for the Western league or else verse, will be considered. President Draper, of Providence, says that while the two minor leagues cannot draft each others players, it is possible for the National league to draft a player from one league and transfer him to the other. He says that it is his belief that the Washington club has drafted Catcher Dixon of his club for a Western league club, either Detroit or Minneapolis.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

A. O. H. Install Officers at Library Hall Yesterday Afternoon.

At Library hall yesterday afternoon Divisions No. 1 and 3 held a joint installation of officers, Rev. Father Duenan, chaplain of Division No. 1, officiating as installing officer. After the installation of division officers the election of county officers took place, resulting as follows:

President—M. F. Belger.
Vice President—J. Reed.
Secretary—Daniel J. Gordon.
Treasurer—Owen Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ewing and child left at 4:30 this afternoon for Chicago, where they will take a train through to Florida. They will remain in the south two months.

Map 1,900 Years Old.

A map of Jerusalem in mosaic, over 1,900 years old, has been found at Madaba, Palestine. It was discovered in uncovering the ruins of an old church about to be rebuilt. The entire pavement of the old church was a mosaic map of Palestine, many parts of which had been worn away or broken off. That part containing the city of Jerusalem was more or less perfect, only a part of the walls at the southeast corner being missing.

Mechanic Buried in Westminster.

Notwithstanding all that Britain owes to mechanics, there is but one workman who received the highest funeral honors of being buried in Westminster abbey, and that was George Graham, a famous scientific instrument maker of his day, who in 1720 invented the dead-beat escapement in clocks. Graham's obsequies were attended by the Royal society in a body.

The Telephone Ear.

The telephone ear, from which so many telephone operators suffer, is a more dangerous affliction in Kentucky than it is in New York, according to a dispatch from Owensboro, which says that Mrs. Maggie Brandon called at the central office in the afternoon and confided an operator for alleged disclosure of conversation over the wire.—New York Sun.

Novel Antiburglar Device.

In a report from Leipsic, Germany, Consul Warner describes a novel German anti-burglar device. This consists of flexible safety curtains made of hardened steel lubes properly connected, which are invulnerable to the ordinary burglar's tools, for the reason that the tubes revolve freely and the centerbit or other tool can find no hold.

The World's Newspaper Output.

The total number of copies of newspapers printed throughout the world in one year is 12,000,000,000. To print these requires 781,240 tons of paper, or 3,562,460,000 pounds, while it would take the fastest press in London 333 years to print a single year's edition, which would produce a stack of papers fifty miles high.

How Cactus Whisky Is Made.

The Apaches of southern Arizona make whisky from the sap of a small species of cactus. They cut out the hearts of the plants, resembling little cabbages, and in the cup-shaped receptacles left behind the sap accumulates. From this sap they distill the famous mescal, which drives those who drink it to sheer madness.

Portable Elevator.

A handy portable elevator for raising packages from wagons to the second story of a building has a supporting ladder carrying a sliding frame, which is raised and lowered by a derrick mounted under the ladder, an adjustable platform being mounted on the frame, which can be set level when the ladder is at any angle.

Smallest Spot in Church.

A bishop of a church conference in Georgia told those delegates who used tobacco not to expectorate on the floor or on the handsome new carpet, which had recently been put down. He told them that if they must chew tobacco to go outside and they would find a nice new curbstone and plenty of fresh sand to expectorate upon, or they could bring their cuspidores and in case of an emergency they could use their hats.

MRS. PETERSON'S STORY.

I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb.

The doctor wanted me to take treatments, but I had just began taking Mrs Pinkham's Compound, and my husband said I had better wait and see how much good that would do me. I was so sick when I began with her medicine, I could hardly be on my feet. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything.

I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me.—MRS. JOSEPH PETERSON, 533 East St., Warren, Pa.

Electric Mower.

Electricity is used to destroy weeds in a new device which can be used on an ordinary mowing machine, one wire of the dynamo being attached to the cutting bar and the other grounded, through one of the wheels, so that if the weeds are cut when damp a current of electricity enters each root and burns it as the top is cut.

Cheap Fire Extinguisher.

A simple fire extinguisher can be made at very little cost. If twenty pounds of common salt and ten pounds of sal ammoniac are dissolved in seven gallons of water and the mixture afterward put into quart bottles of thin glass the grenades so made will be found very efficient for extinguishing small outbreaks of fire. The bottles must be tightly corked and sealed so as to prevent evaporation and when a fire occurs they must be thrown in or near the flames so as to break and thus liberate the gas contained to effect the desired object.

ing more or less trouble to the operators. Western Union wires were also prostrated at Chicago and connection with that city was made in a round about away. About the city the damage was not very great. The walls of the old brick building owned by the Pennsylvania company, in the east end of the city, which was damaged by fire several weeks ago, were blown down by the wind, as was also one of the big smoke stacks at the Standard Wheel works, on Lafayette street. Fences and outhouses in various parts of the city were upset, but the damage was trifling in every case. West and north of this city the fall of snow was much greater than it was in this neighborhood, as was evidenced by the coating of ice and snow on all trains from those directions. Trains generally were from one to five hours late in reaching their destinations.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OBJECTS.

An interesting suit will soon come before Judge Hammond at Toledo. The case is the Pennsylvania company vs. the city of Lima to prevent the issue of $96,000 in park bonds. The Pennsylvania company claims that the money received from the sale of bonds is to be given to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Detroit and Lima Northern railroads for shop purposes. The Lima city authorities agreed to release the Pennsylvania company from a portion of the taxes if it would withdraw the suit, but it declined to do so. The Pennsylvania company has secured a temporary injunction against the issuing of the bonds and the coming suit will decide whether or not the injunction shall be permanent.

SURVEYING THE LINE.

Toledo Bee: "The surveying party on the proposed new line of the Wabash between Toledo and Montpelier is working this way at a rapid pace, and it is stated officially that the party will reach here the latter part of next week. Officials are mum regarding Toledo terminals, and refuse to say just where the surveying party will strike the corporation line of this city. S. C. Reynolds, one of the directors of the company, says that the road will be constructed as rapidly as the conditions will permit."

WILL ENLARGE ITS OFFICE BUILDING.

Plans have been drawn up for the enlargement of the office building of the Fort Wayne Electric corporation. An additional story will be put on, and the interior of the whole upper floors will be rearranged. The entire third floor will be devoted to draughting and designing purposes.

F. Tussler, of the Pittsburg lumber yards, is sick and off duty.

L. Smith, the sweeper in the Pittsburg cabinet shop, is sick.

A. P. Kleth, Nickel Plate brakeman, was the guest of his sister in Chicago over Sunday.

The Wabash needs more cars and has asked for bids on ten coaches and three dining cars.

J. Koehl, car inspector, has gone to Plymouth, Ind., to work a week or two for a man who is sick.

C. W. Bedson and John Hughes, of the Nickel Plate, were guests of friends at Knox, Ind., yesterday.

The Baltimore and Ohio company has completed some terminal improvements at Pittsburg which cost $150,000.

Joseph Deahl, ex-caller of Nickel Plate train crews, has returned home after a visit of several months with his uncle in western Illinois.

Mrs. Frank Shuler, wife of the Nickel Plate brakeman, is sick and in consequence that gentleman has been unable to go out upon his run for two or three days.

It is officially announced in Wall street that Chauncey M. Depew will enter the directorate of the Ontario and Western Railroad company at the meeting next Wednesday.

Engineers Frank Murphy, Tim Short and Robert Johns and Firemen George McFerran and Charles House, of the Nickel Plate, were off duty yesterday for various purposes.

It is claimed that Andrew W. Millspaugh ticket agent at Kansas City, is the oldest ticket agent in active service in the country. Last week he celebrated his eighty-third anniversary.

Hon. Mortimer Nye last week secured a judgment for $800 against the Chicago and West Michigan railway company for alleged damages by fire, caused by sparks thrown out by a passing engine.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has given orders that 2,000 cars be built at their shops in Milwaukee at the rate of fifteen a day, which can be done as soon as the additions to their shops at that point, now nearing completion, are done.

When the new station building of the Wabash, at Montpelier, Ohio, is completed, the trainmaster who is now located at Ashley will transfer his headquarters to Montpelier. The trains on the Eel River branch will then be handled from the latter place instead of Peru.

A number of the employes of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop were off duty this morning for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late

NEW CHICAGO LINE.

The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf Will Go There.

Its Northern Terminal on Lake Michigan and Its Southern Terminal on the Gulf of Mexico.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—It is announced here that arrangements by which the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad will secure an entrance into Chicago have been all but completed. The entrance will be gained over the Burlington tracks out of Quincy, Ill. The Pittsburg and Gulf has already leased the right to use the Burlington depot and terminals at Quincy and the Burlington bridge across the Mississippi river at Quincy. A contract for the use of the Burlington tracks by the Pittsburg and Gulf for freight and passenger traffic between Quincy and Chicago has been drawn up and is under consideration by Stillwell, General Manager Gilham and the attorneys of the Pittsburg and Gulf. Officials of both roads say the deal has not been consummated, but it is almost certain that it will go through. Branch lines now building and near completion will give the Gulf road its entrance to Quincy and the lines, with another branch, the Omaha, Kansas City and Eastern, on which trains are now running between Quincy and Omaha, will complete the company's line from Omaha to the gulf. If the pending contract with the Burlington can be effected, the Pittsburg and Gulf will also inaugurate through train service from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico to Port Arthur. A storm has been raised among Kansas City shippers by the announcement of the Pittsburg and Gulf officials that they propose making when their lines shall be completed, the same rates on shipments from New Orleans and the Gulf to Omaha as are made to Kansas City. In other words that freight will be hauled through Kansas City and 200 miles further north at Kansas City rates. Omaha jobbers are correspondingly elated.

THE STORM DAMAGES.

Saturday night's storm played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires along some of the railways in this territory. At Chicago the Pennsylvania's telegraph wires were down for a distance of six squares, and at the St. Mary's river, just west of this city, they were completely severed by a large tree falling across them. The latter damage was speedily repaired by the linemen and wreck crew from this point, but the break at Chicago was more serious and was not repaired until a late hour today. The Grand Rapids and Indiana wires were also down at the St. Mary's river and again at Vicksburg, Mich., but were speedily repaired and are in good shape today. Two or three breaks occurred in the Wabash wires between this city and Toledo, but they were located and repaired soon afterwards and no further interruptions to communication took place. No breaks occurred on the Nickel Plate or on the Lake Shore lines, but the wires "worked bad" Saturday night, caus-

Mrs. Henry Bickness. The bereaved husband is employed in the smith shop.

The Wabash pay car was in the city today.

W. H. Polhamus, Pittsburg passenger fireman, is confined to his home by sickness.

J. E. Long, Harry Kolker and O. R. Ellenwood, Pittsburg engineers, are on the sick list.

Ed Coleman, of the Wabash shops, was at Peru today looking after some private business.

Pittsburg engines 267 and 244 were turned out of the shops this morning, fully repaired.

F. Hughes has been transferred from the iron machine shop to the tank shop of the Pittsburg.

Machinist Herman Rogel went to Toledo this morning to repair an engine. He will be absent from home several days.

W. J. Wheeler has resumed his place in the Pittsburg copper shop after a few days' absence on account of private business.

U. S. Nease, of the Wabash machine shop, went to the Peru hospital this morning, he having injured his back a few days ago.

Henry Peak, a machinist employed at the electric works, is suffering from bronchitis and will be confined to his home a few days.

The Wabash shops, which were shut down today to allow the laying of a new floor in the machine room, will resume operations as usual tomorrow.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will equip a boiler plant for the Artificial Ice company at Peru, Ind. The sale of the machinery was made last Saturday by J. E. Noble.

William Parry, who is now employed in the office of Superintendent E. A. Gould at Peru, spent Sunday with his family in this city. He may remove his family to Peru in the near future.

The Bass works is preparing to furnish an 80-horse power steam plant for the J. C. Peters Milling company, at Monroeville, Ind. The machinery will be shipped and installed as rapidly as possible.

Fireman Frank Simonson, of the Pittsburg, fell from his engine as he was about to take water in the yards of Chicago last Saturday and sustained injuries to his back which have since rendered him unfit for service.

Walter Redman, a member of the Pennsylvania's special police force, is afflicted with boils which have kept him from his duties for several nights. He has charge of the main gate at the shops, at the foot of Railroad street.

A fine black, white and tan English setter dog, the property of Master Mechanic C. H. Doebler, has gone astray. The animal bore attached to its collar a United States express tag upon which was the name of H. A. Niepoth.

John J. Beugnot, a student at Purdue university, is here to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Henry Bickness. The young man is an employe of the Pennsylvania company, but is on a leave of absence to take a course in the college.

The five engine crews brought here several weeks ago to help out during the rush in freight traffic on the Pittsburg road, left this morning for their homes in Wellsville, Ohio, a division terminal on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. Their services were no longer needed on this line.

Edmund Taylor, who was buried Saturday, at Sedalia, Mo., he dying at Raton, N. M., on Tuesday, was one of the oldest railroad men in the southwest. He was eighty years of age. He was with the Baltimore and Ohio in the eighties, and served on the Wabash, the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific as master mechanic for many years.

Foreman Hugh Hogan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, has returned from a trip to Milwaukee, Indianapolis and other railway centers, where he visited shops with a view of adding to his store of knowledge of such things. These excursions are taken frequently and are usually very beneficial to the party who takes them.

The employes of the Bass machine shop will hereafter work only eight hours per day, this department being a little short on orders for machinery at present. The full complement of men will be retained, however.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Byron Strawn, of South Broadway—a son. The proud papa and mamma have been married eleven years and this is their first born. It is probably unnecessary to add that they are about the happiest couple in the city today.

A new axle lathe, built expressly for the heavy work it will be called upon to perform, is being set up in the Pittsburg shops. Its first duty will be to turn out axles for some ore cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, the largest cars ever built in the Fort Wayne shops.

The electric works has returned to the old order of running the shops, and night work will cease for a short time at least. It is possible that some of the men may have to work twelve or thirteen hours per day, but there will be no double force in any of the departments. This change necessitated a slight reduction of force, and Machinists John Gribbons, Ed Smith and Charles Schmidt are temporarily out of employment.

Reduced rates for the round trip have been granted by the Central Passenger Association lines for the following occasions: Canned Food Packers' National Association, Buffalo, February 8 to 10, from all Central Passenger and Trunk Line Association points; National American Women Suffrage Association, Washington, D. C., February 11 to 19, from all points in Central Passenger Association territory; Daughters of the American Revolution, National Society, Washington, D. C., February 21 to 26, from all Central Association points.

UNIQUE SERVICE.

Rev. Ballinger Will Hold a "Mothers" Meeting at Calvary U. B. Church.

A unique service is to be held at Calvary U. B. church, corner Lewis and Harmer streets next Sabbath at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. Ballinger and his people planned and announced a service for next Sabbath afternoon that is out of the usual line. Services have been held in the city recently for men only, for women, for business men, for doctors, for lawyers, for barbers, for different fraternal organizations; but the above service is for a class that until this time has been neglected. This unique service is to be a mothers' meeting especially for mothers who have small children which they think they dare not take to church, and have no one with whom to leave them. Undoubtedly there are hundreds of tired mothers who would love to go to church, but think they dare not take their small children. To such, this service is for you. The price of admission is a real live baby, if you have one or can borrow one. If you have no baby you can come provided you will allow the little folks the privilege to laugh or cry at their own pleasure. Great preparations are being made to make this a beautiful and delightful service. An opportunity will be given for parents to consecrate their children to the lord, either with or without baptism.

At the revival meeting now being held in Calvary church, Rev. Ballinger spoke last night on "The Forgiveness of Sin." Text 1 John, 1-9. The large audience room was well filled. Many hearts were deeply touched, and turned upward toward a better life. Tears of penitence flowed from many eyes.

WATERS RAGING.

Rise of the Mississippi Is Causing Alarm.

River Men at Memphis Are Apprehensive and New Levees Are Being Rushed to Completion.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Mississippi river at this point continues to rise at a rate that is considered alarming by river men in general and especially levee contractors, who have filed bonds to complete work at a given time. The time named has almost expired, but the excessive rains causing an unprecedentedly high stage of water for this season of the year, has operated against levee work. As a result there are several breaks in the lower levees left from last year's spring floods, which it seems will be impossible to remedy before the March and April freshets, unless there should intervene thirty or more days of clear weather. The danger line at Memphis is thirty-three feet. This morning the gauge reads thirty feet, showing a rise of 2.2 feet in twelve hours, with a continued rise predicted. Plantation owners in the Delta country are thoroughly alarmed, but there is no immediate danger to life or property.

NIAGARA IN A RAGE.

The Storm Causes a Scene of Wild Grandeur at the Falls.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—A special to the News from Niagara Falls says:

"The Niagara river was in a rage last night, owing to the heavy western gale, which prevailed for twenty-four hours. The water rose in the gorge about twenty-five feet. It swept over the Maid of the Mist docks and sheds and carried off boats, boat houses, lumber and pulp wood in large quantities. The scene looking on the American and Canadian rapids above the falls, was a wild one. Bath Island, Luna Island and part of the Three Sisters were submerged, and considerable damage was done to the state property.

The greatest damage was done down the gorge, where sections of the gorge road were undermined and swept away. Boats, boathouses and docks on the lower river were swept away. Tonawanda creek overflowed its banks and forced the water down the Erie canal until it overflowed, causing considerable damage.

FIRE BUGS' WORK.

Four Conflagrations Do Great Damage at Mahoney City, Pa.

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., Jan. 24.—Four fires, three of which are believed to have been of incendiary origin, occurred here last night. Shortly before midnight the Daily Record office was partially destroyed. Loss, $2,500. A few hours later the Eagle hosiery mill, operated by Jones & Johnson, and a dwelling near by occupied by Jacob Fritz and several freight cars of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company were destroyed. The mill owners, loss, $25,000; insurance small. Fritz's loss is $1,500. About the same time, in another part of the city, a big double frame building, occupied by Peter E. Eichman as a flour and feed warehouse and stable, was burned to the ground, together with the stock. Loss, $6,000.

BOTH SIDES DETERMINED.

Second Week of the Cotton Mill Strike Opens With No Change.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The second week of the big cotton mill strike opens at the principal centers, with both sides apparently as determined to hold out as the inauguration of the contest. No attempt was made to open the gates of the big corporation mills at New Bedford, Biddeford or Lewiston. At New Bedford and Biddeford, the business men appear to be more anxious regarding the future than either mill owners or operatives, and many small dealers are feeling the loss of trade severely. Many operatives are leaving, some for their homes in the provinces and others to seek employment in other mill centers.

A NOBLE'S DISGRACE.

Lord William Neville Arrested and Charged With Fraud.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Lord William Neville, fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavenny, was arrested today and taken to the Bow street police court charged with fraud in connection with the suit of Sam Lewis, the money lender, against Spencer Clay, an officer of the guards, to recover £11,113 due on two promissory notes cashed for the prisoner.

During the trial of the suit of Lewis vs. Clay, in November last, the counsel for the defendant alleged that the endorsements of the notes were secured by trickery. The jury found that Clay was a victim of misplaced confidence, and judgment was given to the effect that Clay was not bound by signatures.

Tea the Curse of Thibet.

The Times of India declares that tea drinking is the curse of Thibet. "The people," it says, "have such an insatiable craving for the beverage that they will sell their houses, their flocks, their very children, to procure it. If ever an apostle appears in Thibet he will have to preach a crusade in favor of whisky drinking in order to wean the inhabitants from the national vice."

Electric Lights Aid Singers.

Singers, actors and public speakers, since the introduction of the electric light, have less trouble with their voices and are less likely to catch cold; their throats are not so parched and feel better. This is due to the air not being vitiated and the temperature more even.

River Nile Not Destructive.

The River Nile has its rises, but those that do mischief are not frequent. During the last 1,000 years there has been only one sudden rise of the Nile, that of 1829, when 30,000 people were drowned.

CABINET BOOKCASES.

CONVENIENCE OF THIS TYPE OF COMBINATION FURNITURE.

Especially Adapted to the Requirements of Small Houses, but Useful Everywhere. Secretary and Bookcase In One—Protection Afforded by Doors and Curtains.

The gentle art of reading and writing have been bracketed together from time immemorial. To serve the train with equal favor the joiner of mediæval days devised crude desks whereon the scribe could write and draw his illuminated

Reading and writing accommodation is jointly provided for in the present time in the secretary bookcase. Then we have a most convenient desk on one side, with drawers below and shelf room above, while on the other side is arranged an inclosed bookcase within easy reach of the writer. This type of combination furniture has much to recommend it. In point of appearance it is manifestly superior to the more ordinary kind of library cabinet work, while the advantage of bringing books and writing materials into one piece of furniture must be at once evident.

In small libraries bookshelves fitted in the recesses on either side of the fireplace form a well worn but effective method of providing plentiful accommodation for a quantity of books. In smaller houses, however, where there is no library, some form of pretty cabinet bookcase is sure to be welcome. The little article, for instance, which is commonly known as the cabinet bookcase is not an inelegant piece of furniture in a drawing room, while its usefulness as a receptacle for books is much appreciated. Thus it is no very venturesome prognostication to declare that cabinet bookcases will in the near future rank with and perhaps outvie the more aristocratic but less useful cabinet for the display of china and other artistic odd-ments merely. The cabinet bookcase is, as a rule, abundantly "broken up" in design, and ample facility is afforded thereby for the showing of the most beautiful ornaments in the owner's possession.

The door which incloses the china cupboard of this cabinet bookcase is intended to be glazed with leaded glass. A small silk curtain is suggested as a suitable finish to the bookshelf compartment at the side. The need for bookshelves with doors or curtains is too well known to require emphasis, while the security such protection as doors gives against interference at the hands of unauthorized persons is a sufficient reason in itself to warrant their employment.

Baby's Bath Blanket.

A pretty blanket, either for the bath or for a carriage afghan, may be made of double Germantown wool in white and blue or white and pink by following these directions from Good Housekeeping:

With a coarse crochet hook make a long chain and work in single crochet, taking up only the back loop of the stitch to give a ridged effect. At the seventh stitch of the chain put in two stitches, and at the fourteenth skip a stitch and so on throughout. This alternate widening and narrowing make a series of vandykes which are very handsome. Three ridges of white and three of the color alternating look well, and no fringe is necessary. This work is easy and pleasant and quickly done.

If the workers prefer knitting to crochet, a similar blanket may be made on ordinary wooden needles by knitting the body of the blanket of white and having two or three narrow rows of the color at top and bottom. In changing from color to white and back again put the thread over the needle and knot two stitches together throughout the row. This does away with a right and wrong side and makes a row of loops which are quite ornamental.

DRESS AND FASHION.

Modes of the Moment—Rumors of Changes to Come.

Furs are very much to the fore, being used as linings, trimmings and for whole garments. The variety in fur novelties is greater than at any previous season. The furriers have provided all sorts of fur wraps, including the usual jacket, pouched blouses, the long pelisse, storm capes and little shoulder capes. Generally speaking, the muffs are medium in size, but there are directoires and Marie Antoinettes, which are so large and softly built as to be capacious enough to almost lose one's elbows in. These muffs are also made up of velvet and trimmed with not a few heads and many tails, interspersed with frills and bows. Boas are exceedingly pretty with numbers of bushy tails and heads finishing under the chin, while others have ribbons or velvet bows intermingled. The short fur boa is the newest and smartest affair and the most becoming.

Fashion's new aims as evinced by the dressmaker's productions, are in the direction of clinging skirts, close sleeves, a narrow back, long waist and low bust, all of which give to the form quite a new shape. The latest cut in skirts is the deep circular flounce, which widens into one with the back breadths and is stitched on to the apron shaped top in front and at the sides. Braiding or bands may cover this seam.

In cloth gowns the latest development is a combination of cloth in two shades of the same color. Velvet sleeves are a feature of other new cloth gowns. All cloth gowns, by the way, show a greater amount of trimming than heretofore displayed. Fancy waists, quite unlike the skirts, certainly have lost none of their former popularity, and rumor tells us that they will come to the front with renewed favor when the spring fashions appear. Indeed, dress makers and tailors have agreed that no costume is complete unless its skirt is accompanied by two or more waists.

Spring fashions are already being talked about, and sundry rumors are in the air as to changes likely to come with the opening buds. It is almost certain that sleeves will be small and denuded of the puff at the top. The Russian blouse, we are assured, is to make way for a new but equally pretty coat. From Paris comes the news that the becoming neckwear of the present season must give way to a severely plain neck finish. Coming back to the present, dinner gowns are quite elaborate. Trains of moderate length are in order, and the sleeves, which are long, are frequently made of shirred net or lace.

The bustle is an accomplished fact. It is already here in modest proportions and is welcomed by tall, slender women. It is claimed that there is already considerable demand for these small bustles. As at present worn the bustle as a rule consists of a small plaiting of horsehair, some of two narrow plaitings, only large enough to fit into the hollow of a woman's back. Some of these bustles, however, are made with hip pads attached, and then again the hip pads can be purchased separately.

ALICE VARNUM.

Syrup For Sore Throat.

A soothing preparation for an ordinary sore throat is a lemonade made without the addition of water. Grate the rind from one and squeeze the juice from 2 lemons over about 2 heaping teaspoonfuls of sugar. Be very careful to grate only the yellow, as the white gives a bitter flavor. Add the juice and grated rind of an orange, a blood orange making it even more delicious. Let this stand 10 or 15 minutes, and then strain through a cloth. The result is a sirup with a refreshing and delicious taste. More sugar can be used, but the sourer the mixture is the better it assuages the thirst or irritation in the throat.

Snow Pudding.

Soak half a box of gelatin in a cup of cold water for one hour, then add a cup of boiling water and 2 small cups of sugar and stir until dissolved. Add the juice from 3 large lemons. Beat the whites of 3 eggs to a stiff froth. When the gelatin mixture is cold and begins to thicken, stir the eggs in, beating the mixture very hard and until it will just pour. The dish containing the mixture should stand in a pan of ice water, and it will congeal more quickly. Turn into a wet mold and stand in a cold place. When serving this pudding, pour around the form a boiled custard flavored with vanilla.

Salted Almonds.

Place, say, half a pound of good butter in a saucepan. Have ready a pound of blanched Valencia almonds (sweet). Put them into the melted butter and stir them until they assume a light brown color; then take them out and allow the butter to just drain off them; then turn them on to dry salt and well roll them in it; then sift them out and set them to cool and dry. The butter must be hot when the almonds are added or they will be tough. Salted peanuts are having quite a run now. They may be prepared in the same manner as the almonds.—Good Housekeeping.

Things Told by Others.

Hot instead of cold milk added while potatoes are being mashed keeps them warm for the table and insures the quantity left over from souring.

While maple sugar is new it will be found that grated it serves as a most delicious hard sauce for hot puddings.

A tablespoonful of vinegar added to the water in which fish is boiled will make the flesh firmer and improve its flavor.

The yolk of an egg well beaten is a very good substitute for cream in coffee and will answer for three cups.

New irons, such as sad irons, frying pans or waffle irons, should be heated slowly, or they will be likely to crack.

For tired feet put a handful of common salt into four quarts of hot water. Place the feet in the water while it is hot as can be borne. Then rub the feet dry with a rough towel.

A piece of narrow webbing, such as is used for holding furniture springs in place, sewed upon the under edge of rugs, will prevent the corners from curling.

AT THE JAIL.

Impressive Services Conducted There Yesterday by Mr. Stayer.

Miss Dr. Stayer having previously sent word that no services would be held owing to her not being able to be there, Mr. Nye felt that the desolate condition into which these unfortunate men had fallen needed help and could not afford to be neglected.

The practical talk brought tears to many dishearted ones and eternity alone will reveal what has been accomplished.

The man, some bathed in tears asked prayers. As Jesus Christ was presented to them, ready and willing to help and save. Why not have services every Sunday? Remember your Savior's words, "Inasmuch as you have done it unto them, the least of these my brethren you have done it unto Me."

THE BIG STORM.

Much Damage Done to Small Buildings and Fences.

Telegraph Wires on all the Railroads Were Crippled—Signs Blown to the Ground.

For about five hours Sunday morning Fort Wayne was visited by the hardest wind storm it has known in many years. The wind commenced to blow about 1 o'clock a. m., only a short time after the rain ceased to fall. The storm grew in volume until daylight when it was snowing and persons who were on the street could scarcely travel against the biting wind and snow. The storm was general, too, for reports along all the railroads indicated that all of Northern Indiana was suffering. In this city and county the only damage reported was to small buildings, fences, trees and signs. All over the city signs were blown to the ground. The wind was from the southwest and the biggest damage was, therefore, on the east and west streets. Many citizens reported that their residences were shaken as if by a small earthquake. The exact amount of damage is hard to state, but the greatest was possibly to telegraph wires, which were reported crippled on all the railroads.
